HUGHES SAYS A VOTE FOR HIM IS FOR PEACE

Says He Is Not For War But Stands for Permanent Honorable Peace

By Perry Arnold
(United Press staff correspondent)
Bay City, Mich., Oct. 19.—Notwithstanding a cold rain, there were 2000 persons assembled in the armory here to hear Republican Nominee Hughes speak today.
"Men going abroad in this land declaring that a vote for me is a vote for war," Hughes asserted, "because I have criticised weakness and vacillation on the part of the administration. A vote for me is a vote for permanent peace based on self respect and the esteem and respect of others."
Hughes detailed at length the basis of what he termed the present temporary prosperity, declaring they who "seek to make political capital out of the present prosperity are either insincere or thoughtless."
Speaking at Saginaw and Flint, Hughes reiterated his warning of stagnation following the close of the European war if the democratic tariff for revenue policy were continued, and emphasized anew his denial that a vote for him meant a vote for war.
"Who are these monopolists of peace?" he asked. "Are these they who went to Vera Cruz in an ignoble personal war and slew hundreds of Mexicans without the slightest justification in international law or in morals?"

M'CORMICK SAYS IT'S A WILSON LAND SLIDE

New York, Oct. 19.—Returning from a trip to democratic headquarters in Chicago, Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the national democratic campaign committee today predicted a "land-slide" of western states into the Wilson column. He declared he had carefully into the situation and found conditions to be surprisingly favorable. He claimed:
A big democratic majority in Wisconsin.
That Nebraska has failed to respond to the visit of Governor Hughes.
Missouri and Indiana safely in the Wilson column, although republicans in those states are making a hard fight.
"All over but the shouting in Ohio," North Dakota and Kansas safely democratic with certainty of re-electing every democratic congressman from these two states.
Doubted if there was a single Hughes states west of the Mississippi.

EZRA HAS AN AUTO

Ezra Meeker was in town this afternoon. This is the genuine Ezra with his long white whiskers, traveling in his auto schooner "The Pathfinder" from Indianapolis to Washington and then across the continent on the old migrant trail in the west through South Pass. Ezra is in somewhat of a hurry this afternoon as he is anxious to get across the mountains before stormy weather sets in.
His Pathfinder is an exact model of the schooner in which he crossed the plains in 1852. He is 86 years old, says cats just what he wants although he finds it best to go slow on the quantity of rations.

Judge Galloway Refuses to Grant Injunction

Judge William Galloway this morning denied the petition of the Southern Pacific railroad company for a temporary injunction to restrain the city of Hubbard from continuing the work of building a sewer ditch under the tracks of the company. The temporary injunction was denied because the case involves the health and safety of a city and in the opinion of Judge Galloway the health and safety of the city of Hubbard was worth more than any damage the railroad might sustain before a hearing of both sides could be had.

University Notes

That the law students of the university might perfect a permanent organization the members of the respective classes met Monday evening in Judge Kelly's room at the county court house and elected William West president of the student body. He is to be assisted by Frank Neuner, vice president, and Fred Smith, treasurer.
The members also elected to continue the regular moot court trials and proceedings each Monday night inasmuch as the sessions have proved so beneficial in the past to all those enrolled for law work. Department No. 1 of the moot court is to be the scene of the verbal conflict and all interested in such departmental work are cordially invited to attend. All court officials and members of the jury are selected from the student body and it is to the credit of these amateurs that the cases have been conducted in the past with a fervent dignity which often succeeds that of the real court.

Alleged Bootlegger Is Nicely Trapped

Jesse Millett, who rooms at the O. K. rooming house, was arrested yesterday night about 10 o'clock by Officers White and Varney on a charge of bootlegging. Willson park was the scene of the arrest and afforded the officers a few exciting moments. Millett had been under surveillance for some time and last night was shadowed. The officers were in the bushes watching and after the money, which had been marked, had been passed for the liquor they stepped out. Immediately Millett started to run and Varney called to him to halt. He kept on running until ordered to halt or be shot. Millett then halted. A search was made of Millett's room in the O. K. rooming house with the result that three more bottles of manufactured booze were found. The bottle of booze sold was purchased for $1.50. The liquor was not strong as it has apparently been watered heavily and colored to a light amber tint.
Millett was taken to jail and Chief Welsh said this morning he was going to give him a double shot. This morning at 11 o'clock he was given a hearing in the municipal court and pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon, but was postponed until one o'clock Friday by his attorney, Robin Day. When through with the municipal court, the case will be prosecuted under the state law in the justice court.

