LITTLE WOMAN TELLS OF HARD TREATMENT Because She Tried to Kiss Husband Was Made to Sit Up All Night

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Because she tried to kiss him, James R. Barnes made his wife get out of bed and sit up all night, while he slept, the wife, Mrs. Iva Barnes testified today in her trial for the killing of Barnes here last September. In a small, trembling voice that could scarcely be heard by the jurors, the slight, haggard woman piled up incident after incident in which she said her husband cursed and struck her. Frequently she refused to repeat the profanity she said he had used, saying, "well, he just swore," and once when her attorney insisted upon a repetition, she burst into tears and seemed near a breakdown.

BATTLESHIPS WILL BE GREATEST AFLOAT; TO COST $24,000,000 Will Mount Twelve 16-inch Guns—Engines of 180,000 Horsepower

Washington, Dec. 20.—America's new giant battleships will cost $24,000,000 each and will mount 12 16-inch guns, naval chiefs told the house naval committee today. They will be, so far as is known, the largest afloat, and the most powerful, with 180,000-horsepower electric engines. Read Admiral Joseph Strauss, chief of the ordnance bureau, told the committee he himself would have selected 14-inch guns for the ships. Bearing out the testimony of Captain W. S. Simms yesterday, Admiral Strauss declared his belief that in a "fight" the range of battle would be below 12,000 yards—within the fighting range of 14-inch guns. In such a case, he said, the fleet with the greater number of guns, other things being equal, would be superior. On the new battleships, he said, from 16 to 18 14-inch guns could be mounted as against 12 16-inch guns.

IRRIGATION COMPANY GETS TIME EXTENDED Governor Points Out Some Features That Look Bad on Their Face Governor Withycombe and Jesse Stearns, attorney for the Central Irrigation company, which is asking the state desert land board to recommend to congress an extension of their contract with the state and government for the reclamation of 120,000 acres of desert land near Bend, clashed this morning at the meeting of the board when the matter came up for consideration. The meeting was for the purpose of giving the water users a chance to be heard. None of them appeared in person but numerous telegrams stating their position were received. The board decided to ask congress to extend the contract between the state and the government for ten years, which time the company says is necessary to develop the project. Accordingly, resolutions will be forwarded to the Oregon delegation in congress and to the department of the interior, recommending that such extension be granted. The action was taken by unanimous vote as it was believed the only thing to do in the present situation to preserve the water rights. The action will in no way prevent the project from being turned into an irrigation district if it is so desired. "With all due respect to Mr. Stearns and his enterprise," said Governor Withycombe at the close of the meeting, "I want to make protest against the company. I find from the report of the public service commission that it has been culpable. The report shows that Roscoe Howard, manager, drew $500 a month salary but this was finally reduced to $300 a month. Also it shows that he received a commission for the sale of the lands and that he was a member of the Howard company that built the project. He thus caught the company in three ways. I regard the company as having brought on itself the present agitation against it and believe the time is coming when the project should be turned into a general

ARTILLERY DUELS AT VERDUN ARE STEADY BUT LITTLE FIGHTING Berlin, via Sayville wireless, Dec. 20.—The so-called "Lusitania medal" which London reports have indicated was extensively circulated in Germany, was privately executed and hardly a hundred people in Germany knew of it, the press bureau asserted today. The medal was coined in a private house in Munich and its makers report that up to December 1, only 180 copies have been sold and of this number 75 went to foreign countries. The statement was evoked by London reports claiming that coming of such a medal was "characteristic of the German nation." London reports recently charged that Germany was circulating a medal commemorating and glorifying the sinking of the Lusitania. Famine in Russia Berlin, via Sayville wireless, Dec. 20.—Three large Russian towns are on the verge of famine, an article in the Swedish newspaper "Sochborgs" afterpost says, according to an official press bureau report today. There is grain in Russia, but it cannot be bought, the article says. In Petrograd, Moscow and other large cities the ministry has been obliged to provide the population from the military stocks. Irrigation district with the settlers in control. In defense of the company, Jesse Stearns declared: "We put more than a million and a half dollars into the project and had to have a man of ability to do the constructive work and make the sales. While it has cost other projects 25 per cent or more to sell the lands, it has cost us only 15 per cent. Not a dollar has come out of the maintenance fund for we have put more money into it than we have received from the settlers." In regard to this project, there has been considerable sentiment in favor of changing it into an irrigation district.
