Macleay Items

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Macleay, Oct. 11.—Mrs. C. E. Garrett recently accompanied her parents Mr. and Mrs. Kruger to The Dalles, where she is now visiting with friends. Millie, Fanny and Frank Nieswander and Charles Douglas were visitors at the Rieck home Thursday evening. These young folks are very jolly and it is a real treat to receive a visit from them and it is reported that they were in their usual good humor on the evening mentioned.

Macleay as a whole, as well as Miss Byers will reap the benefits of having such a fine popular young teacher in that Miss Byers was recently elected one of the four delegates to represent the Marion county teacher's institute at the state parent-teacher association meeting to be held soon in Portland. As there were four hundred teachers in the Marion county institute we may infer that Miss Byers' popularity extends far beyond Macleay or even Salem.

Ivan Beers and wife were completing their vacation by a two days visit at the Harry E. Martin home last week. The two ninnies, Messrs. Beers and Martin scoured the country for game but luck had deserted this part of Macleay and not a bird was seen.

Everett Lewis, well known rancher of this section, returned recently from his hunting trip in the coast mountains with much game and many stories of bears and hair breadth escapes from death in the pursuit of his recreation. The writer has not seen the trophies of the hunt as yet but from all reports Theodore Roosevelt will have to go to Africa again to match Mr. Lewis' collection.

At last Will Peyree has moved to a ranch near Independence, much to the regret of his neighbors here. We feel sure that Macleay's loss will be the community's gain where Mr. Peyree settles.

After a summer of inactivity regards meetings the Ladies Aid met last Thursday at the O. L. Martin home. The meeting opened with a bang and was enjoyed by all. Nearly every member of the aid was present. Dainty luncheon was served at noon by the following: Mesdames Thorton Russell, O. L. Martin, W. W. Taylor and Will Eaton. The next place of meeting was not announced to the correspondent but will be published later.

J. F. C. Tekenburg and wife motored to the Christian church services last Sunday.

O. B. Chapman assisted Guy Johnston of Bethel to fill silo Tuesday. Incidentally Mr. Chapman has had his silo raised lately by L. A. Rautenberg of Bethel.

Harry E. Martin intends to have his silo full by Thursday noon if everything pans out well, or rather fills up well. The Bethel cooperative silo filling company is doing the work.

Perry Taylor has been digging his potatoes lately. He reports a very scant yield due to bugs, so he says.

J. F. C. Tekenburg has been assisting Guy Johnston fill silo lately.

Harry Martin and wife were Salem visitors Tuesday of this week.

Miss Helen Rieck is visiting her sister in Salem at present.

C. W. Fyebinder of Wisconsin is visiting at the P. R. Robinson home. He reports two dollar potatoes in Wisconsin.

Mr. Rieck and Mr. Robinson are among the latest victims of the gripe in this section. The handkerchief seems to be a popular weapon this fall among all the people.

H. A. Taylor and family intend to motor to The Dalles the latter part of this week. Their stay will be indefinite.

Louis Loose, who has been assisting Harry Martin lately, has repaired the school house recently.

Mrs. Miller and Children have returned from their Newport visit. They arrived in Macleay again Saturday afternoon.

Guy Young was in Salem Sunday. He expected to view "Civilization" at the Bligh during the afternoon.

Mrs. H. O. Taylor was a visitor at the Harry E. Martin home Sunday afternoon.

Perry Taylor recently sold a span of Percheron fillies for the sum of $300.

Everett Lewis sawed wood Monday afternoon of this week.

There were no church services last Sunday as Mr. Lovell assisted in laying the corner stone at his home church Sunday school will begin promptly at 2 p. m. next Sunday. Everybody welcome.

Bethel News Notes

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Bethel, Ore., Oct. 11.—We have a new neighbor. Mr. L. A. Davis has bought the J. D. Baker place. Although his initials are the same he is not the man who formerly owned the place where Mr. Bain is living. Mr. Davis is ill in a hospital in Salem at present and those of the neighbors who can do so are helping to fill his silo.

It may be of interest to silo owners of Bethel to know that Mr. Russell Catlin, of Salem, used a horn binder to cut the corn for his silo. The binder cuts the corn at a rapid rate and leaves it in bundles making it easier to handle.

