CHAMPIONSHIP IS WON BY WILLAMETTE

Resume of Season's Work Which Ended Here Last Saturday

With another Oregon non-conference collegiate championship tucked away in Willamette university's possession, the memorable season of 1916 was formally closed last Saturday when M. A. A. C. was won in Portland. First practices were gloomy as Captain Flegel and Rexford were the only first team reported from last year's champs. Gradually hopes blossomed as Mathews saw his first team squad drift back one by one and new beef of more or less experience applied for suits from Manager Walker. And to give the varsity a little hope in the line of what might be done with a team representing almost an entirely new personnel, Coach Mathews' proteges repeated the 27 to 0 victory administered to the alumni veterans of last year. Although an unquestioned victory, the severe injuries to big 200 pound Bill Guerin in this game were done to the hopes of all "lowers" as Guerin was an All-Rocky mountain tackle last year on the Battle School of Mines team.

He called three times when the official failed to hear him and Stecher, who was still clamping his victim down, repeated Cutler's call and the referee announced the fall.
