

NEW TODAY

WILL ASK $225,000 FOR THE STATE FAIR

Wants Large Part of This for New Buildings—It Covers Premium List

A. H. Lea, secretary of the state fair board, will ask the next legislature to appropriate the sum of $225,000 for the purpose of building at the fair grounds a livestock coliseum at an approximate cost of $125,000, a woman's building to cost approximately $40,000, and to remodel the dairy barn for a fire department at a probable cost of $25,000, to erect 600 yards of woven wire fence about the grounds at a cost of $18,000, to drill two wells for the estimated sum of $15,000. The general sum includes premiums for two years.

This estimate is said to be less than estimates for other years when buildings are asked for by the fair management. In 1915 the appropriation for improvements was all spent in the new buildings erected so that in 1916 the present management had nothing to work on. Secretary Lea said that the improvements this past year were taken out of the gate receipts.

On account of the large demand for a suitable building in which to house live stock exhibitions, judging, and for large gatherings it is deemed necessary to build coliseum. The Oregon Live Stock Breeders Association, an organization composed of members of other breeders associations, have passed resolutions urging the legislature to pass such an appropriation. At the last state fair the large tent housing horse show had 4100 seats and it was filled to overflowing at 6:30 o'clock every evening. With convict labor it is believed the state could build such a structure for $125,000 which is about $15,000 less than like buildings are said to cost in other states.

Women's Clubs Back It. The Women's Federated Clubs are back of the movement for an appropriation for the women's building, which is planned to house the art and textile departments. Plans for a 400,000 building have already been drawn. It is pointed out that artists will not send their work for exhibition unless there is a suitable place to exhibit and protect the pieces.

If it were not for the leasing of the fire truck by the Salem fire department and the Ford chemical and the two hand chemicals by A. G. Long of Portland, the new pavilion and the cattle barns would have been burned. As the state carries no insurance on its buildings the loss would have been considerable and it is proposed to safeguard the buildings and contents by remodeling the dairy barn into a fire department.

The water supply at the last state fair was about one-half what was necessary, according to Secretary Lea, and accordingly he plans to have two and that the statutory limitation is set at a day demurrage. He agreed concerted action advisable.

W. R. Scott, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad, in a letter to the public service commission, enclosed a letter from General Freight Agent Cameron of the Illinois Central Railroad regarding the car shortage situation and demurrage rates. Cameron cites California demurrage rate of $3 a day after the first 48 hours free time and points out that in four months California placed 491,886 cars for loading and unloading and that only 1.74 per cent were held beyond free time. Of this percentage 98.26 per cent were released within the free time, 30 per cent before free time began or immediately on arrival, five per cent on first day of free time, and 19 per cent on the second free day. With this scheme in vogue on their lines, Cameron said it would release a thousand cars a day for traffic and would facilitate the handling and distribution of cars.

Certificates of dissolution were granted to the "Holloway & Co. Inc., of Corvallis, and Willis-Johnstone Co. of Klamath Falls.

William Spruille, president of the Southern Pacific, advises the public service commission that relief is in sight for Oregon's car famine as 500 new box cars are enroute from the east to this state. He said 50 new cars would be received each day from the builders. J. H. Dyer, assistant general manager, says that 70 new box cars are enroute to Oregon from the east. Of the 500 new box cars enroute west.

An action for the recovery of money alleged to be due on a promissory note of $1900 was begun yesterday in the circuit court by the Bank of Woodburn against W. F. Miller and Magdalene K. Miller and the Salem Brewery. Judgment for the amount of the note, interest, insurance and attorneys fees are asked of the court.

Divorces were granted yesterday by Judge Galloway to Mrs. Gettrude Hixon from Leonard Brassfield Hixon with custody of their five year old daughter, to Mrs. Pauline J. Josse from Louis E. Josse after living together for 32 years and raising a family that has grown majority of J. E. Shaveland from Elizabeth Shaveland on the grounds of desertion.

A marriage license was issued by the county clerk to Frank Joe Trumble, a butcher of Portland, and Sarah Ida Kaiser, of Silverton.

