Audrey Munson, "Purity" Star.

The favorite of American sculptors and artists. Noted for the beauty of her figure and rare grace of poses. Posed for three-fifths of the outdoor sculptor work seen at Panama Pacific international exposition. Also for many of the great murals.

The Priestess of Culture, by Herbert Adams, is one of her most notable poses immortalized in the Metropolitan Museum, New York.

As Lady Godiva, her figure in silver, done by Scarpitti, is installed for life in the Fifth Avenue, New York, show windows of the Gorham company, silversmiths.

Posed for the famous painting of Calatea, by the noted artist Albin, giving her poses free to that genius when he was so poor he was unable to pay for her services as a model.

Model for the figures on the Pulitzer Memorial, opposite the Plaza hotel at the Fifth Avenue entrance to Central Park, New York.

Posed for the figures on the Manhattan bridge, Firemen's Memorial and Music of the Waters on Riverside Drive New York.

Model for Clivia Pride, the great gilded statue which surmounts Manhattan's huge Municipal building.

Three productions of her figure are seen on the McMillan Memorial Fountain, by Herbert Adams, in the grounds of the national capitol at Washington.

Recently posed for the figure of "Suffering Humanity" on the Booth Memorial to be erected in London, after the war as a tribute to the founder and leader of the Salvation Army.

Audrey Munson will be seen in "Purity" a stupendous art production in seven reels at the Bligh theatre today and tomorrow.

Willamette Bests Albany By Score of 26 to 7

Coming back strong after the recent slaughter from Bezaque's huskies, Coach Matthews' warriors trampled all over the Albany college team Saturday afternoon at the Hub city to the strains of 26 to 7.

Although the game was soggy with fumbles, penalties and dust remaining from the recent roundup, the pigskin matinee was interesting from the opening until the shades of night fell.

Although the teams weighed in about even, the Albany lads were no match for the inter-Medicalists. That the score was not greater was due to the excessive eagerness of the local collegians to mix up the Albany defense before French's stellar boots averaging 50 yards could be initiated.

Despite the 170 yards of penalties the scrappy Willamette colorist easily outplayed their opponents and at no time during the battle failed to make yardage.

On the other hand Ed Bailey's proteges were able to make yardage only once and were forced to depend on French's turtly foot for advantage.

The game showed that stories emanating from the vicinity of Willamette field this week were no idle rumors and that Matthews has assembled a machine which is not easily outplayed.

The snap and brainwork displayed by the whole eleven speaks well for a low score next Saturday, if Coach Phipps' agriculturalists are met at Corvallis as now expected.

Albany exposed the void to the Willamette team by kicking off to Dimick who passed to Teall, the latter returning 30 yards. After a scramble over fumbles, Grosvenor recovered and sped 70 yards through the entire Albany team along the sidelines for the first touchdown in less than three minutes of play. Rexford followed with a goal kick. Score 7-0.

No further scores occurred during the first half which was characterized by repeated fumbles by Willamette's backfield who were unable to get footholds in the slippery dust at crucial moments.

The ball was in Albany's territory practically the entire half, although at one time Willamette was forced to punt from her own 5 yard line.

Albany Scores Once
Altering the style of play in the second half, Willamette started things off by a relentless series of line plunges. A series of two forward passes and line backs by Grosvenor brought the ball within striking distance of Albany's defensive goal. Here, despite penalties, Dimick of Willamette, after a series of bucks, plowed through the line for the second touchdown. Flegel registered. Score: Willamette, 14; Albany, 0.

The Presbyterian awoke about this time and, after Willamette had bucked them back to their 20 yard line and Willamette fumbled, Teall, Albany tackle recovered and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Albany kicked goal. Score: Willamette, 14; Albany, 7.

The fourth quarter gave Willamette continued opportunity to present the sterling stuff of the team and, as the result of dynamic line plunges and cross bucks the ball soon wrested behind Albany's back door. Score: Willamette, 20; Albany, 7.

With less than two minutes to play, Grosvenor circled end and through a broken field sprinted the necessary 63 yards for the fourth and final touchdown. Score, Willamette, 26; Albany, 7. Teall recovered a wrenched ankle in this period and was succeeded by Jackson who started things off with an 18 yard run. Hunter, Albany center, broke two bones in his leg in the second play of the game.

The outstanding features of the game were the brilliant work of the Willamette backfield, Booth's tackling, and Grosvenor's lightning runs. French's punting for Albany loomed up splendidly.

Car Shortage Closes

Silverton Sawmill

The first in the engines of the Silverton Lumber Co's big mill were pulled Saturday night with not a ray of hope in sight as to when they will be able to again start. The mill was not closed because business was slack, or because they did not have good help, or because they could not get logs, or because they did not want to keep running, but because they cannot get cars with which to ship the finished product to those who are scrambling, pleading and begging for Silverton made lumber. Four cars per day is what the Company needs to handle their shipments, one car per day has been their average allotment for the past two months.