Women Crowd to See Him

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush were hosts last night for an exquisitely appointed dinner, in celebration of their wedding anniversary. The guests included only the members of their wedding party, whom the Bushs have entertained at a similar affair every year since their marriage. Covers were placed for 8.

Important on the calendar today is the annual guild dance at the armory for the benefit of the St. Paul's Episcopal church. It promises to be one of the merriest and gayest affairs of the early season, and is eagerly anticipated by the younger contingent as well as the older devotees.

The Booth string orchestra will furnish the music for the dance and will play a few of the latest ball room dances including:
1—Shall divorcees remarry—One step.
2—Praise the Lord the convention has adjourned—Waltz.
3—Women shall not vote—Hop.
4—Bishop's minuet.
5—Put on your surplice—Two step.
6—Pass the contribution box—Schottische.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grady, of Portland, whose exhibition dances at the guild dance tonight will be a feature of the affair, arrived this afternoon and are guests of the B. J. Miles.

The Misses Olive and Fabian Roscho motored to Portland for the week end Friday and were the guests of Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Jones. During their visit in Portland the girls enjoyed a trip over the Columbia Highway.

Salem friends of Mrs. Kenneth Robertson (Ruth Church) and small daughter, Mary, of Portland, will regret to hear that they left for the east Wednesday, where they will join Mr. Robertson to make their future home in Auburn, N. Y.

Mrs. N. H. Looney of Jefferson, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. C. Dyer, returned home Tuesday. About 15 members of the West Central Circle of the Methodist church gathered at the W. H. Byars residence on Wednesday to enjoy the informal afternoon planned by Mrs. Ronald C. Glover for her mother, Mrs. Byars, who has been confined to the house for several months with a broken ankle.

The decorations suggestive of Halloween were effectively carried out with yellow blossoms and appointments. The guests presented Mrs. Byars with a beautiful plant and the afternoon was rounded out with refreshments.

Mrs. Arthur Moore entertained as her guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodford and Harry Huddelson, who motored to Salem from Portland. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Woodford are sisters of Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. C. O. Constable and daughters, the Misses Ora and Iva Constable, left last night for Pomona, Cal., where they expect to pass the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Priece are passing a few days in Portland and are at the Hotel Portland.

Miss Lela MacCaddam has had as her guest Miss Daisy Mulkey of Woodburn.

The D. T. M. Sunday school class of the Jason Lane church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Dunlap, on Saturday afternoon. A brief business session preceded a social time and refreshments.

Mrs. F. L. Purvine has as her guest, Mrs. M. B. Streffleer of Portland, who is returning home after an extended visit to relatives in Memphis, Tenn. She will visit in Salem until tomorrow and will be accompanied home by Mrs. Purvine's small son, Paul Purvine, who will pass the week end in Portland. En route home Mrs. Streffleer visited in California.

Mrs. H. E. Millhouse of Portland is passing the week in Salem, and is the guest of friends.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Pemberton and Mrs. and Mrs. L. H. Roberts motored to Scotts Mills Wednesday and spent the day visiting friends.

Mrs. Florence Cole is enjoying a ten days outing at Newport.

President Given

crowds including many workmen and school children accorded President Wilson an enthusiastic reception as he passed through northern Indiana today. Here at South Bend 8,000 people lined the streets when his train pulled in. School children waved flags and screamed their delight. Employees of local automobile works lined the tracks, stood on roofs, cornices and leaned from balconies extending a hearty welcome. The train was an hour late here. Rain was still falling.