Frank T. Wrightman and A. A. Lee, who are expediting the books of the county officers, are now working on the county clerk's accounts. They have just finished the books of the county treasurer up to date.

The final account of Albert Whitlock as administrator of the estate of Elizabeth Whitlock, deceased, has been approved, and as no objections have been made, the same is being carried over to the next session.

Latest Report From Doubtful States

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Complete official returns from 32 of the 58 counties in California, as received by the United Press at 3 p. m. today gave Wisconsin a net gain of 82 over the plurality he was given in the unofficial returns.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 14.—Newspapermen checking over unofficial figures made a new total which added 424 net to Hughes. This new figure is no more official than the old one. Official returns from other counties, however, added 73 to Hughes lead. In their latest editions the newspapers give the following figures as Hughes lead in state at that time: Minneapolis News 191; Minneapolis Journal 321; Minneapolis Tribune 321; St. Paul News 191; and St. Paul Dispatch 1,986.

Hughes Gains 100. Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 14.—The discovery of an error in the Los Angeles tally from the Watts, Cal. precinct No. 4 gives Hughes 100 votes in addition to the unofficial figure credited to him. The error was discovered on a tally sheet. In carrying over an amount only 42 was carried over instead of 142.

CITY NEWS

On Sunday night a trusty at the penitentiary took an unasked for leave of absence and has not been seen since. His name is Dennis and he was committed to Tillamook county. He had about a year of his sentence yet to serve.

The Business Men's League of the Commercial club and the Retail Grocers' association will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club. The Business Men's League will have present a number of speakers of importance that will interest the business men of the city.

Western cranberries will be served with the Salem Thanksgiving turkey as the berries grown in Coos county and Washington, are finding favor with the good housekeepers, especially as the western cranberry does not require so much sugar as those grown in Michigan and New Jersey.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid society of Oregon is making its annual appeal for funds and donations just prior to Thanksgiving. The work of the society is increasing, and while the cost of living has materially increased, the income has decreased considerably. This makes imperative the need of the society securing a large number of donations as well as about $5,000 in cash. During the past year the society has aided 881 children. It has also done great work in aiding crippled children, those who would not be helped except through such an organization. The books of the society are audited quarterly and every dollar received is accounted for. E. E. Arne is superintendent of the society and his address is East 29th and Irving streets.

Nothing like having a penitentiary handy when in trouble. The combination of the large safe in the Drager Fruit company's office refused to work yesterday morning and as a result, something had to be done pretty quick to get into that safe. After calling on half a dozen skilled mechanics in Salem to come and open the safe, and all refused, there was but one thing left to do and that was to call on the penitentiary for an expert. Said expert, who formerly worked in a safe factory, arrived on the scene and after carefully turning the knob and listening to the action of the delicate machinery, opened the door of the case with no trouble whatever. It all depends on knowing how.

RAILROAD QUESTION LOOMS UP ONCE MORE

Senate Committee to Meet Monday to Act on Strike Lumination

Washington, Nov. 14.—The railroad question loomed up again today as threatening to overshadow, as it did in the closing days of congress, all other questions before the administration. Conferences in New York between the railroad heads and the brotherhood heads over the operation of the Adamson law, providing the eight hour day, having failed to bring an agreement, the administration is keeping a close eye on developments.

It is the belief here that no complete disagreement can result between the employees and the men, with a consequent renewed call for a strike, without interference by President Wilson. The question of strike prevention is expected to be foremost among those discussed by the joint house and senate committee, headed by Senator Newlands, when it begins meeting here next Monday. This committee, appointed before the recent crisis, will hear arguments for and against various arbitration plans.

Just in advance of the committee's sessions, the national labor council and the chamber of commerce of the United States will discuss the same questions. Many members favor legislation that would make it a crime to interrupt public service. They suggested legislation to permit labor to appeal to the interstate commerce commission just as a shipper can appeal in the case of rates, and permitting him to cease work, say, within 30 days after a decision of the commission. These ideas are embodied in the call for the council's meeting made public today. Union labor will fight them bitterly.

