

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By ALINE THOMPSON

FOR days past the social limelight has been upon the college set, who have revelled in the respite from study and routine which the holiday vacation brought about.

There have been all manner of gaieties in their honor, most of which were informal.

The forepart of the week was again filled with family gatherings and dinners. Perhaps there is no time in the whole year when these reunions are so merry and gay as at this festive season.

Interspersing these family affairs were numerous dinners, teas, dances and bridge parties.

Among the delightful events of the past week were the informal bridge given by Mrs. R. B. Goodin, Wednesday; the watch party for which Justice and Mrs. George H. Burnett were hosts the bridge luncheon, presided over by Mrs. Robert Chauncey Bishop; the informal dancing party given by Miss Edith Bynon, in honor of her sister, Miss Marcella Bynon, Thursday night; the "500" party for which Miss Florence Cartwright and Miss Mildred Gill were hostesses Friday afternoon, and the dance for which Laurence Hofer and his sister, Miss Florence Hofer, were hosts last night.

A number of old friends of Justice and Mrs. George H. Burnett gathered at their residence to be guests at the delightful New Year's watch party for which they were hosts in celebration of the anniversary of their wedding.

This celebration is an old time custom of the Burnetts, and is observed each year on this occasion.

The residence was attractively decorated with lovely roses, carnations, Oregon grape and mistletoe.

Mrs. Perry H. Raymond cut the ice and Mrs. Edward Weller presided over the samovar during the first hours, their places being taken later by Mrs. William Fleming and Mrs. A. N. Moore. Assisting were Mrs. Robert B. Fleming, Mrs. H. H. Belt of Dallas, Miss Ellen Thielson and Miss Ruth Fleming.

Mrs. Fred S. Stewart and son Richard, are home after a delightful visit in Portland. They returned Thursday having gone before Christmas. During their stay they were the guests of relatives.

As a fitting close to a gay week came the informal dancing party for which Laurence Hofer and his sister, Miss Florence Hofer, were hosts Friday night at the residence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hofer.

About 30 of the younger set were asked to this delightful affair, which was one of the gayest and merriest of the week's festivities.

Festoons of holly, mistletoe and crimson berries lent a festive air to the rooms.

Dancing was followed by a supper, small tables arranged for four and six being placed about the rooms.

Those participating in the gayeties were: Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Ida Simmons, Miss Helen Deekebach, Miss Hazel Downing, Miss Ellen Thielson, Miss Gertrude Gray, Miss Barbara Steiner, Miss Margery Martin, Miss Jane Fry, Miss Veda Cross, Miss Jessie Miller, Miss Alene Thompson, Carl Gabrielson, James Young, Albert Egan, Daniel J. Fry, Jr., Ralph Moore, Homer Egan, Allan Bynon, E. Fritz Stude, Roy Barth, Prince Byrd, Earle Fiegel and James Marr.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Thielson were delightfully surprised on Thursday night, when a group of their friends gathered to celebrate the forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding.

The rooms were decked with lovely blossoms, practically all of which were gifts to the Thielsons from their many old friends. The evening was devoted to "500", five tables being arranged for the guests, who numbered 25.

Mrs. William H. Lytle returned last night from Pendleton, where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. N. Roberts, since before Christmas. Her visit there was one gay whirl day and night. Mrs. Lytle formerly lived in Pendleton and was the motif for many little attentions from her old friends.

While there she was a guest at the formal dancing party, for which Dr. and Mrs. Wilson McNary, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Judd were hosts November the thirtieth. Dr. Lytle who accompanied Mrs. Lytle, came home soon after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fisher have gone to Portland to pass the week end.

Charming and artistic in every detail was the lovely bridge luncheon for which Mrs. Robert Chauncey Bishop was hostess on Friday.

The residence was decked with Christmas greens and flowers of the season. Crimson carnations and violets were used in the living rooms and in the dining room the most artistic decorations and appointments were arranged for the luncheon.

There were three tables each done a little differently; with rose, yellow and purple hood blossoms and shaded candles carrying out the color scheme; one was of violets massed with hyacinths and greens, another of cyclamen, the beautiful rose-pink ones, with white hyacinths and another table having daffodils for the center. After luncheon the guests made up three tables of bridge.

