Miss Howard expects to spend the winter in the Southland and will visit relatives in Memphis, Holly Springs, and Aberdeen, going later to Knoxville, where she will pass the remainder of her stay as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Percy Lockett.

Miss Howard is a great favorite in Salem and will be missed during the season. A group of young girls gathered at the John O. Goltz residence on Court street recently to be guests at the charming Kensington for which Miss Helen Goltz was hostess.

The guests were Miss Barbara Steiner, Miss Beatrice Walton, Miss Irma Botsford, Miss Ethel McGilchrist, Miss Ruth Peringer, Miss Odell Savage, Miss Bather Cox, Miss Olive Mark, Miss Fannie McKennon, Miss Carolyn Dick, Miss Violet Maclean, Miss Mary Fink, Miss Maude McClean, Miss Margaret Fuller, Miss Nellie Beaver, Miss Margaret Garrison, Miss Laura Arenz, Miss Ruth Taske and Miss Lucile McCully.

Miss Junia Todd has as her guest her mother, Mrs. Minerva Todd, who has recently arrived in Salem to pass the winter months.

SALEM ASTONISHED BY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Salem people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. J. C. Perry, druggist.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Guyer, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davidson, on South Commercial street, have left for Oklahoma where they will make their home. Although Mr. and Mrs. Guyer have resided in Oregon for the past seven years, their property and business interests are in Oklahoma and it was for this reason that they decided to move there permanently.

Mrs. P. M. Rupert entertained informally at her home on the Pringle road on Wednesday afternoon.

Her guests were the members of the Round Dozen club and the hours were pleasantly whiled away with needlework and chatter. Mrs. F. E. Gearhart assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

Unique in every way was the Chinese dinner given Monday evening by Mrs. Amelia Cassalman. The room was redolent of incense and the decorations and appointments were all suggestive of the Chinese. After dinner Mrs. Cassalman entertained her guests at the Oregon theatre.

Those making up the party were Miss Eugenia McInturff, Miss Helen McInturff, and Harry and Earl Percy of Corvallis.

The members of the Eastern Star enjoyed an informal afternoon at their lodge rooms on Tuesday. Sewing occupied the fore part of the afternoon, followed by refreshments. The hostesses were Mrs. W. M. Smith, Mrs. T. C. Davidson, Mrs. Mendelsohn and Mrs. Amos Vass.

Mrs. P. B. Southwick left Wednesday for a few days visit in Seattle.

A delightful birthday party was given Saturday evening for Miss Fay Wells at her home on Hansen avenue. The evening was spent playing games and music, after which a dainty repast was served.

The guests were Miss Ruth Stewart, Miss Gladys Carson and Leigh Douglas Earl Cotton, Louis Stewart and Professor Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Pomeroy have returned from Portland where they have been visiting their son, Dr. Ray Pomeroy.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to Rev. and Mrs. Robert Gill upon the news of the death of their baby son, which occurred this morning in Portland.

The St. Paul's Episcopal social, which was to have been given at the rectory tonight has been postponed.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Larkin Williams, 1025 South Fir street.

Judge Decried He Should Pay Wife Wages

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16.—Dr. C. S. Tigard, of Tigardville, had a decree of divorce today, but by Judge Gautenbein's orders he was under obligation to pay his wife $600, which approximates $25 a month for the time they have been married.

The judge made this order after it was testified that Tigard paid the woman $25 a month while she was his housekeeper, before their marriage, and that after the wedding he gave her nothing. "It seems reasonable to suppose," said the judge, "that he married to get a servant for nothing."

Mrs. Tigard started the divorce proceedings, but Dr. Tigard filed a cross-complaint, alleging infidelity and got the decree. Dr. Tigard alleged he caught his wife with another man in Seattle, and that even after this episode he loved her so much he begged her to come home, saying she could have the best room in the house and go out with the "other man" two nights a week.

HOW ANY WOMAN CAN REMOVE HAIRY GROWTHS

It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.

excess of last week's orders at 124 mills. Shipments for last week amounted to 58,455,067 feet, which in turn was a gain of 10,000,000 feet over the shipments of the previous week, due to increases in local and cargo trade and the fact that 13 additional mills participated in this week's barometer.

Rail deliveries amounted to 39,600,000 feet, which was 20.88 per cent less than new business booked for future rail delivery. Home consumption accounts for 4,912,329 feet in the week's total of shipments, and the cargo trade takes care of the remainder—a matter of 13,942,738 feet.

In percentages, orders were practically equal to production and 14.83 per cent above shipments, which in turn were 29.24 per cent below normal.

traffic, as labor leaders were enjoined in the famous Pullman strike of 20 years ago. Work of formulating the government's course of action proceeded rapidly today, under direction of Assistant Attorney General E. M. Underwood and Solicitor General John Davis. It appeared likely the government would file a demurrer, claiming the Adamson law constitutional in answer to the railroads plea for an injunction restraining its enforcement. This would result in a straight away fight on the constitutionality of the act and would serve more quickly to bring the case before the supreme court.

the "yellow peril" favored by the American Federation of Labor, Andrew Furuseth, head of the Seamen's Union said today.

"We are not going to permit admission of Japanese or other orientals into the American Federation of Labor," Furuseth said. "It would be a wedge for the entrance into this country of thousands of orientals as laborers. If an attempt is made to admit them to the federation it will bring on a great fight."

It is planned instead, Furuseth said, to organize the Japanese, especially in their own country—give them labor unions and the power of organization generally. This plan, it is believed, will keep them out of this country, by giving them better living conditions at home.

"I am opposed to the admission of any of these laborers," stated Frank

Morrison, secretary of the federation. "We will stand for the restriction of all immigration and a literacy test that will keep out illiterates and incompetents generally. I do not think there will be any change from this policy."

B. Suzuki, Japanese labor leader, here attending the convention, in an address before the convention suggested sending Samuel Gompers to Japan to organize the workers of Nippon.

A resolution introduced asked the workmen of America to boycott the products of the two factories in Baltimore which, it is claimed, have imported gunmen as strike-breakers. Addresses by several delegates and the reading of resolutions comprised the morning session's business. The only resolution which created a stir was that which asked that the negro laborers of the south be organized and affiliated with the federation so they will not flood the north with labor in competition with white men.

day in this trade and also in the iron and steel industries."

There was much animated discussion today of the coming visit of the heads of the trainmen's bodies who are expected before the end of the week. The eight hour day will be viewed from all angles before the convention gets through and there will be an attempt to force investigation of the high cost of living.

The supplementary report of the executive council today dealt with the movement toward international peace and the part that labor will have in it.

The report read by James Dunne, vice-president of the federation, told of a cablegram from the president of the German National Labor body, announcing that the international conference to be held December 11 at Bern, Switzerland, had been called off. "We deplore militarism and the spirit it evokes," the report said. "To prevent war we must organize for peace."
