Under the auspices of the Salem Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Dr. A. L. Hutchison, pastor of the Piedmont Presbyterian church, Portland, will give a series of lectures at the First Presbyterian church beginning Monday, October 23 and extending over until Friday, October 27. The following subjects will be the topic of the lectures: Monday, "The Coming Order of Units in the Unfoldment of Prophecy;" "The Times of the Gentiles Man's Day;" Wednesday, "The New in History and Prophecy;" Thursday, "The Bible and the World;" Friday, "Will There Be World Peace, When and How?" These meetings are not planned to be evangelistic but are primarily Bible studies.

A demonstration of Golden West coffee is being held at Westcott and Thielson's grocery. You are cordially invited to come in and have a free sample of this excellent coffee.

James Sykes was arrested yesterday by Constable E. E. Cooper on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Max K. J. Raabe. It appears in the complaint that Sykes attacked with his hands and beat up Raabe. The matter in dispute was payment for the keep of a dog. According to the story told the constable, Sykes went to the country recently and left a dog in Raabe's care and he alleged that Raabe did not take care of the animal but allowed it to get away so that when he returned he had to hunt it. Now Sykes declares Raabe wants money for the keep of the dog and he refuses to pay. The trial will be held in Justice Webster's court Thursday, October 19.

Here is another sad story for the good housekeeper. Flour advanced 10 cents a hundred pounds this morning at all the grocery stores and the economical housekeeper who was trying to make that last sack of flour last a few days longer will now make the next purchase at the advanced price. If the last sack had been used Monday and the purchase made Tuesday, and if, so well, what's the use. Even crackers cost wholesale one cent more a pound than they did last week, and five to ten cents was tacked on to the price of every cake this morning by the bakers in the city. The only way to save or break even is to cut down on the rations.

A letter has been addressed to Mrs. Mary C. Shirley, No. 7 West Vantrues street, Salem, Ore. It was mailed at Salem a few days ago but of course Mrs. Shirley will not receive the letter as there is no such street in Salem and there is no return memo on the upper left hand corner of the envelope showing where to return in case the letter was not called for. A letter addressed to Mrs. Annie McCafferty has no city or state address. Miss Alta Reynolds will not receive her letter as it is addressed to Moline, Ore., and there is no such postoffice in the state. A memo of return in five days if not called for, on the upper left hand corner of the envelope would be appreciated by post-office officials.

Half a century from now the oldest inhabitant will talk of the fall of 1916 in Salem when it did not rain for 40 days or more. Today makes the 39th day of drought in this section of the Willamette valley. The last rain was on September 9 when there was a precipitation of .18 of an inch. Since then there was a trace of moisture on Monday of state fair week and three hundredths of an inch on October 3. During this 39 days of drought, the wind has been 22 days from the south.

Members of the Central Congregational church, located at Nineteenth and Ferry streets, will give a chicken pie supper this evening from 5:30 until 8 o'clock. The ladies of the church guarantee a genuine chicken pie of the home-made variety. The dinner is given to raise funds to help in paying for the work of remodeling that has recently been done on the church.

Members of the rifle team of Company L, of Dallas, were in Salem yesterday on their way to the shoot. The Dallas team is composed of the following: Sergeant Syron, Quartermaster Sergeant Himes, Corporal Robb, and Privates Helgeson and William Dennis.

The class in psychology at the University of Oregon will visit the state institution for the Feeble Minded Friday for an examination of the patients there. The class will be under the direction of one of the psychology professors of the university. This is the first time a class has come from the University of Oregon although classes in psychology from the state Normal school at Monmouth and from some of the high schools have visited the institution.

Several Salem people gave an entertainment at the state tuberculosis sanatorium Tuesday evening that was appreciated very much by the patients. Two of the entertainers were members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, under whose auspices the entertainment was given. The performers were Tom Orlemann, popular Salem vocalist, accompanied by Miss Wood at the piano; Miss Elizabeth Levy, violinist, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Enkin, pianist; Gustav Anderson, reader and impersonator, and Eva L. Scott, who gave several readings.

The chess and checker players of Salem are beginning to feel somewhat restless over the quiet times of the summer season and are now preparing for a winter season of contests. A meeting was held a few evenings ago at the home of W. Brant at 1325 Broadway when it was decided to effect a formal organization at a meeting called for Friday evening of this week at the office of the Drager-Fruit company. All who are interested in chess and checkers are requested to attend and assist in preparing for a hard winter's campaign.

Miss Margaret Roberts, of Danville, Kentucky, who is one of the three new teachers at the state school for the deaf who assumed their duties at the beginning of the fall school term. Miss Roberts is an experienced teacher and has had special training in both the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts schools. She will take charge of the primary department and the training of other teachers. Miss Inez Lacey, who comes from Texas, is also an experienced teacher for the deaf and she will have charge of the advanced oral class. Miss Jean Ketchum, of Independence,

George C. L. Snyder is home from Marshfield after spending a few weeks in the Coos Bay country. He says it is some country for farmers and ranchmen but the climate is not exactly salubrious for printers. Hence he is back home.

Other things besides politics claimed the attention of the young men of Willamette university last evening and the proposed organization of a Hughes club did not materialize. A few young men met at the republican headquarters but not enough to justify a formal organization.