Assisting Mrs. Bishop were Miss Mabel Withycombe, Miss Ellen Thielson and Miss Veda Cross.

The guests, who were for the most part, were the members of the hostesses luncheon club, included: Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mrs. S. Guy Sargent, Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. Ruben P. Boise, Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mrs. John Withycombe and Mrs. George William Gray.

A group of congenial married folk, who are thoroughly enjoying a series of informal dinner parties this season, assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles on Court street, for their second affair, on last Friday night.

These dinners are a delight to the hostesses, as they serve only one course the various other members of the club furnishing the other courses.

Two large tables adorned with sparkling Christmas trees were arranged for the affair, and the favors and appointments were all suggestive of the season.

Covers were placed for 22. Guests of the club were: Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carrier of Centralia, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Carrier, J. D. Smullen of Hood River, Thurman Cook of Portland, Kenneth Legg, Miss Margaret Legg, John Elliott, Miss Muriel Steeves and Laura, Emma and Ross Miles.

Mrs. E. Cooke Patton has asked the matrons of the Trio club at her home for an informal afternoon over the bridge tables on Thursday.

An informal watch party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Baker who entertained a group of their friends with a delightful supper.

Their guests were: Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson of Portland.

Under gossip of the holidays in Manhattan, the following from the Portland Journal will be of interest: "At a charming supper party given for Madam Teresa Carreno, Miss Winifred Byrd of Salem, pianist; Miss Marion Bauer, composer, were guests. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hutchison, John Powell, pianist; and Miss Guonora Novace, Brazilian pianist," who by the way is creating a great furore in New York musical circles.

Mrs. L. K. Page entertained recently with a delightful informal evening of "500", her guests being the members of the E. O. T. club and several additional guests.

The residence was artistically decked with Christmas greenery and scarlet poinsettias.

Six tables were arranged for "500" and the high score honors fell to Mrs. A. L. Johnson and Scott Page. Mrs. L. S. Geer and A. L. Brown were awarded the consolations.

Mrs. Page was assisted by Miss Laura Grant.

The club members playing were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowersox, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Shand and Miss Mary Hofer.

Additional guests were: Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Geer, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Rauch, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Page, Mr. and Mrs. Waido Mills of Hood River, and Miss Laura Grant.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clay will leave tomorrow evening for a sojourn in California. They will pass two weeks in the southland, spending the greater part of their time in Paso Robles.

One of the most delightful of the closing festivities of the old year, was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dick were hosts, when they entertained the members of the cast of "The Dictator", which was recently produced by the Cherrians for the benefit of charity.

Covers were placed for 16 around a table prettily decked with a basket of feathery greens, tied with airy bows of tulle.

Assisting Mrs. Dick were Miss Carolyn Dick and Miss Marjorie Kay.

A bevy of young girls gathered at the pretty "500" party for which Miss Florence Cartwright and Miss Mildred Gill were hostesses Friday afternoon, at the Cartwright residence on Ferry street.

Fink blossoms adorned the rooms and adorable handpainted butterfies done by Miss Gill's sister, Miss Margaret Gill, were perched here and there, adding to the artistic effect.

Guests were asked for six tables of "500", card honors falling to Miss Margaret Goodin and Miss Isabelle Croisan.

Miss Elizabeth Gill assisted the hostesses. Their guests were: Miss Luella Patton, Miss Maxine Buren, Miss Josephine Baugartner, Miss Helen Rose, Miss Dorothy Dick, Miss Margaret Goodin, Miss Alice McClelland, Miss Mary Talmadge, Miss Esther Spitzbar, Miss Florence Bayne, Miss Edna Ackerman, Miss Elizabeth Leonard, Miss Letha Driscoll, Miss Isabelle Croisan, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Lucy Leonard, Miss Elizabeth Bayne, Miss Helen McIntuff, Miss Ruth Gibson and Miss Elizabeth Gill.

Mr. and Mrs. Zadoc J. Riggs will have as their guest for a few days next week, Julian Hurley, senator of Malheur county. Senator Hurley who is coming to Salem to attend the legislature will arrive Sunday.

Mrs. Riggs and Senator Hurley are old school friends.

