

SURVIVAL OF THE PUREST

Sweet Caporal is the only cigarette to survive the test of forty years on the market and remain a national favorite, steadily gaining in popularity. Because in four decades the cigarette industry has been unable to produce a better cigarette. Sweet Caporal is the purest cigarette that can be made with a pure tobacco flavor that has never been duplicated in any other cigarette at any price.

CIGARETTE PURITY PROVED IN BLACK AND WHITE

Smokers who watch the interesting Sweet Caporal demonstration have the proof of Sweet Caporal purity in black and white. The demonstrators explain that this pure, tasteless, odorless, Sweet Caporal paper—the purest and best in the world—is imported from France.

IN EVERY CIVILIZED COUNTRY—"SWEETS"

Sweet Caporal cigarettes are smoked in every civilized country on the globe. The world-wide demand for Sweet Caporal grows without advertising of any kind—a remarkable record of this famous original cigarette.

SWEET CAPORAL—paper burns with a pure white ash

Ask Dad, he knows.

THE FIRST SMOKE

Nearly every man has started smoking with famous old Sweet Caporal, the original cigarette.

"GOOD OLD SWEETS"

That is the name by which Sweet Caporal cigarettes are affectionately known to millions of smokers.

AMONG BALL PLAYERS

No other cigarette enjoys the widespread popularity of Sweet Caporal. Hundreds of big league star players smoke "Sweets," because their purity insures wholesome enjoyment.

SWEET CAPORAL IN THE SERVICE

In the U. S. Army and Navy Sweet Caporal cigarettes are a universal favorite, and have been for over forty years. Today at every officers' mess, at every fort and on every battleship, Sweet Caporal will be found—a familiar feature of the Service.

Ricks are Taken and Fun Produced by Florence Family—Clever Skits and Beautiful Girls in Daring and Smart Gowns Are Some of Bill's Attractions

A bright bill with many laughs and plenty of surprises is headlined by an unusually good act by the Florence Troupe at the Hippodrome. The Florence Troupe is one of the best known and most skillful of vaudeville acrobats, and comprises a family that is daring and clever. Much attention centers about the young girl of the troupe who is very pretty. Her part in the act is as great as that of any of the four men or the other women. However, all of them are good and the act wins much applause.

ers and Brockway, who provide no end of fun for the audience. A clever young policeman and a blackface comedian are in the act.

Magic illusions and comedy are presented by Johnson and Arthur, who provide a clever opening act. There is fun of make believe mesmerism and jokes and stunts galore.

Homecoming Day at University of Oregon

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Nov. 3.—All citizens of Oregon, whether alumni of the state university or not, are invited to Homecoming day, Saturday, the feature of which will be the great struggle between the University of Oregon and the University of Washington for football supremacy.

An especially urgent invitation is extended to all the alumni. Plenty of excitement for entertainment awaits them. Friday night an old-time rally in Villard hall will be followed by the freshman bonfire. Carloads of material have been hauled in for the bonfire, which the class of 1920 says is the largest and most inflammable on record. A campus concert and luncheon will be given Saturday noon, and Saturday night the junior class will be given an informal dance in the armory for the visitors. A reception committee of 50 persons will receive the "old grads" and welcome them back to Alma Mater.

Coch Bzdek is ready for the game. Johnnie Parsons is to play, having been decided eligible by both the faculty athletic committee and the advisory committee of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference. The men who start the game will probably be the same as those who started against California and dubbed the great Bear State team by 29 to 14.

sums for expansion, was issued late yesterday by Circuit Judge Mandell on petition of Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers, who hold 10 per cent of the stock of the Ford company. The petitioners seek to force the Ford company to declare special dividends, which, they assert, the Ford company is earning, instead of putting the money back into the business in extensions.

One of the sensational declarations of the bill is the statement that the Ford management is jeopardizing the interests of the Dodge by "reckless proposed extension to be entered upon, in carrying out the policy of expansion."

Colgate will send a strong team against Yale. The Yale team, as usual, is reported to be crippled, but crippled Yale teams have done so much damage to opponents this year that the report is being taken with a silent chuckle.