Newland's committee also will have many other phases of the railroad question before it, including state versus federal regulation. Meeting here today, state commissioners from all parts of the country threshed over this question. For the most part, the state commissioners are inclined to resist the movement toward strengthening federal authority over railroads, at the expense of lessened state control. Chairman Meyer of the interstate commerce commission, in a welcoming speech to the state commissioners, urged closer cooperation between his commission and the state commissions.

Annual Banquet and Rally Tomorrow

The first annual banquet and rally of the Salem Baptist Brotherhood will be held in the First Baptist church tomorrow evening at half past 6 o'clock. This is a new organization of the men of the church and congregation, in fact the organization is not yet completed. All the men of the church and congregation have been invited, and about 75 have signified their purpose to be present. Theodore Roth is president of this brotherhood. Supper will be served by the Women's Industrial society of the church.

After supper with Dr. G. F. Holt, the pastor, acting as toastmaster, an interesting program will be presented including the following responses to toasts. The general theme of the evening is "Men and an Efficient Church." "The War Chest," H. S. Gile, "All At It and Always At It," W. H. Trimble, "The Old Reaching Vision," Dr. F. H. Thompson, "Catch That Man," W. F. Foster, "As I See It," Pros. Theodore Roth. During the evening John Breer will sing several solos and the men will sing the national brotherhood song, "Every Man a Personal Worker." The men are looking forward to an enjoyable time.

The level of the market upward, only to subside shortly after. But there was no definite trend for long at any time. The churning process which reflects Wall Street's effort to find himself after basing most of its commitments for a fortnight or more on Mr. Hughes' election, was in the main a professional movement. There was further erratic movements in United States Steel and Central Leather, which perhaps, better illustrate the course of prices throughout the list. Steel opened at 129 1/2, 1-8 off. It subsequently moved forward nearly two points to 132 1/2, later reacted to 129 1/2 and one more advanced above 121. The movements of Central Leather were broader. In the early trading that issue sold 7-8 below Monday at 105 and immediately sank to 102 1/2. An hour or so later it was selling above 109 and thereafter moved for the most part below 107. There was a break upward movement in the general list in the late session. Steel again crossed 122. Smelters advanced to 115.

The entertainment committee of the Elks will offer the boys something special Thursday evening in the way of the W. J. Cole entertainers—something different from the rest.

State House News
Federal Service Inspectors Wisconsin and Tarbell were inspecting yesterday the reports of the railroads submitted to the public service commission. The object was to compare the reports submitted to the state with the reports submitted to the government respecting the incomes of the various utilities.
George M. Brown, attorney general, and Assistant Attorney General Bailey are in Jacksonville today for the purpose of representing the state of Oregon in the Hyde-Benson land cases which are up in Jackson county.
In a communication to the public service commission the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway this morning stated the reasons of their refusal of the application of W. H. Hiatt of Albany for the erection of a shelter shed on Geary street, Albany. The railroad says it finds no reason to change its present situation as in ten days only 12 persons boarded the train at that point. They say it is not a regular station and that the company would have to construct shelter sheds on various streets in various cities if they did it this time. Besides they point out that depot is near with good walks leading to it.
The public service commission of Washington state wired the Oregon commission this morning as to its attitude regarding publishing demurrage tariffs intrastate effective after one day's notice providing for $2 for the first day, $3 for the second day, and $4 for the third day and $5 for the fifth and each succeeding day. The Washington commission asks whether the carriers have filed with the Oregon board petitions of like nature and states it believes concerted action in this matter advisable.
An unofficial reply by Secretary Ostrander states that no such petitions have been received from the carriers by the Oregon commission. He states the demurrage rates are made by order of the commission and cannot be changed until the November 24 hearing and that the statutory limitation is set at a day demurrage. He agreed concerted action advisable.
W. R. Scott, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad, in a letter to the public service commission, enclosed a letter from General Freight Agent Cameron of the Illinois Central Railroad regarding the car shortage situation and demurrage rates. Market Fluctuated But Prices Unchanged. New York, Nov. 14.—The New York Evening Star financial review today said:
Not a little confusion attended the trading in today's stock market, what with mixed opinions as to prevailing conditions and rather disconcerting rumors of one kind or another. There was undoubtedly further extensive distribution of pool holdings. There was some profit taking on the wave crests that intermittently carried
