

THE FARMER AND THE STRIKE

PRESIDENT WILSON

The republicans have never been able to regard the farmer as they do other business men...

The latest and most remarkable instance of this is the preachment they are now putting out...

There is no basis for either assertion. The strike would not have caused the farmer to actually suffer for food...

With the railroad traffic of the nation blocked the farmer's business would have suffered along with all other business...

He would have seen his fruit and vegetables and all perishable produce rot for lack of transportation...

Those farmers who are feeders of live stock and who depend in part on purchased foodstuffs would have suffered extra losses...

The farmer would have suffered inconvenience and loss as to everything he ships to market and as to everything he buys from other points...

He and in addition to this direct loss, he, too, with the rest of the population would have suffered from the disastrous state of the business of the country...

The harped on increase of freight rates the farmer is going to have to pay is mere presumption. No promise of increase has been given the railroads. What has been promised is that an investigation shall be made...

The net earnings of the railroads of the country for the year ending June 1, 1916, were 708 million dollars more than the last year of the Taft administration...

The water in railroad stocks, the manipulation in rail road deals and management, may cause it that the "burden" is to be borne by the men in Wall Street...

Even though the farmer is not a manufacturer, he is a producer of goods and his business is going to be investigated by congress when it meets in December...

The position and the arguments of the republicans exemplify and prove their total inability and continued refusal to view the farmer in his true position in American life...

And a main fundamental difference now between the two parties is that the democrats and Wilson have recognized the farmer's real status...

net, and one from a firm which does not employ labor in hazardous occupations.

POTATO MARKET ACTIVE

Portland, Oct. 7.—A number of Eastern potato buyers are making inquiries as to conditions and prices here and several have visited this section...

The Oregon market, however, is by no means inactive. There is a brisk demand from California and Texas, and both states are taking good shipments.

The leading buyers are still offering 90 cents to $1 for potatoes and selling by farmers is fairly free at these prices.

Butter and Eggs
The butter market is very firm, with an urgent local demand for country creamery surplus.

THE TATTLER

Mr. Fairbanks says that Salem is a city of beautiful women and homely men. It seems as if we've heard this before.

No man wears non-refillable shoes.

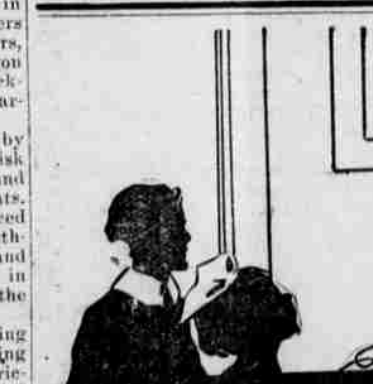

Candidates for membership in the city council are plentiful, but even at that it cannot be said that it amounts to anything like a fad.

The fly game is on, and the housewife is going to bat frequently.

It requires a real sport to put up money on presidential results this year. But it looks safe enough for betting purposes so far as the majority of Salem is concerned.

Another week is at an end. Quite a number of folks expected this to happen.

Won't somebody please take a straw vote to determine what kind of weather we're going to have next Christmas? A very effective little football machine seems to have been wished on Willamette Varsity by the Salem high school.
