MYSTERIOUS BOXES ARRIVING DAILY STIR FEMININE CURIOSITY

Living Models to Display Beautiful Importations for Occasion

This morning's express brought many mysterious packages consigned to Salem merchants and marked "Rush." All the women folk of Salem are interested in the contents of those mysterious boxes because they contained the very latest word in late fall and winter fashions.

Almost without a single exception the merchants of Salem have made special arrangements and gone to a great deal of expense and trouble to make the Living Model Show at the Oregon theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights the best part of Dress Up week. All of the leading style authorities of America will be represented in the Dress Up show with the very finest creations in their lines. Garments that range in price from the most inexpensive to the most elaborate will be shown in order that every woman, no matter how small her allowance may be, will see something that appeals to her taste and pocketbook.

And the men models—they will be the hit of the merchants show. Little has been said about them because Salem men are bashful and Manager Allen did not want to injure his chances of securing men by saying anything about this most important part of the show until the men were in and ready for the first performance. They are ready now and everybody who goes to the Style Show will be treated to a real surprise because of the most excellent back ground that the five popular young men make for the bevy of pretty girls who will wear and display the finest garments from Salem's leading stores.

Every big store in town today is displaying the photograph of a local girl in the windows with the caption "Our nominee in the Dress Up Week Style Show—Vote for her." And all the stores are getting behind their favorites with the determination that they will see her the winner. All the clerks are entering into the fun and are hustling votes with the ability of experienced campaigners. There is bound to be a surprise in the voting contest, according to Manager Allen, as several of the local girls are showing up so well in the rehearsals that the public will have a hard time in determining which one is really the best model.

Tomorrow the local girls and the professional models will spend the day in the local stores having their garments fitted and the necessary alterations made. Then the millinery shops and the shoe shops will be visited and the entire wardrobe for the twelve girls assembled and tagged with the names of the models so that the many changes to be made by each girl can be made quickly and the show staged with a snap that will surely stamp it as an unparalleled artistic success.

The stage settings arrived this morning from Portland and a corps of stage carpenters and electricians are at work on the opening scene that will not only shine any stage setting ever used in a fashion show in Oregon. The Oregon theatre will have a special display built in its lobby, which will be unveiled promptly at 7:30 Wednesday night at the same time the store windows are uncovered and the Dress Up feature of Salem Week will be on.

Wilson and Bryan Brand Lodge's Statement As Deliberate Falsehood

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 31.—President Wilson last night characterized as "untrue" the statement made by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts to the effect that the president had seriously considered adding a weakening postscript to his Lusitania note.

The president telegraphed to Walter Lippmann of New York, editor of the New Republic, replying to a message from Mr. Lippmann regarding Senator Lodge's statement.

Telegram is Denial
The president's telegram follows: "In reply to your telegram let me say that the statement made by Senator Lodge is untrue. No postscript of amendment to the Lusitania note ever written or contemplated by me except such changes that I myself inserted which strengthened and emphasized the protest. It was suggested after the note was ready that proposal for arbitration would be acceptable and one member of the cabinet spoke to me about it, but it was never discussed in cabinet meeting and no threat of any resignation was ever made, for the very good reason that I rejected the suggestion after giving it such consideration as I thought every proposal deserved which touched so grave a matter."

It was inconsistent with the purpose of the note. The public is in possession of everything that was said to the German government. (Signed)—"Woodrow Wilson."

No Postscript, Says Bryan
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, denied here last night that there was any truth in the story that a postscript had been written to the Lusitania note advising the German government the strong language in the note should not be taken seriously, and that later the postscript was withdrawn.

"I take it for granted," Mr. Bryan said, "that the president will deal with the matter as he deems wise, if indeed any attention need be paid Mr. Breckinridge's denial."

Mr. Bryan would make no further comment except to call attention to the fact that his resignation was not tendered at the time the first Lusitania note, to which the alleged postscript was attached was written, but at the time the second note was written, which was nearly a month later.

AMBASSADOR DENIES STORY IN OUTLOOK

Says Only Interview Was With Gonzales and This Is "Garbled"

Washington, Oct. 31.—Mexican Ambassador Arredondo today formally denied to Secretary of State Lansing the authenticity of an interview attributed to Mexican Commissioner Cabrera, given out by the Mexican news bureau here last Saturday.

Secretary Lansing accepted the explanation of the incident and said he considered it closed. Upon instructions from General Carranza, Arredondo also told Lansing that the interviews with Carranza, General Obregon and Foreign Secretary Aguilar, appearing in the Outlook this week, were not given by the officials quoted. The only interview which the Outlook representative obtained, Arredondo told Lansing, was one with General Gonzales and that, he said, the Outlook printed incorrectly.

Gonzales is quoted as saying he would prefer Hughes for president over Wilson. What he did say, according to Arredondo, was that whoever was elected, the Mexican government hoped for more cordial relations with the United States. Arredondo said Gonzales, when questioned by the interviewer, refused to state his presidential preference.

minutes. He has been campaigning in the state in the interest of the prohibitory amendment.

"President Wilson will carry Nebraska," said the former secretary of state, "and the state prohibitory amendment will be adopted."

Mr. Bryan said he had received a large number of telegrams from eastern newspapers and politicians asking him to confirm or deny the statement of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge regarding the postscript to the Lusitania note. All of these telegrams were ignored, he said.

After his brief statement, Mr. Bryan refused further to discuss the Lusitania postscript incident.

The dining room was decorated appropriately for the occasion and the sisters came with well filled baskets, and oh how the table did groan under the weight of so many good things.

This was the first attempt of the new lodge at entertaining, but reports say it was not to be the last.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation as the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphate hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness, others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.
