Rosedale News

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Rosedale, Ore., Oct. 14.—The prune crop is harvested and some are marketing the fruit; pickers returned home with their wages, merchants are getting their share of it. Smoke is still seen at some of the driers yet.

The patrons of the Rosedale school held a social gathering at the school house Friday night at which the teacher and county superintendent were present. A few short talks were given, after which light refreshments were served by the mothers.

Local weather still prevails to close up the harvest of fruit and the gathering in of the winter stores, then comes the showers of blessings upon the earth again.

The Rosedale school opened Monday morning with a brand new teacher, a Miss Cook of Newberg. Twenty children put in their appearance from the surrounding hills.

STAYTON SCHOOL FAIR

The third annual school fair is over and gone, and it is the consensus of opinion that it was the best arranged exhibit that had been put up.

It is true that the hall did not look so crowded with exhibits as last year, but the arrangement was much better, thanks to those who so kindly helped, that more was put in a smaller space, giving more aisle room.

In the poultry and live stock department there were fully 50 cent more entries than last year, and many new coops had to be built.

Everything was in complete order by one o'clock Friday, and the judging commenced a half hour later.

Mr. Larson of O. A. C., M. Schuff of Stayton and Curtis Cole of Linn county judged the agricultural and live stock exhibits, while Mrs. J. T. Hunt of the Waldo Hills, Mrs. Chas. Loose of West Stayton and Miss Anna Mullen of Stayton judged the cooking, canning and needlework.

While the attendance was good, it was not so large as last year, being about three hundred adults and perhaps twice that many younger persons.—Mail.
