

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Orier, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., and Mrs. Zadoc Jiggs, motored to Oregon City Sunday.

Miss Bertha Oliver returned Sunday night from a visit to Portland and Clackamas. While in Portland Miss Oliver was the guest of Miss Alveria Altman.

The regular meeting of the North Salem Woman's club, will be held Wednesday, tomorrow, at the residence of Mrs. John Dubuis, 1275 E. street.

A programme has been arranged for the meeting and will include an interesting talk on the treatment of tuberculosis in a modern sanatorium by Mrs. Elean Daily, who has and experience as a nurse in a sanatorium at Milwaukee during the afternoon. Mrs. Meriin Harding will also favor the members with vocal solos.

Mrs. William A. Mc Clow and daughter, Helen, of Bay City are visiting Mrs. A. F. Marcus.

Mrs. George Palmer Putnam and small son, David, arrived home last night from Round Beach, Conn., where they have been passing the summer while Mr. Putnam was absent at the border.

A motoring party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Albert, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Griffith and children, and Miss Mildred Wiggins went to Clackamas Sunday for a picnic. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Krause and daughter, Miss Helen Krause of Portland, and Paul Wallace who is at Camp Withycombe with Company M.

Miss Lyra Miles and her brother, Ross Miles, left Monday for Newberg to resume their studies at Pacific College. Miss Miles is in her senior year and Mr. Miles is taking his third year's work.

A gay little party of last night was that enjoyed by a group of high school students, who gathered on the peninsula for a picnic. The young folks were chaperoned by Miss Olive Cheant and included: Miss Lucile Jones, Miss Doris Churchill, Miss Letha Driscoll, Miss Fern Mortensen, Bryson Boise, George Weller, Wallace Carson, and Charles Higgins.

Miss Cleo White, who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Nell Sykes for a few days, has returned to her home in McMinnville.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Epley accompanied by Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist, Mrs. Matilda Grant and daughter, Miss Laura Grant, motored to Portland for the week end.

A marriage that has caused a ripple of pleasurable surprise is that of Henry Bolinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bolinger, and Miss Mildred Elliott of Albany, which took place in Vancouver, Wash., Saturday night. After a short honeymoon the young couple will be at home to their many friends in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fisher motored to Eugene this morning for a brief visit.

An informal dinner was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pascoe at their home 1608 North Seventeenth street in compliment to Miss Cora Beach of Waterville, Minnesota, who has been their guest for a few days and Mr. Pascoe's brother, William Pascoe, of Clarence, Montana, who has been visiting them for several weeks. Monday the visitors were the guests of honor at a dinner presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Bartholomew.

The regular monthly coffee of the Jason Lee church will be held in the church on Wednesday afternoon. The hostesses for the afternoon will be: Mrs. G. Keuscher and Mrs. Derke.

Miss Jennie Pells of Seattle, arrived in Salem Sunday to pass the winter with her cousin, Mrs. C. E. Brown of 480 North Twenty first street.

Miss Vivian Hargrove left this morning for Corvallis to enter the Oregon Agricultural College. Miss Hargrove recently graduated from the Salem high school, and was one of the most popular girls in her class.

Social life at the Dewdrop Inn, one of the most exclusive girls' clubs at the Willamette university, bids fair to occupy a prominent place in college society this winter. Last evening a joyful homecoming was extended to four girls who arrived on a late train, a dainty repast being served by the resident members and Mrs. Ida H. Garrett, who is acting as chaperone for the girls. Among the girls already at the Inn are the Misses Ruth Spoor, Vesta Mulligan, Mabel Garrett, Blanche Baker, Actua Emmel, Esther Emmel, Esther Yeend, Mildred Garrett, Beatrice Newport, Frieda Canthell and Velma Baker.

William Lerehen went to Dallas this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cunningham of Falls City are in the city.

Miss Mabel Therpe of Alsea was in the city yesterday.

Ronald Glover will spend the day tomorrow in Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohl of Portland are guests at the B. E. Carrier home.

John Dubuis returned this morning from a business trip to Lakewood.

A schoolmate of Mrs. M. C. Findley, an extended visit in San Francisco and southern California.

President Campbell of the University of Oregon was in the city yesterday to attend the Leland Hendricks funeral.

Miss Mary Knoblock of Kansas City, a schoolmate of Mrs. M. C. Findley, is visiting a few days at the Findley home.