There are eight silos here. Five of them have been filled and the other three will doubtless be filled by the time this is in print. The Swales-Kirschner-Creech machine was mowing for Guy Johnston May and will begin filling Harry Martin's silo sometime tomorrow; at least that is the expectation.

The Bethel literary society was scheduled to open the season with a meeting last Friday night but, because of the unexpected pressure of work this fall, the meeting has been postponed for three or four weeks. Announcement will be made later.

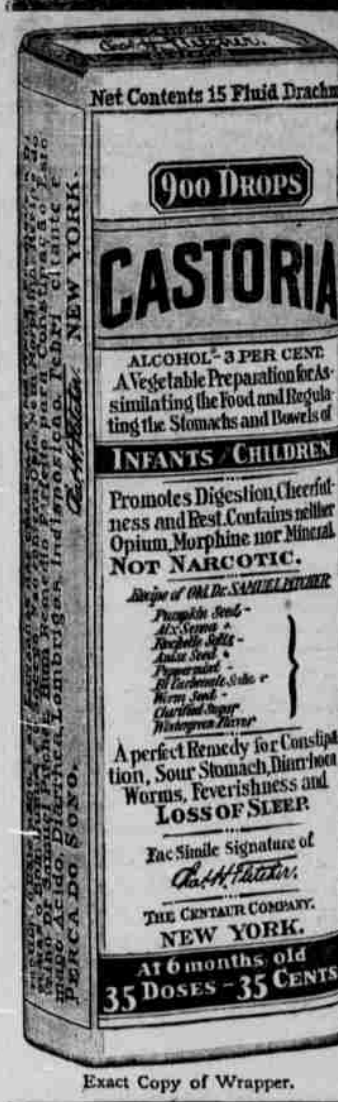

Marion News

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Marion, Ore., Oct. 11.—Gossip last week was correct about Mr. Hobbs and Miss Gentry. They were married September 26 and have gone down near Eugene to live.

Nearly everybody in our town and vicinity went to the fair this year. Of course some of us didn't, but we would have liked to go. They all reported a good time and a fine fair.

Mrs. Mary Pearson had for her home guest last week Mrs. Raey, of Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worthing are all the green garden stuff, catching several house plants also, that had not yet found shelter indoors.

Mrs. Mary Castleman left today for a 10 days' outing in the mountains near Blodgett.

Mr. Jas. Colgan has finished re-roofing his house and also put in a nice big dormer window on the north.

SETTLEMENT WORKERS COMING

Butte, Mont., Oct. 12.—After rousing political meetings in Helena and Butte, the Hughes Alliance women's special was en route to the Pacific coast today. It is due in Boise this afternoon.

The special will reach Portland Saturday morning, Charles W. Fairbanks participated in the speaking at Helena.

Mill City Items

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Mill City, Oct. 11.—The Rehekah lodge initiated another new member last week.

Mrs. Jane Shaw has been on the sick list for several days but is reported better.

Miss Belle Thompson spent Sunday with her parents here.

Miss Gladys Hall has been clerking in the store during Mrs. Shaw's illness.

Mrs. H. A. Miller of Seio visited with her sister, Mrs. McLaue, last week.

The bridge carpenters have finished here and gone to work on the bridge at Mad Creek.

Maudie Berry and Dewey Flatman were married in Albany Saturday, returning here this week where they intend to make their home, as Dewey is brakeman on one of the Hammond Lbr. Co.'s logging trains.

There were several fires set to burn slashing and the hard east wind Sunday spread the fire beyond control and threatened much damage before it could be checked. J. P. Smith's home was in the path of the fire and it was only by strenuous effort on the part of men from town, they assisted Mr. Smith in saving his home.

The Hammond Lbr. Co. intend to shut down the mill Saturday so the people can go to Albany to the roundup. There will be an excursion train from Detroit to Albany so all who wish to go to the roundup may do so. A number of Mill City people intend going in autos.

The B. B. B. club met with Mrs. Olin and report a lovely time.

The school fair held at the school house last Saturday was a success. It is the third annual fair held by this school. Lunch was served all day by the high school girls. There was also a candy booth kept by two of the girls. Some of the prize winners are as follows:
