

BIRTH OF A NATION AT GRAND MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Henry B. Walthall, who plays Ben Cameron in 'The Birth of a Nation', is now being presented at the Grand theatre Monday and Tuesday was born on a cotton plantation in Shelby county, Alabama. He was educated at home by a private tutor with his brothers and sisters. Besides swimming in the river, riding and good hard work he did not indulge in any particular sports and did not see many people, as the nearest neighbor was three miles away. When he later went to New York he appeared to advantage in the Civil War drama 'Winchester,' in which he played the part of Captain Clay Rauldolph; 'Under Southern Skies' as Steve Danbury and in 'Old Point Comfort.'

Birth of a Nation at Grand Theatre, Mon.-Tues.

The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging 'The Birth of a Nation,' is almost appalling—at least to the devotees of the older forms of theatrical entertainment. Where now are the little groups of actors, the pinch-beck scenery and the petty properties of the so-called 'legitimate' drama? By comparison with the new art, the 'legitimate' measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background Griffith has used nature. For subject he has covered 100 years of American life and history. Eighteen thousand people have done his bidding and in the hair-raising rides of the Ku Klux Klan 3,000 riders and horses sweep over the dusty roads. No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entirely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacles with an orchestral score perfectly synchronized to the action. It has also created a tremendous sensation because of its vaster and more forceful treatment of the theme of Thomas Dixon's 'The Glenside,' which both as book and play created the greatest furor of the last decade. The great deeds of the Civil war and the horrors of Reconstruction are made to live again and the nation re-born is apothecized. Mr. Griffith, pioneer among directors, managed this stupendous achievement without the aid of dialogue or speech, for motion pictures with music and effects tell vividly this thrilling tale of 50 years ago.

AFTER HIGH COST OF LIVING

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Ohio state mine workers through their executive board today sent resolutions to President Wilson and Governor Willis demanding national and state investigations of the high cost of living.

AGED MINISTER DEAD

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—Rev. William Shaw Harrington for 35 years one of the leading Methodist preachers in the northwest, died at his home here yesterday, of heart disease. He was 84 years of age, and had been on the retired list for six years. He edited the Pacific Christian Advocate for four years.

Miss Mary Schultz at Oregon Theatre

Under the auspices of the Salem Women's club, Miss Mary Schultz, violin virtuoso, will be presented in an appreciation concert at the Oregon theatre, Tuesday evening, November 14, from 7 until 11:30 o'clock.

Miss Schultz will be assisted by Mr. Stuart McGuire, baritone, and Miss Vera Kitchner, pianist, of Portland, and Mrs. Alfred Schramm, piano accompanist.

Miss Schultz is an artist of musical ability, possessing a charming personality, and has given freely of her time and talent to the Salem public for several years. She is an advanced pupil of William Wallace Graham and will leave November 19 for Chicago to continue her musical studies. As her future success depends entirely upon her own efforts, it is sincerely hoped that Salem people will show their appreciation by coming out en masse for this concert.

TELEGRAPHIC TABLOIDS

Chicago.—Frank Force made a freak bet with Miss Stella Mayer, a Wilsonite. Today, Force, adorned in Miss Mayer's coat and hat, carried a banner 'I voted for Hughes,' half an hour on Michigan boulevard.

Chicago.—Michael Sukalski, wanted to die. He jumped into the river. When he was rescued he said the water was too cold and would rather die where it was warm.

DEUTSCHLAND IS LOADED

New London, Conn., Nov. 11.—With her cargo, said to be worth half a million, tucked snugly aboard, the German submarine merchantman Deutschland is expected at any time to begin her return trip to Bremen. Reports in some quarters today were that she would begin her dash within 48 hours.

The Utah Copper company's September production of porphyry copper amounted to over 20,000,000 pounds.

MOVEMENT IN HOPS

The hop market was quite active Friday and Saturday and a number of lots changed hands. Those reported were John Murray, 102 bales, to Irvin & Wood at 11 1/4 cents; the Kennedy lot at Woodburn, 224 bales, to Seavey at 10 cents; the Muecke lot of 239 bales, to the Wolf Hop company at 11 cents; the Ed B. Miller lot of 70 bales to L. I. Gribble for McVeff Bros., at 11 cents; the Drescher lot of 40 bales to Gribble at 11 cents.—Aurora Observer.

GOT DATES MIXED

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—Due to some misunderstanding as to the date of the inter-club meet between the Multnomah club of Portland and the Seattle Athletic club grapplers and boxers, Eddie O'Connell and four athletes are on their way home to Portland today. They arrived here yesterday a week ahead of the schedule.

PHILLIPS, SMALLER AND PARY BELAREN IN 'SAVING THE FAMILY NAME' of fat for the month of October, 9 over 50 pounds, 2 over 70, and one, a grade Jersey owned by J. B. Bowne of Turner, made 1,460 pounds of milk containing 82.05 pounds of fat, 4 cows of this herd have produced more than 70 pounds of fat in a single month since the first of the year. The cows were all sired by the same bull, Hazel Ferns Tormentor, bred by Mr. Ladd, of Portland. The dams of these cows were purchased for from $12 to $17 per head, showing the importance of a worthy sire at the head of the herd. Every member of this association now owns or uses a pure bred bull. Consider the number of good bull calves being knocked in the head at birth there is no reason why any dairymen in the country should not procure a well bred animal at a reasonable price. This is particularly true of the Jersey breed owing to the over supply and the only breeders who have no bulls for sale are those who have national reputations. There are some local cows on official test making splendid records. Frank Doerfler has a little Jersey, starting her test as a senior two-year-old without proper rest which is finishing her year with 600 pounds of butter to her credit. A bull calf from this wonderful little cow is for sale. Her first bull calf took second in his class at the State fair and was sold there.

Fox Bros. have some fine calves sired by Foxhalls Fern Lad the sire of the cow. Mr. Kuenzi has had no trouble in selling all his Holstein bull calves promptly but has one which was discriminated against because he carried too much black. It is unfortunate that the Holsteins should have this color craze as this calf is from Mr. Kuanze's highest testing and best show cow.

The average cow in the association produced 22.33 pounds fat in October. The best herd average was again made by Fox Bros. with 12 cows averaging over 40 pounds fat per cow at 14 cents food cost per pound fat. This food cost does not compare so favorably with the reports of some associations but no expense is concealed in this case, interest and full values being charged against the cow. The test work is to prove which cow is profitable and which unprofitable and members deceive themselves by under-valuing.
