CHIHUAHUA ATTACKED BY VILLA BANDITS

Said to Have Army of 5,000 Carranzistas—Say He Is Cornered

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 23.—Panchito Villa began his attack on Chihuahua City at 11 o'clock today, according to a message flashed to Juarez. The message said fierce fighting was in progress at noon. Consul Soriano Bravo made official announcement of the attack.

"We have just received word that the attack has begun and there are no details," said Bravo. "We do not know how many troops Trevino has in the garrison."

An incident pointing to preparation for evacuation of the city by Carranzistas was an order given by de facto officials yesterday that all empty cars in Juarez yards be sent south immediately. A peremptory order was given a mining company to unload twenty-five carloads of ore so that the empty cars could be sent to Chihuahua City.

Carranzista officials assert that Villa is in a tight place. They claim that General Murguía, south of Villa, has 6,000 men while Trevino's garrison in Chihuahua City is estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000 men.

Leading four thousand men, Villa approached the city from the south. Three hours after the attack began the wires to Juarez had not been cut. At last reports General Trevino commanded 5,000 men and had twenty heavy guns, both seventy-fives and eighty millimeters.

The hills to the north and east of the city were fortified and had gun emplacements. Other earthworks and trenches extended around the city and barbed wire entanglements had been placed in position.

After two hours' fighting, the Villistas had penetrated into the heart of Chihuahua City in hand to hand fighting. Artillery positions southwest of the city were stormed and taken and the pieces put out of commission by the bandits.

Officials at Chihuahua City kept in constant telephone communication with General Gonzalez, Carranzista commander at Juarez.

At 3 o'clock Consul General Andres Garcia declared that three attacks had been made by Villa, but the results were not yet known.

IRON WORKERS HAVE CHARTER HELD UP

This Due to Action During Strike—Some Hot Contests Over Election

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 23.—The American Federation of Labor today adopted an amended resolution suspending the charter of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. This followed a bitter fight on the floor in which charges of bias and frame-up were hurled.

The fight was over the dock builders and pile-drivers of New York. It is charged that when a strike was on the iron workers organized the strikebreakers into a separate body under their jurisdiction. This brought protests from the carpenters, with whom the strikers were affiliated.

The carpenters introduced the resolution to ask the convention to revoke the iron workers' charter.

With only two days remaining for the convention to transact business, there is a noticeable "speeding up." The last day of the convention is generally given over to the election of officers.

When there are no contests in the election of the heads of the federation, this work occupies but a short time. This year, however, there will be at least one contest, as John W. Hays, of the International Typographical Union, is after the post of Frank Morrison, who for more than 20 years has been secretary of the organization.

A resolution before the convention asking for the appointment of another vice-president will probably pave the way for another contest. While the delegates are reluctant to make a contest against the present officers, there are many who are willing to test their strength in a contest for a new officer.

Emperor Charles VIII Issues Manifesto

London, Nov. 23.—Emperor Charles VIII of Austria Hungary—new ruler in the place where until Tuesday sat the aged Franz Josef—today exercised his first powers as sovereign. He issued orders confirming appointment of all of the ministers which his grand uncle had established in power.

Vienna dispatches also said he had issued the following manifesto:

"Our aim has not yet been achieved. The enemies' illusion of their ability to overthrow my monarchy and those of my allies is as yet not shattered. I know I am in harmony with my people in my unbending decision to continue the struggle until peace is assured and the monarchy's existence and development assured. I will do all in my power to banish as soon as possible the horrors and sacrifices of war and to secure peace as soon as the honor of my arms, the conditions of the life of my countries and their allies and defence of my enemies will allow."

of Arizona by a plurality of 35 votes, according to official figures announced from the 14 counties of the state today.

George W. P. Hunt, incumbent, demagogue declared today that he is retained counsel to wage a legal fight for a recount of the votes. Each candidate carried seven counties. Campbell is the second governor of Arizona. He is the first republican to hold that office.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Health insurance which is the subject for debate in the Oregon High School Debating League, will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Edwin Clyde Robbins of University of Oregon Friday evening. Dr. Robbins deals with the European system of health insurance, the needs of such a system in the United States and the ways and means for providing the same. This subject is very important at the present time owing to the movement on foot in many of the states, including Oregon, to adopt such a system.

The lecture will be in the auditorium of the library Friday evening November 24th at eight o'clock and is free.

OPEN FORUM

Salem, Or., Nov. 23, 1916.

To the Editor of the Capital Journal

I read in this morning's paper what purported to be a speech by Tom Kay in reference to the street improvement measure to be voted on December 1.

It was with considerable interest that I noted that a goodly part of what he had to say was directed against the integrity of S. T. Richardson as an attorney rather than against the measure. It has been my pleasure and good fortune to be daily associated with Mr. Richardson in his law offices for a number of months and I have no hesitancy in saying that it is my opinion that no other attorney in the state of Oregon, who is so capable, gives his time so unselfishly and with so little thought of remuneration, to the causes which he espouses.

When large issues are before the people and those opposing them begin to deal with personalities rather than discussing the merits of any against the measure I believe it is a safe conclusion to say that that person knows there are no merits to his argument and he would instead the voters by attacking individuals.

A great deal might be said about the mill race tragedy and the two-mile ditch recently dug at the state's expense near Mr. Kay's property, but that would not deal with the question before the people any more than Mr. Kay's inference in regard to S. T. Richardson.

It is a striking thing that the opposition to this street improvement amendment is almost entirely composed of persons who, like Mr. Kay, are members of a large corporation, while on the other hand the individual property owners in both the paved and unpaved sections of Salem see the justice and equity in the bill and will support it.

Respectfully yours,
 F. H. REEVES.

WHERE ARE THE ROBINS?

Editor Journal: Will some member of the Bird Club tell us where the robins are at this time? There are none in sight, but later in the winter, during the coldest weather they will all be here.

If they have gone south why should they return in mid-winter, or why should they go to the neighboring mountains when their food is more plentiful in the valley?

Perhaps they are all down to Ella McMunn's.

T. J. CHESHIRE.