The difference in shipments between one car and four cars per day of lumber awaits movement in the yard and the suggestion becoming acute there was an alternative but close down.—Appeal.

COMPANY M'S STATUS UNDER THE NEW LAW

Doubtful If State Can Maintain It As Military Organization

Immediately upon the mustering out of the Third regiment Oregon Infantry at Clackamas on September 25, and on account of the peculiar situation in which many members of M company found themselves because they did not take the new oath as required by the new law federalizing the national guards, considerable discussion arose among the men as to their exact status, and whether or not they would be given discharges showing their period of service, and as a result a letter was sent through Senator Chamberlain to the war department asking for information.

The following letter, sent by H. P. McClain, adjutant general, to Senator Chamberlain, and through him to Salem, explains what the war department thinks about the matter:

"With reference to the telegram dated October 7, 1916, from Mr. Charles V. Galloway, director, Salem Commercial club, of Salem, Oregon, addressed through you to the secretary of war, relative to the issuance of discharges to members of Company M, Third Oregon Infantry, which organization has been mustered out of the United States service, and in response to the requests contained therein as to the present militia status of these men; when they will receive their final discharges, and whether or not they are now subject to orders of the war department, I have the honor to inform you as follows:

"The records of the war department show that none of the members of this company subscribed to the oath prescribed in the act of June 3, 1916, but were mustered into federal service as members of the organized militia, under the militia law of 1903 (Dick bill). Upon their muster out of the federal service, they were returned to the control of the state authorities. As they are state troops, not United States volunteers, they could not be discharged by the federal government upon the termination of their federal service as in the case of volunteers.

"The status of this company is now that of militia maintained for purely state purposes, and not recognized by the federal government as part of the national guard created by the act of June 3, 1916, nor as entitled to receive the benefits of any appropriations made by congress for the support of the militia. The disposition to be made of the company is entirely in the hands of the state authorities.

"In the Trout, Oatuz and Shanje valleys in Transylvania the Rumanians attacked the enemy and compelled a slight Austro-German retirement. In western Moldavia the Rumanians have been successful in stubborn fighting.

"The fighting on the Galician-Volhynia front is slackening. Austro-German attempts to cross the Bolutzka, north of Brody, were repelled by Russian troops.

state authorities who may organize a company of national guard from such members as consent to subscribe to the oath and contract of enlistment prescribed by the act of June 3, 1916 (discharging such men as decline to subscribe to said oath and contract, or may muster out or discharge the entire personnel of the company. It is doubtful whether the state can legally continue to maintain the company in its present status, as it is believed that the intention of Congress in prescribing (section 61, act of June 3, 1916) that "no state shall maintain troops in time of peace other than as authorized in accordance with the organization prescribed under this act" was to prohibit states from maintaining militia units other than the national guard.

"Very respectfully,
H. P. McClain, adjutant general"

Patterson Will Represent Polk In Bridge Matter

To act for Polk county in all discussions with the Marion county court and Marion people, I. L. Patterson has been named as Polk representative by the county court. The order was signed by the three members of the Polk county court Monday. Patterson is to act as the "go between" of this county court and Marion county. He will serve without pay and will not have power to enter into contracts but his recommendations will be seriously considered. It is believed that he will be able to settle the differences between the two county courts as to the kind of bridge and the place to erect the proposed bridge.

The Marion county court wants the new bridge placed in the same position as the present bridge but Polk officials have objected because this would necessitate the establishment of a ferry while the bridge was being constructed. The two courts have also differed on plans.—Observer.

Supreme Court Refused to Review Indictments

Washington, Oct. 23.—The supreme court today refused to review indictments brought against James B. Smith and other officials of the Western Fuel company of San Francisco, for conspiracy to defraud the United States by manipulating scales used for weighing dutiable coal.

Must Serve Sentences
San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The refusal of the supreme court of the United States to review the Western Fuel company cases means that James B. Smith, secretary, will go to San Quentin for 18 months and will pay a fine of $5,000; F. C. Mills will serve 18 months and E. H. Mayer will serve a year in the Alameda county jail.

The heads of the fuel company were charged with conspiring to defraud the government by tampering with scales used in weighing dutiable coal.

The decision of the supreme court is expected to cause the government to drop the civil suits brought against the concern and against the officers. Recently announcement was made that the civil suits would not be pressed should the officials be sent to prison.

STRAW VOTE TAKEN
A ballot box was improvised at the store in the postoffice building and for nearly a week people were casting votes for their presidential choice. In the time, 164 votes were polled with the following result:

Wilson, 116; Hughes, 41; Hanley, 3; Benson, 2; Roosevelt, 1 and Debbis, 1. From the best information we can glean from all sources, the vote is a fairly good index of the sentiment of this country.—Bend, (Ore.) Bulletin.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am on 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hate the doctors, for doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband.

I had bearing down pains, my head fainted me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby, or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed.

One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my household work. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLENETT, Box 55, Killingly, Conn.
