BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids of calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that "fuzzy" feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "fuzzy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL
FORMALLY DEDICATED

The Salem Deaconess hospital was formally dedicated and opened by the exercises held yesterday morning and afternoon at the armory, when addresses were made by leading citizens and physicians of the city, setting forth the needs and advantages of a hospital of this character.

The meeting was presided over by F. B. Wedel, president of the association. Addresses were made by Mrs. Kallenberg of the German Baptist church and the Rev. Carl Elliott, president of the Salem Ministerial Union, both telling of the advantages to Salem of a Deaconess hospital.

The Rev. Baumgartner, of the Menonite church of Prussia, told of how the members of his church in the valley would give their unanimous support. J. H. Albert, president of the Capital National bank, told of the needs of a hospital similar to those conducted by the Deaconesses of the Menonite church, and expressed himself, as in favor of such an institution.

The Rev. J. H. Weigle, pastor of the German Methodist church, gave the Deaconess hospital his personal support as well as the members of his church. The morning program closed with a solo by Mrs. W. Carlton Smith.

Governor Withycombe extended his greetings to the new hospital in the opening address of the afternoon, and expressed his satisfaction that the Menonites should establish a hospital in Salem. The Rev. P. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church spoke in favor of the hospital and the Rev. R. N. Avison told of the needs of such a hospital, especially to the home.

Superintendent John W. Wood spoke encouragingly of the work of the Deaconesses and Dr. F. H. Thompson told why another hospital was needed. Dr. Walton showed the differences in the hospitals already in the city and the work to be done by the Deaconess hospital and why both were needed.

The Deaconess hospital, located on South Winter street is now opened and accommodations have been arranged for about 20 patients.

Doctor Indorses It

Dr. C. H. Robertson was on the program for the dedication of the Deaconess hospital at the armory last Sunday, but was unable to be present. But to show his friendly interest in the work undertaken by Dr. F. B. Wedel, president of the Deaconess hospital, wrote the following letter:

Mr. F. B. Wedel, president Deaconess Hospital Salem, Ore. Dear Sir: I deeply regret my inability to be with you on the occasion of the dedication of your hospital. I wish, however, to express my sympathy with your plans and my best wishes for your success.

Our prices are still the lowest in the city. All the best grades on the market.

BEET PULP

"I have had the pleasure of inspecting the building which has been thoroughly re-modeled and find it very conveniently arranged. The rooms are pleasant and well furnished and the operating room well located with plenty of light and equipped with all needed appliances.

"I believe that when the ideals and purposes of your institution become known, you will receive the hearty support of the people of Salem and vicinity. The medical profession already is interested and you may, I feel confident, depend upon the active co-operation of its members.

"We feel that the Deaconess hospital supplies a need that has long been felt in this section of the Willamette valley and are prepared to assist in every feasible manner towards its growth and development.

"Assuring you of my interest in the work and my sincere wishes for its success, I am, yours very truly,
"C. H. ROBERTSON."

THE MARKETS

The following prices for fruits and vegetables are those asked by the wholesaler of the retailer, and not what is paid to the producer. All other prices are those paid the producer. Corrections are made daily.

As usual, there are no changes in the Monday quotations. While the price of potatoes remains at $1.25, one commission man expressed the opinion that the market was weakening and the chances good for a decline in price. However, this view was not shared by another buyer, all of which seems to indicate that the man with potatoes will sell as well as use his own judgment when the experts do not agree.

ROBBER GOT AWAY
BUT LOST THE GOODS

Arrested Soon After His Escape, Pleads Guilty Today and Is Paroled

Vincent Domogalla, who attempted to take six caps from Brick Brothers store Saturday night but who was detected in the act by Isadore Brick, was arrested Saturday night and held until this morning when he was formally charged with petty larceny. He was given opportunity to plead before the police judge and pleaded guilty. Judge Elgin sentenced him to serve six months in the county jail, but on recommendation of District Attorney Ringo, he granted Domogalla a parole on condition that he would behave himself during the six months.

Domogalla stated to the court that it was alcohol that caused him to do the act, which in his sober moments he would not have done. He said he got the alcohol, which was diluted with water, from a friend in the armory Saturday night.

After the stores were closed that night, Domogalla asked Mr. Brick to open the store so he could secure some socks. After a little persuasion Mr. Brick went to the store and unlocked it. As he was about to turn on the lights, he saw Domogalla grab a number of caps from a pile and shove them under his coat. Mr. Brick let the matter pass for the moment, sold the socks, and insisted that the customer go to the hotel for his change. He protested he did not care for this change but Brick persisted. Arrived at the Bligh hotel, Brick suddenly pulled the man's coat open and the caps fell out. Domogalla dashed for the door, was outside in a second, and escaped. The matter was then reported to the police.
