By ALINE THOMPSON

Mrs. L. F. Griffith returned Friday evening from a few days visit in Portland.

About 16 young girls who are members of the Kitchi Gammie Campfire club, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson recently to participate in the gayeties of an informal evening given by Miss Thelma Johnson and the Misses Winifred Reinhardt and Bessie Bretty.

The party was held in the basement of the residence and the evening was rounded out with Halloween games and refreshments.

Mrs. J. W. Schaller was the recipient of a pleasant surprise luncheon on Thursday, when several of her friends

Those present were: Mrs. James Matthews, Mrs. Lloyd Ramsden, Mrs. Earl Race, Mrs. Henry Sauer, Mrs. P. Rossmann, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ryan, Mrs. C. C. Witzel, Mrs. William Hagelorn, Mrs. C. Maudinger, Mrs. Jessie Lucas.

WHY I AM FOR WILSON

By Ida M. Tarbell

Does any American today see bigger, or more dispassionately or more clearly than President Wilson? I believe that Progressives will see this; if they don't it is a reflection on their intelligence.

President Wilson has proved his fitness to lead the progressive civilization. True, he has not yet had time to convert the man who cries for his pound of flesh, nor alter the views of him who fails to see that bloody war is but the primitive expression of savage weakness promoted by the ignoble desire of conquest or revenge. But he has forced respect for neutrality, and he has landed his delicate Mexican inheritance with tact and wisdom.

Jolly Neighbors club enjoyed the informal afternoon for which Mrs. Davis Rees and Miss Harwich were hostesses at the home of the former on North cottage street.

The house was prettily decorated with bright hued autumn leaves and Halloween novelties. During the afternoon a contest was held and prizes were given. Later the hostesses served a dainty repast.

Those present were: Mrs. M. H. Netter, Mrs. John Fisher, Mrs. Mary Boise, Mrs. Walter Hatch, Mrs. E. H. Prothero, Miss Carrie Grabenhorst and Miss Florence McCreery.

Tonight the Salem Floral society will celebrate its first birthday with a Halloween party at the Commercial club. A splendid programme has been arranged for the evening and several other features also will make the celebration an interesting one.

Everyone who is interested in making Salem beautiful is invited to attend.

The Silver Belle circle of the W. O. W. held a meeting at the McCormack hall on Friday evening. Officers were elected during the evening and later refreshments were served.

A number of members from out of town chapters attended the meeting.

Mrs. Bertha Leach, grand banker of Portland, was among the visitors.

Thursday evening the younger members of the South Salem Friends church entertained the older members and their friends at a chicken pie supper in the church basement.

Mrs. J. W. Woodruff of Kaiser Bottom, left Saturday for Eugene, where she will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Jenkins (Rae Woodruff), for a couple of weeks.

Salem girls who take part in the Dress Up Week Show at the Oregon theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be able to say that they have appeared with a head-liner. It will be the truth for Miss Mabel Vaughan who is one of the professional models to be featured in the merchants' show comes from one of the foremost garment shops in America. Every woman has heard of "Luelle" (Lady Duff Gordon) and her wonderful Fifth avenue shop. Every woman has heard of the grace, the superb carriage and the winsome beauty of the living mannikins who have done their share in making Lucille creations true works of art.

Miss Vaughan was with the Lucille establishment before coming to the Pacific Coast. She is supposed to be one of the best, if not the foremost, model that has ever appeared on the Pacific coast and has taken a prominent part in all of the big style shows held in the Pacific northwest this season.

She is quiet and refined, not a bit inclined to talk about herself or her work—just anxious to do everything possible to make the big co-operative merchants show a complete success. "Yes, I am from the east. I have worked in some of the bigger establishments. But what does that matter," was Miss Vaughan's answer to a request that she tell Salem folks something about her work in the big shops. "I am through with New York and modeling as a profession—that is after this Salem show. My contract with Mr. Allen closes with this appearance and I have plans for the future that I can hardly confide to the public," and so saying she moved her hand just a wee mite—enough to display a beautiful solitaire—which would imply a world of explanations to any girl.

Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris is visiting friends in Eugene and is the house guest of Mrs. R. S. Bryson. Thursday night Mrs. Harris was a guest at the brilliant charity ball given by the Thursday afternoon charity club, of which she formerly was a member.

Miss Bernice Craig has returned from Eugene, where she was the week end guest of friends at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beckley (Jennie Edgington) of Choisy, Mexico, who are visiting the latter's parents in Hood River, are being congratulated upon the advent of a son, born yesterday.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Beckley formerly attended the Willamette University.

TELLS PITIFUL STORY OF HIS WRECKED LIFE

"Old Bill Jones" for Whom Death Has Lost Its Sting, Writes to Paper

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28.—If sometime today or tomorrow the police "suicide wagon" picks up what remains of an old broken man with the letter "C." pinned to his shirt, they will know it's "Bill Jones," for whom death has lost its sting.

To a local paper Bill wrote a letter telling his life story and asking that the morgues be watched.

"When I was a small boy I heard mother and father quarreling over an act of mine," Bill wrote. "I don't believe he is my son! I overheard my father say, 'I learned subsequently he lied, and it broke mother's heart.'

"The night he died he said, 'Son, your father is going—rubb my arms.' I said 'No!'

"The night after his burial I climbed the cemetery gates and beat his grave with my fists. I was only a boy."

"Mother's heart was always broken and the night the wind blew so, she died sobbing."

"I swore when I grew to be a man I'd be different. That was 40 years ago. But I broke a sweet girl's heart and my own son disowned me—death has no sting, but when I'm gone I know I'll be listening for the 'thumping on the grave.'

"Why do I tell you this? Because the price which I said 'would keep me to the end' is gone and I am weakened and crying and my chalice is empty and I am deeply ashamed and afraid and am reaching desperately through the mail for the touch of a human hand.

"Oh am I mad?"

"BILL JONES."

Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my

All-University Pool Shows Wilson Trend

Eugene, Or., Oct. 28.—President Wilson is the favorite of the students and faculty of the University of Oregon according to the figures obtained today in an all-university poll, conducted by the Oregon Emerald, with Dean Eric Allen of the journalism department acting in the capacity of "county clerk."

The count is now being made and at 4 o'clock yesterday the vote stood 292 for President Wilson to 272 for Candidate Hughes.

Then seniors and faculty voted 84 to 75 for Wilson, the sophomores broke even, 65-65, and the juniors voted 50 to 59 for Hughes, making the three classes and faculty split even with 199 votes for each candidate. The freshmen vote is not all counted, but shows 93 to 73 for Wilson.

The students used sample ballots and voted for all candidates and for all the measures that are submitted to the voters in the regular election. From incomplete returns it is evident the brewers' amendment is defeated and the "dry" amendment is sustained.
