UNITED STATES IS FEEDING THE WORLD

Despite Short Crops Is Exporting More Food Stuffs Than Ever Before

Washington, Nov. 17.—With an increase of 150 per cent in exports of meats since the outbreak of the war and with a constantly greater proportion of her grain crops leaving the country, America is assuming an even greater share of the burden of feeding stricken Europe.

This, in the wake of short crops, is given by government officials as one of the foremost reasons for high prices on foodstuffs.

During the first eight months of this year—ending with September 1—the United States has shipped abroad more than $200,000,000 worth of meats and dairy products.

Even with a season of unusually poor crops in practically every grain, the United States has contributed a greater share this year, proportionately, than at any time during the period of the war and ever before in its history.

The American hen also has been called upon to do her bit. Against an exportation of $211,700 in the first eight months of 1914, the United States has shipped $3,450,000 worth of eggs during the like period this year.

In conjunction with the increased exportation of eggs, it is reported from many farming districts throughout the country that laying this year has been below normal. Storages also are far below average for this time of year.

NOVEMBER 30 IS THANKSGIVING DAY

President Calls On Americans to Aid In Relieving the Distressed

Washington, Nov. 17.—Calling upon Americans to "contribute out of our abundant means," to the relief of those living in belligerent nations, "upon whom the curse and terror of war has so pitilessly fallen," President Wilson today issued his thanksgiving proclamation.

He set November 30 as the date for thanksgiving. His appeal for its observance follows: "It has long been the custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that has elapsed since we last observed our day of thanksgiving has been rich in blessings to us as a people, but the whole face of the world has been darkened by war. In the midst of our peace and happiness our thoughts dwell with painful disquiet upon the struggles and sufferings of the nations at war and of the peoples upon whom war has brought disaster without choice or possibility of escape on their part. We cannot think of our own happiness without thinking also of their pitiful distress.

CONFIDENT EIGHT HOUR DAY WILL STAY

Railroad Men Believe President Will Find Way If Present Laws Fails

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Confident that should the Adamson eight hour law fail, President Wilson will provide another measure which will insure trainmen of an eight hour day, heads of the various brotherhoods here today scout the possibility of a general strike in January.

Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said that if the Adamson eight hour law was knocked out trainmen looked to President Wilson for an effective substitute.

News of a possible further conference between railroad heads and employees coming from Washington preceded the statements from the brotherhood heads. This is believed to indicate the willingness of the brotherhoods for further consideration of the eight hour law and amendments which might make it more satisfactory to all.

W. S. Carter, president of the railroad brotherhood of firemen, and George H. Sines, vice president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen both doubt the possibility of a strike.

"A railroad strike is a remote possibility," said Sines.

W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood alone refused to comment on the situation.

Wilson Backers Will Get Big Dividends

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—The Wilson supporters entitled to the $302,440 bet through the Corbett pool room here will not be paid until Secretary of State Jordan officially announces the state vote, according to the announcement issued by the pool room today. Representatives of New York's betting syndicate were also notified of this intention.

S. S. Bailey of Seattle is perhaps the largest winner in the coast betting on the presidential election. He won $71,000 it is reported. There is also a report that E. L. Doherty, Los Angeles millionaire won $90,000, but if so, this was all placed in New York. Various other bets ranging from $1,000 to $9,000 will be paid after the official California count.

Because J. A. Sexton, Nevada railroad man, did not tear up betting tickets on Wilson as directed by L. M. Hopkins, a St. Louis traveling man, when it appeared Hughes had won, Hopkins is $1,700 ahead. Sexton won $3,000.
