VERDUN SUCCESS

sector, executed when he pulled Fort Douaumont from the German fire.

Germans Pushed Back.
Berlin, via Sayville wireless, Dec. 16.—The French have succeeded in pushing back German forces from some of their most advanced positions in the Verdun district, it was announced in today's official statement. The Teutonic troops, it was said, had gone into prepared second line defenses.

The same statement reported as successful a new thrust by the Germans against British troops around Ypres. The war office located the scene of the French "push" and the new German second line positions around Talouard and the heights north of Louvaumont and Chambrettes and south of Bezonvaux.

(These positions are all northwest of Douaumont.)
The German thrust at the British lines occurred southeast of Zillebeke. The Berlin statement details the advance to the second line of enemy trenches, the garrison of which fled.

French Won Victory.
Paris, Dec. 16.—Four divisions of French troops won the victory north of Verdun against German troops of at least five divisions, today's official statement said. The enemy made no counter attack seeking to win back the ground they lost.

The men taken prisoner in the French advance came from regiments in five different German divisions.
The official statement also detailed lively shelling during the night over the entire front from the Meuse to the Woivre.
"Nothing important," was reported from the Macedonian front.

Russian Battleships Busy.
Petrograd, Dec. 16.—Successful bombardment of Ballehek by Russian warships was announced in today's official statement. Despite attacks by enemy shore batteries, airplanes and submarines, the Russian attacking squadron was unharmed.

The bombardment of Ballehek, the statement explained, was with a view to the destruction of mills supplying the Bulgarians with flour. The Russian attempt occurred Wednesday. The attacking vessels were fired at in turn, "but the enemy gained no results," according to the statement.

Ballehek, or Bulcik is a Rumanian seaport on the Black sea about 15 miles north of the important Bulgarian seaport of Varna.

Pierce British Lines.
Berlin, via Sayville, Dec. 16.—A German thrust reached the second British line southeast of Zillebeke, today's official statement announced.

"Our thrusting troops southeast of Zillebeke," the statement reported, "advanced into the second English line, of which the garrison has fled."
The war office also reported an artillery duel in the Ypres and Cysebeete bends, temporarily increasing in intensity.

MRS. TRUMBULL'S MOTHER PASSES

Mrs. B. S. Trumbull received the sad news Saturday noon of the death of her mother, Mrs. Helen May Fairchild, who passed away December 9 in a hospital at Denver, Colo., the result of a former attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Trumbull recently went to Denver to see her mother, returning home Thanksgiving day. Strong hopes were then entertained by the family that the mother would live several months, but the end came sooner than expected. Mr. A. A. Fairchild, father of Mrs. Trumbull, left on the afternoon train for Denver probably arriving there Monday.
Besides a husband Mrs. Fairchild leaves six children to mourn her loss, Mrs. C. H. Bangs, Ben Fairchild and Helen Fairchild, of Denver; C. O. Fairchild, of Washington, D. C.; Morris Fairchild, of McKenna, Wash., and Mrs. R. S. Trumbull, of this city. Many friends in this city will sympathize with Mrs. Trumbull and family in their bereavement.—Silvertown Appeal.

IS PAINFULLY BURNED

An accidental injury to M. M. Sayre last Thursday has been the means of placing him in the hospital in a very critical condition.
While attending to his duties as chief engineer at the Silvertown Lumber company mill he was also smoking a cob pipe. When passing from one room to another through a dark passage way he came in contact with a post and the pipe stem was forced about an inch into the side of the throat. At first it was thought that the injury would readily give way to medical treatment. Further developments, however, made it necessary to remove him to the Salem hospital Tuesday where he will undergo an operation Saturday.—Silvertown Appeal.

RAISES SPLENDID CORN

Henry Dahl was one of the corn exhibitors at the Marion County Corn show held at Salem this week. He had an exhibit of corn that was simply fine. The ears were uniform, the kernels fully developed and the cobs filled. The variety is yellow dent and should dispel from the minds of anyone who sees it the opinion that good corn cannot be raised in this valley. Mr. Dahl is the only one in this vicinity that we know of who sent samples of corn to the St. Paul, Minn., corn show.—Silvertown Appeal.