Responding to persistent demands for a speech, the president made his second short brief utterance of the trip.

"I have forgotten how to make campaign speeches," said the president. "The record is made up and all you have to do now is to say what you think. If I made a speech I would have to tell you what I think of myself and that I cannot do."

"It is very delightful to have such cordial receptions as you have given me today and as I have been going along the road it makes me feel very good, and I thank you for it from the bottom of my heart."

The president greeted handshakers with his left hand. His right hand is bandaged because of a scratch inflicted by a careless enthusiast who gouged the president's palm with a ragged finger nail at Albany. Dr. Grayson ordered the palm bandaged, fearing infection.

Members of the party are greatly cheered by receptions given the president all the way through New York. The climax was reached at Syracuse, where a spectacular ovation was given by 15,000 persons.

The president faced a soggy, dreary day after a long night ride through a driving rainstorm. The weather is cold and damp and some of the outdoor plans for the reception at Chicago may have to be revised.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—In a non-partisan plea before guests of the Chicago Press club today President Wilson said: "The age of readjustment is upon America. Are you going to take part in the magnificent work that is facing you, or will you employ your energy to obstruct?" he asked.

"You can be of great assistance or you can bring ruin by resisting."

The way of the times, he had said previously, is to help construct the progressive ideas. "Don't oppose them," he said, "for progressivism is here to stay. Uphold it and guide it in the right direction."

After his speech at the Press club President Wilson went back to the Blackstone hotel to rest a few minutes before going to the Auditorium theatre to address a women's meeting at 4 p. m.

Thousands of women lined the streets between the hotel and the theatre hoping to see the president. In the crowd in front of the Auditorium several women carried banners reading: "Vote against Wilson" and attacking him on the suffrage question.

Secretary Wilson Gets Welcome In Portland

Portland, Or., Oct. 19.—William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, arrived in Portland this afternoon, campaigning for the re-election of President Wilson.

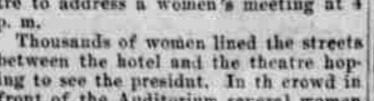

Representatives of organized labor and the railroad brotherhoods greeted him with cheers and hand clapping at the Union Station. Aside from these delegations there was not a large crowd on hand but a number of bystanders recognized the cabinet officer and started a shout of welcome.

Wilson will speak tonight at a downtown theater, all the arrangements being in the hands of the Oregon State Federation of Labor, the Central Labor Council and four railway brotherhoods. It is understood the secretary will pay particular attention to the Adamson eight hour law and tell why he believes President Wilson should receive the labor vote.

Salem Educators Are at Teachers' Institute

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, who was recently elected president of Willamette university, was the first speaker to address the Douglas County Teachers' institute this morning. He chose for his subject the "Social Education of America." He spoke very convincingly and the flashes of wit and humor throughout his talk found ready acceptance. "As you think and act so will America," said Doctor Doney, "for the life of the individual counts more than any other factor. Thoughts direct our deeds and teachers have a great responsibility in seeing that the minds of the young are given the right thoughts. Like mindedness is also important and in this the public schools are playing a great part in educating the immigrants and foreigners that come into our country to be good American citizens."

J. A. Churchill state superintendent of public instruction, arrived in Roseburg late last night from Jackson county, where he attended a teachers' institute last week. Mr. Churchill will be one of the principal speakers at the institute now in progress in this city. He resides in Salem and is one of the best known officials of the state—Roseburg Review.

Standard Oil Strikers Return to Their Work

Bayonne, N. J. Oct. 19.—More than 1,000 striking employees of the Standard Oil company and many hundreds more employed by other plants returned to their work at the oil plants here today.

Superintendent George Hennessey of the Standard Oil company was on hand when the doors opened and gave the order for the men to return when he became aware of their numbers. He had declared he would not start them to work unless a sufficient number to operate the plant showed up. The strike has been on 10 days.

Thousands of strikers were in the streets and refused to return, but there was no attempt at violence.

The United States mediation board held a meeting today at which an effort was to be made to settle differences between employers and workers.
