Shoes of All Kinds Doubled In Price

The indications are that wearing shoes will soon be a luxury, or at least the cost thereof will be such that the average individual will stay with the old shoes from financial as well as sentimental motives. In fact, the retail shoe men are just wondering where and when the continued advance in the wholesale price will stop. For instance: A man's work shoe that sold wholesale one year ago at $3.20, was priced last September at $4. On the 27th of November the dealer received notice that the same shoes had advanced wholesale to $4.45. That looked bad enough, but on November 21, an advance sheet was received, giving the price at $5.20, a figure higher than he had been retailing the shoes. A girl's shoe that was wholesale $2, is now priced at $2.75, and a woman's shoe, sold wholesale at $1.50, is listed $1 higher on the wholesale list.

"FAIR & WARMER"

With the magic of a spectacular New York success still strong upon it, "Fair and Warmer" will come to the Grand theatre on Monday, Nov. 27, when Selwyn & Company will present this most dazzling and ludicrous of the Avery Hopwood royal line of farces, with an excellent cast of farceurs.

"Fair and Warmer" made one of those successes along Broadway that run up the standard for all later attractions. It sold out, from its first performance, so that there was never any New York advertising necessary. It made more money at the Elting's theatre than "Within the Law" had made there four years before, which, till "Fair and Warmer" was the "big business" record. It was in demand from every part of the country, a good six months before Selwyn & Company were able to put it on tour, thus assuring it an eager welcome.

Incomplete returns from all counties of the first congressional district give W. C. Hawley a lead of 20,237 votes over Mark Weatherford, his opponent.