Frank E. Guild was in Portland yesterday registered at the Sewall. Mrs. William P. Lord and Miss Elizabeth Lord were in Portland yesterday registered at the Sewall.

Hans Meyer will leave for Butte, Montana, within a few days where he expects to permanently locate. During the summer he has played the clarinet in the Cherrin band.

Turner Found Guilty of Importing Whiskey

J. A. Turner, the Stanwood, Washington, man arrested for having an auto load of whiskey in his possession, was declared guilty of an infringement of the Oregon prohibition law yesterday afternoon in city court and was sentenced to pay a fine of $250. At the close of the trial Attorney Urubh for the defense asked until 11 o'clock this morning to prepare an appeal to the circuit court.

Notice of appeal was filed this morning. Turner was placed under $250 bonds for his appearance, the automobile was released, and now, in the opinion of those interested, the case is on its way to the supreme court.

The whiskey remains at the police station.

HUGHES OPENS HIS SECOND CAMPAIGN

Talks to Peoria, Illinois, Audience, Finding Fault with Wilson

By Perry Arnold.

(United Press staff correspondent.)

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19.—Refreshed by his rest at Bridgehampton and stimulated by an enthusiastic reception here, Nominee Hughes struck out even more vigorously today at his democratic opponents in the first speech of his second campaign trip. He spoke before the Illinois republican state conference.

While the republican candidate had very little new in his speech from the diatribes he hurled during his transcontinental trip it was evident his period of study at Bridgehampton had enabled him to assemble his facts in more orderly fashion and to ram home his thrusts with greater power. His audience gave him a tremendous reception of cheers and applause.

For the most part the theme to which the candidate adhered himself was "democracy's broken promises" and of a recounting of the republican party's achievements.

A new note in the speech was construed as a bid for democratic votes in the delicate way in which the republican nominee declared his belief that many of opposite political faith were sincere and his references to the fact that "patriotic democrats" joined with republicans several times.

"Made Laws Uncertain."

"At one juncture in his speech a strident voice individual in the back row strove to interrupt with a question about 'Wilson's' but he was literally kicked out of the hall by two burly bluecoats without Hughes even pausing in his talk.

One other thing new in the nominee's speech was the way in which he related his plans as definite "proposals" or "pledges." This was apparently in direct answer to democratic criticisms that he has "nothing constructive to offer" and his marshalling of republican doctrine in this fashion got another big hand.

"Our opponents say that they have in a very marked degree, aided business," he continued. "What are the specifications for this claim that they have aided business? They say they have clarified the anti-trust act by definition. I may be permitted to say with emphasis that they have done nothing of the sort. What they have done is to legislate vague phrases adding uncertainty to the law. They have said in the trade commission act that unfair competition was unlawful. Does anybody in the United States know what they meant?"

Pleased to Be Talking.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19.—Nominee Hughes chose Peoria as the city from which to hurl forth today the first speech of his second presidential campaign tour. He spoke in the hall in which the state republican conference was meeting and in an hour's sermon on the nation's needs and future, enunciated practically every one of his doctrines on Americanism, a protective tariff, adequate laws covering labor and fair treatment to legitimate business.

The G. O. P. candidate was plainly pleased to get back to campaigning again. He started with a smile at the crowd which greeted him at the station, waved his hat in almost Rooseveltian glee at those who applauded him on the street and in voice and gesture at the coliseum exhibited a full measure of "pep."

SPRINGER'S BODY

was unable to go to Dallas this morning, but telephoned Dr. Mark Hayter a description of the work done, and if this corresponds to the record made by Dr. Skiff, the identification will be complete.

The legs from the knees down were missing which causes the suspicion of foul play, it being suggested that the body had been sunk in the river by a weight fastened to the feet and the decay of the body causing them to pull off. There are other rumors about but apparently without sufficient foundation behind them to justify giving them publicity. However, further investigation may throw more light on the cause of young Springer's death.

Brooklyn Won by Zack Wheat's Drive

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Brooklyn increased its lead in the National League pennant race by a full game this afternoon by beating Cincinnati 3 to 1, while the Phillies lost to the Cubs.

Zack Wheat hit a terrific home run drive over the right field fence scoring Merkle and winning the game in the sixth. Zack's single helped him to score the other Dodger run. The lone Cincinnati tally came in the eighth when Slaba connected with one of Pfeffer's slants for a triple scoring McKechnie.

