NEW HAMPSHIRE MAY REQUIRE RECOUNT

Vote So Close and Claims So Contradictory This May Be Necessary

By Perry Arnold. (United Press staff correspondent.) New York, Nov. 9.—The presidential fight is still undecided. At 8 o'clock today neither President Wilson nor Charles E. Hughes had shown a sufficient number of electoral votes in the count of ballots so far made to insure election.

The United States canvass at that hour showed the democratic nominee slightly in the lead, with 251 against Hughes 243. Thirty-seven electoral votes were still in doubt—representing the states of California, Minnesota, New Mexico, North Dakota and New Hampshire. Wilson needs 15 votes for a majority and Hughes needed 23.

California or Minnesota, plus any one of the other doubtful states, would give the presidency to Wilson; while Hughes if he did not carry both California and Minnesota (which, together, would give him more than his 23 votes) needed one of these with all the others to obtain the necessary 206.

The situation today, therefore, was one which pulled taut the already overstrained nerves of political managers. It was responsible for more acrimonious exchanges between the two sides than heretofore marked the campaign. It brought warnings from Democratic Chairman McCormick to his cohorts to "guard ballot boxes" lest there be tampering. It inspired Republican Chairman Willcox bitterly to reply that anyone intimating theft of votes by republicans "was a contemptible scoundrel," and issued a warning himself against stealing of the presidency by the democrats.

In at least one state—New Hampshire—a recount and court action may be necessary to reconcile flatly contradictory claims from both sides, based on complete returns. Reports from West Virginia, credited to Hughes on the face of incomplete returns but claimed as democratic by the Wilson supporters, indicated tenseness of the partisan quarrel there might result in some of the "shotgun" activity which marked the famous Hays-Tilden presidential controversy of 1876—the political mixup most nearly paralleling the present situation.

McCormick Claims A4. New York, Nov. 9.—"On information received up to 4 a. m. today, we are absolutely sure of California, North Dakota and New Mexico," National Democratic Chairman McCormick declared today.

"We are making a fight for Minnesota," he added, "and are satisfied it is

BOMB DISCOVERED AT NEWSPAPER OFFICE

Was Found In Suit Case In Time to Prevent Explosion

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 9.—But 10 minutes stood between the discovery of a bomb in front of the office of the Hayward Journal this morning and the time set for the explosion of the instrument of destruction, and for several minutes the lives of officials were in jeopardy. The bomb, similar in all respects to the one that caused the death and destruction during the San Francisco preparedness parade, is now in the office of Sheriff Frank Barnett and a county-wide search is being made for the dynamiters. Officials in surrounding counties have also been notified and are lending their efforts to apprehend the bomb-jets. William Rose, arrested near the office of the Hayward Journal, is in the county jail but the officials are not sure that he had anything to do with the placing of the bomb. He maintains his innocence.

Discovery of the suit case bomb was made by Nightwatchman Fred Schilling. Schilling was patrolling his beat when at the corner he stumbled on to the suit case. His attention was immediately riveted to his find by the ticking of a clock in the case and he fled for safety.

Alarming a number of others, Schilling returned with them to the Journal office. A hose was attached to a fire hydrant and a stream of water played upon the suit case until the water had stopped the clock. The case was then opened and the contents revealed.

DELEWARE IS FOR HUGHES

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 9.—The completed count of Delaware gives Hughes a plurality of 806. For United States senator Josiah O. Wolcott, dem., defeated Senator Du Pont, rep., by 2053. Representative Miller was defeated for reelection by Albert F. Polk, dem., by 50 votes.

Hughes Has 811. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—With 288 precincts missing Hughes leads by 811. The democrats are preparing to meet a contest while the republicans seem to be getting in shape in case the count is against them. Federal investigators are already here and are watching every move.

Majority Is Out. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—With 474 precincts missing, Hughes is 510 in the state. The figures are: Hughes 168,709; Wilson 168,190.