The Loyal Sons of the First Christian church at their annual election and banquet last evening, elected Robey S. Radcliff president and Carl Wenger secretary. The meeting was attended by 50 members of the class and plans were discussed for the activities of the class the coming winter.

Night school at the Capital Business college will begin on Monday evening, October 23. Short-hand, bookkeeping, typewriting, penmanship, spelling, arithmetic, etc. The principal will be in his office on Friday and Saturday evenings to register pupils. Any who contemplate taking shorthand should begin the first evening.

A former Salem pastor, the Rev. A. L. Hutchison, present pastor of the Piedmont Presbyterian church of Portland, will begin a series of lectures in the city beginning Monday, October 23, at the First Presbyterian church. The meetings will be in the way of scriptural studies and will be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The weather was somewhat chilly last evening, according to the government's official thermometer, which registered 37 above as the coldest for the night. This thermometer is enclosed in a box and protected from the wind. Hence an energetic thermometer, placed in the open might have registered a few points lower.

NO HOPE OF LOWER PRICES FOR FOOD

Advance Recently 25 Per Cent and Another Like Raise Looked For

New York, Oct. 18.—While an increase in the price of foodstuffs amounting to 25 per cent picked the pockets of New Yorkers today, many grocers predicted another 25 per cent increase, which will make many staple articles luxuries by spring. The war is blamed. The allies are willing to pay such high prices for food that wholesalers ship abroad, the grocers declare. A short crop also is playing havoc in the prices and Canada's participation in the war is having its effect, for that British possession is sending all its surplus to feed the great armies. High prices paid to laborers in munition plants are taking men from the farms and farmers are forced to pay higher prices to harvest their crops. Speculators also are helping boost prices, the grocers say. Even peace would not help much, dealers declare, for the shortage in production in this country, they believe, would still be the predominant factor. Russian wheat would be released if peace came, they say, but it would not affect other commodities. Even fish, they say brings prices far beyond normal. These dealers declare the only solution of the problem lies in action by the government.

Bread Goes Up a Cent. Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Immediately following the sudden rise in wheat prices, bakers here slapped another cent on the price of bread. The family loaf now costs eight cents.

MARRIED

At the United Evangelical parsonage, Wednesday morning, October 18, 1916, Mr. George Ivan Lawrence and Miss Ora S. Shaw, both of Brooks, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Guy R. Stover. The groom is a well known resident of Brooks and the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shaw, long time residents of that section. The young couple will make their home in Aberdeen, Wash.

THE MUSICIANS' ASSOCIATION OF SALEM

is making arrangements for its annual dance to be given at the armory some time in December. Last year at the annual dance the orchestra numbered 20 but this year it is probable that the number will be much larger and that before the dance a short entertainment will be given. Committees have been appointed as follows: General, Albert Mickelson, John Graber and Ivan G. Martin; dancing, W. B. Richie, Tracy Hatch and Miss Joy Turner; music, H. N. Stoudenmeyer, Bert Russell, Miss Martha Swart.

The Chemawa American, printed at Chemawa, and devoted to the interests of Indian education, issued the first number of volume 19 under date of Wednesday, October 11. It is published weekly at the Salem Indian Training school by Harwood Hall, superintendent. The paper is devoted to the local affairs of the Chemawa students and to articles of general information of special interest to the Indian school. Harwood Hall, the new superintendent, is one of the most advanced men in the Indian work of the country and in sending him to Chemawa it is probable the government officials hoped through his efforts to bring Chemawa up to the standard of the five other great Indian schools.

Twelve former Chemawa students are attending the Salem high school. They are Frank Johnson, senior; Florence Thompson and Anna Loftus, juniors; Elwood Towner, Nick Orloff, Paul Liphart, Myra Rauli and Eva White, sophomores; Martha Sprague, Rose O'Brien, Irving Shepard and Henry Davis, freshmen.

The Degree of Honor closed its annual convention yesterday afternoon with the decision not to elect new officers for the coming year but to retain those already in office. Mrs. Edith Durr is president and Mrs. Harriett C. Looney as secretary. The next meeting will be held next October. The convention just closed was of more than average interest in many respects not only from the amount of business transacted, but in the entertainments given the visiting delegates. The daily attendance was about 75.

Benjamin Brick was elected dictator of the Salem Moose lodge last evening, to succeed Ernest Bove who has gone to Alaska. George Frazier was elected vice dictator; James Jacobs, inner guard and Thomas Burston outer guard. Installation of the new officers will take place next Tuesday evening when a special banquet and program will be prepared. Charles Gloss, deputy state supreme dictator will attend the installation exercises and others of prominence in Moose circles. F. H. Murphy was appointed chairman of the refreshment committee for the evening and Geo. Sauder, Dr. O. L. Scott and Loren White on entertainment. Mr. Brick says that his administration will be a progressive one and that something will be doing at all times and that the regular meeting nights will be made attractive enough to insure a large attendance at every one of them. In fact, Mr. Brick intends to put the Salem Moose lodge on the map during his term as dictator.

About a week ago thieves with an apparent liking for canned fruit entered the basement of the L. H. Suter residence, at Seventeenth and D streets and carried away some 30 quart jars of fruit. Some of the fruit was on shelves, some packed away in boxes, and the thieves in order to get a complete assortment took some from each place. Mrs. Suter heard the jars "clink" and proceeded to investigate but by the time she reached the basement the thieves had vanished with their plunder.