Herman Hand, aged 17, and Wilbur Sullivan, aged 19, are in the county jail. Hand is charged with stealing a purse containing money and hop tickets, and Sullivan is accused with stealing a quantity of fishing tackle. Both thefts are alleged to have occurred at the Livesley hop yards.

DEFENSE HAS BEGUN IN BILLINGS CASE

State Closes Direct Examination and Defense Begins Taking Testimony

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—By calling the "double" of Warren K. Billings to the witness stand, the defense in the murder trial resulting from the preparedness day bomb plot this morning opened a wide breach in the state's chain of evidence.

Shortly after the defense opened its case, Attorney Maxwell McNutt called to the witness stand Al DeCassia, a clerk. DeCassia bears a remarkable resemblance to Billings. He testified that it was he, and not Billings, whom the prosecution witness saw on the roof, at 721 Market street, just before the explosion.

The same high cheek bones, straight nose and peculiar indentation of the forehead by which state witnesses had identified Billings were prominent characteristics of the defense's new witness.

DeCassia testified that it was he who leaned over the edge of the roof and waved at pedestrians below. The people he hailed were not Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Mooney, bomb plot suspects, but were companions who he had for the same firm on Market street.

While the audience which packed the court room watched with tense interest, DeCassia climbed on a chair, leaned over the edge and imitated the gestures which state's witnesses testified were made by Billings.

The only person on the roof with him at any time, DeCassia testified, was a photographer, carrying a small black camera, who remained there until after 4 o'clock.

Attorney McNutt intimated that Billings himself may take the stand this afternoon or tomorrow.

Thomas Dodge, a motion picture man, was called by the defense and contradicted the testimony of Traffic Policeman Moore that Moore had talked to Mooney in front of 721 Market street.

The defense called John McDonald, the state's star witness, who again denied telling any one of three men that the police had paid him for his testimony.

The defense later called Henry Pincus to the stand to corroborate DeCassia's testimony. He said that he tried to go on the roof of the building with DeCassia, but that a girl prevented him.

Pincus apparently figured as "the little Russian Jew" whom Miss Estelle Smith testified last week insulted her when she refused to let him go on the roof.

W. P. Crump was another defense witness who told of a mysterious photograph on the roof of the building with DeCassia.

Just before court adjourned, Defense Attorney McNutt said he is searching for the photographer who was on the roof of the building and hopes to get him to testify.

700,000 May Quit Work

New York, Sept. 19.—Mayor Mitchell and Oscar Straus, chairman of the public service commission are to meet today in the first of a series of conferences with committees from the chamber of commerce and the merchants association, in an effort to avert a sympathetic strike, again threatened by more than half a million workers.

Despite the fact that Theodore Shontz, president of the Interborough, had flatly declared the Interborough, a branch of the traction strike situation and the union leaders have threatened a general strike if a settlement is not reached, Mitchell and Straus are going ahead with their peace plans.

Next Friday is the day set by the union leaders for their action. At 2 o'clock on that date, if no settlement has been reached, they will convene to set a date for the general walkout. After that, they claim, it will be but a matter of hours before New York is paralyzed by the greatest strike the city has ever known.

Two hundred motormen and conductors on the New York and Queens county electric railway struck at midnight and the service was demoralized today. The walkout was a sequel to the trouble on the surface lines in Manhattan and the Bronx.

Say Reading Heads Anthracite Monopoly

Washington, Sept. 19.—Declaring the "Reading combination" is the backbone of an alleged anthracite monopoly that it controls about two thirds of the anthracite demands and that its supply will outlast many years that of other producers, the government today filed in the United States supreme court its brief asking for complete separation of the Reading company, the Philadelphia and Reading Railways company, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company and others. Violation of the anti-trust law is charged.

A decision in this case in the district court was only partly favorable to the government but in some important aspects the decision was adverse to the supreme court followed.

In its brief the government contends that unless the combination is completely dissolved, it will in time own or control every available ton of commercial anthracite coal known to exist. The combination was established, the government contends, through acquisition of the Schuylkill canal, wholesale purchases of anthracite coal lands, purchases of the output of independent producers, excessive freight rates, preferences and rebates granted to the Reading Coal company and other ways.