HOW THE LEADERS LOVE ONE ANOTHER

Each Claims the Others Are "As Usual Up To Some Crooked Work"

New York, Nov. 9.—Democratic National Chairman McCormick at 1:30 a. m. gave out the following statement in reply to another issued at 12:25 a. m. by Republican National Chairman Willcox:

"President Wilson is re-elected and Mr. Willcox shows that he is aware of that fact. His wall in reply to the charge of some imaginary person that some one expects Mr. Hughes or his manager will try to secure the election through fraud, is worthy of the best traditions of the republican party.

"The public has had a chance to judge the conduct of the campaigns of the two candidates and I am perfectly willing to let the people decide which side will resort to desperate methods."

Don't Trust Democrats. New York, Nov. 9.—"We don't trust the democrats any farther than they are said to have remarked they would trust us," was George W. Perkins' retort today when asked for comment on the statement of Henry Morgenthau, democratic finance chairman, hinting at republican "counting out" of democratic votes.

"We are taking just as many precautions as the democrats," Perkins said.

Perkins said his tabulation showed 207 electoral votes for Hughes—not including California.

Perkins stated that returns at 6 o'clock this morning indicated that Hughes would carry New Mexico by 600. He declared there no longer was any doubt regarding New Mexico.

Claim Unfair Officials. New York, Nov. 9.—Charge that the republican election officials in New Hampshire were unfair in the vote count there, by which they gave the state to Hughes by 161 votes, was made today by Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the democratic finance committee.

"We will demand and get a recount there," he said. "It will be very queer if we cannot gain 150 to 200 votes in this way. The republicans control the election machinery and it is only natural that a recount would give us a gain under such circumstances. These officials have given us no vote we were not entitled to and they have taken a large number of votes away from us that we are entitled to."

Morgenthau's charge was in answer to a statement by George W. Perkins.

Some Expectations But Not Fulfilled

New York, Nov. 9.—Republican headquarters expects positively and finally to announce the election of Governor Hughes to the presidency, possibly within an hour. Chairman Willcox formally stated just before 2 o'clock.

"This announcement may come within the hour," said Willcox. "However, it is entirely possible it may be delayed until around midnight. The situation looks more and more favorable for Mr. Hughes. I feel certain both California and Minnesota will be added to the Hughes column."

MAIN SOLID FOR HUGHES

Portland, Me., Nov. 9.—Maine has recorded the heaviest presidential vote ever cast in this state with the exception of that at the "Greenback" election in 1880, giving Hughes a plurality of 3118. He had 68,545 against 63,427 for President Wilson.

WEST VIRGINIA IS CONCEDED TO HUGHES

Democratic Leader Gives It Up As Returns Show 4,000 Hughes

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 9.—West Virginia appeared at 2 o'clock this afternoon to have given its electoral vote of eight to Charles Evans Hughes. It has swung backward and forward—though Hughes always maintained a lead of at least 1,000—since early yesterday.

Democratic State Chairman Chaver conceded it to Hughes by 2,500 when returns showed the republican nominee leading by more than 4000 with only 200 precincts missing. The republicans claimed the state for Robinson for governor by a slight majority and declared they have elected four congressmen.

Fairmont, W. Va., Nov. 9.—C. C. Chaver, chairman of the West Virginia democratic committee denies he has conceded the state to Hughes and claims it for Wilson by 1500.

Charles P. Ohling Is Secretary of Club

Albany, Or., Nov. 9.—The Albany Commercial club has elected Charles P. Ohling secretary of that organization to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of W. A. Eastburn, who is retiring to enter the grocery business.

Mr. Ohling has been in publicity and newspaper work for the past four years. He is at present city editor of the Albany Evening Herald and held a similar position with the Capital Journal at Salem before coming to Albany.

The club is now centering its efforts on a big manufacturers' banquet which will be held next Monday evening when the merits of the different factories of this section will be discussed.