It is further contended the Reading combination secured control of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, a competing carrier and of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal company, a competing anthracite producer "thereby further restraining and monopolizing production, transportation and sale of anthracite coal."

TY COBB ADMITS DEFEAT

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—Ty Cobb this afternoon conceded his defeat by Tris Speaker of the Indians, for batting honors in the American league. This season marks the first in ten years that the Georgia peach has been deprived of the title of premier batsman of the league.

"I'm not worrying about the batting championship," Ty said this afternoon. "I gave up all hope of beating out Speaker two weeks ago. My whole concern now is in aiding the Tigers to cop the pennant."

Forty Persons Hurt Today in Accidents Due to Street Car Strike

New York, Sept. 19.—Upwards of forty persons were injured, most of them girls en route to work, in four accidents today growing out of the street car strike.

A jitney automobile truck crowded with girls, swerved sharply approaching the Williamsburg bridge and pitched its two score passengers into the roadway. Some of them fell beneath other automobiles or the hoofs of horses and received serious injuries.

A third accident, operated by a strikebreaker jumped the track and crashed into a telephone pole. A motorman and two passengers were injured. Two cars in the Bronx, operated by green motormen, were in collision but no one was injured. The police explained that strike hardened Bronxites always keep their eyes on the motor cars.

Manhattan and Chairman Straus conferred this afternoon with business and commercial leaders in an eleventh hour attempt to avert the general sympathetic strike threatened by union leaders, unless the railway companies agree to arbitration.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BOUQUET FOR MAYOR

Also Some Flowers of Rhetoric for Salem's Beauty—Business Not Neglected

Not a "note" jarred the harmony of the regular meeting of the city council last night. Not one of the eleven aldermen present gave evidence that his daily food was digesting perfectly. To the contrary, three of the aldermen varied the regular course of business by throwing verbal bouquets.

These bouquets were mostly directed at Mayor White, who has recently declined to consider another term of service at the head of the city government, and were manifestly intended to influence his decision.

Aldermen Mills, Ward and Wallace were those who thus declared themselves, and they referred in a not altogether complimentary way to a communication published recently in a Salem newspaper, the writer of which they declared had not been entirely fair to Mayor White.

So strong was the spirit of good feeling that when he submitted Wallace took occasion to suggest a change in the city charter, by which the city could obtain authority to take care of the weeds, he launched into words of praise for the geographical and physical beauties of the city of Salem. And when he had finished Mayor White agreed with him, and City Attorney Macy stated that he will have amendments along this line ready to present to the council at its next meeting, with a view of putting the matter before the people at the election in December.

To Submit Budgets

With a view to making up the regular budget for the coming year, a resolution was adopted requiring the heads of the various departments of the city government to make up lists showing the needs of their departments which lists are to be submitted to the council at its next meeting.

The street committee reported that a cement walk has been constructed in front of lot 6 in Walker's addition, but that none has been constructed in front of lot 8 as ordered, and the committee was instructed to inform Mr. Walker that if the matter is not attended to within fifteen days the walk will be constructed by the city at his expense.

"Slow Down—danger!" signs were ordered placed by the street commissioner at Hoyt and High streets and also at Riverside drive and Miller street.

A further report in regard to the stock pens located on the Southern Pacific property near the 12th street depot was made by the city attorney, whose opinion is that as long as the pens are kept in a sanitary condition there is no authority given by the city laws for removing them, as was suggested at a former meeting of the council.

The Business End Of It

A number of additional street lights were ordered.

The petition of Mrs. Goldberg for a refund of automobile license, which had been referred to the committee on licenses, was reported favorably with an amendment that the rebate be made on license for 1917.

A petition referring to a barn in Glen Oaks addition, which barn projects into an alley in such a way as to interfere with traffic, was referred to the street committee and the two aldermen from that ward.

An amendment permitting the Southern Pacific to construct an industrial spur on Front street was acted upon favorably.

In view of the probability that the Western Union Telegraph company will soon come before the council asking for a renewal of its franchise, an ordinance amendment regulating the number of poles to a block and the kind of poles and the positions of placing was given its first and second readings.

Other amendments up for first and second readings pertaining to the punishment of anyone buying, selling or smoking opium, and to the fixing of an annual license of $50 a year for pawnbrokers, $25 for six months, no license to be granted for less than six months.

The sum of $2743.80 due the com-