Miss Jane Fry and Miss Hazel Downing went to Portland today to attend the luncheon given by their society, Delta Delta Delta, at the Hotel Benson. The girls are both members of the chapter at the University of Oregon.

A delightful affair of Tuesday evening was the informal dinner party for which Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Spencer were hosts.

The artistically appointed table was centered with a miniature Christmas tree, covers being placed for 8. Dinner was followed by an evening of "500".

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner.

Mrs. John J. Roberts and small daughter, Mildred, went to Portland Friday. They will be accompanied home by Miss Helen Roberts, who has been in Portland visiting her grand mother, Mrs. Eunice Roberts.

Mrs. B. B. Goodin entertained on Wednesday afternoon at one of the most delightful bridge parties of the week.

The affair was informal, only the members of the Happy Hour club and a few additional matrons being asked. Four tables were arranged for bridge the card honors falling to Mrs. Asa Eoff.

Mrs. Goodin was assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret Goodin, and Miss Helen Rose.

Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. George P. Fox, Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mrs. John B. Craig and Mrs. Edward Gillingham.

Miss Minnetta Magers returned yesterday from Portland, where she has been the guest of friends.

During her visit in Portland Mr. and Mrs. Hartbridge Whipp entertained with a small informal dinner in honor of Miss Magers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hofer entertained a group of the younger set on Thursday night with a charming dinner party, in honor of their sister, Miss Florence Hofer, who is home from the University of California for the holidays.

An artistic basket of erise and pink cyclamen tied with pale blue and pink ribbon decked the table. Dinner was followed by an evening of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Hofer's guests were: Miss Helen Deekebach, Miss Barbara Steiner, Allan Bynon, Homer Egan, Earle Fiegel, Laurence Hofer and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Cross.

Miss Ellen Thielson will have as her house guest, Miss Helen Whitney of Portland. Miss Whitney will arrive Monday and will be here for several days.

Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and her daughter, Miss Marjorie Kay went to Portland Friday to attend the Gamma Phi Beta sorority tea for which Mrs. Kay was asked to pour.

The affair was given this afternoon by Miss Kay's sorority sister Miss Beatrice Locke, at the residence of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Locke.

About 15 of the younger maids and men made merry Thursday night at the delightful dancing party for which Miss Edith Bynon was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Bynon.

Miss Bynon's sister, Miss Marcella Bynon, who is home for the holidays, was the honoree for the dance which was very informal.

Those participating in the festivity were: Miss Helen Rose, Miss Ida Spauld, Miss Olga Gray, Miss Anna Proctor, Miss Clara Breitenstein, Frank Durbin, Jr., Allan Jones, Glenn Ackerman, Curtis Mahony of the Oregon Agricultural College, Ira Mercer, Orren La Course, Hayward Fowle, George Doust and Mr. and Mrs. William Fletcher.

Mrs. William Fletcher entertained informally on Friday afternoon with a few tables of "500" at her apartments, Delta Delta Delta, complimentary to Miss Marcella Bynon.

Several of the younger girls were guests.

Mrs. George E. Waters went to Portland Thursday for a few days visit and is the guest of Mrs. William C. Knighton. While there she also will be the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson entertained on New Year's night with an informal family dinner.

The pretty table was decked with Oregon grape and flaming poinsettias. Covers were placed for 10.

After dinner a few friends augmented the family party for an evening of "500". The card honors were awarded to Mrs. Clyde Sherman and Edward G. Smyth.

Besides the members of the family the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sherman and Mrs. L. K. Page.

Miss Margaret Gray has gone to Eugene for a several days visit and is the house guest of Mrs. David M. Graham (Mildred Bagley).

Mrs. Russell Catlin entertained delightfully on Tuesday afternoon with a small informal sewing bee.

Several matrons of the Kensington club were guests. Mrs. Frank H. Spears assisted her mother.

An informal and gay little affair of Tuesday night was the "movie" party given by Mrs. Zadoc J. Riggs, who entertained a group of matrons at the Oregon theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin S. Strobbe and small daughter, Anna Margaret, who have been visiting Mrs. Strobbe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Westacott, returned to their home in Tacoma Friday.

Many delightful family dinners were given on New Year's, among which was that presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stolz, who had the family reunion of the Stolz and McNary clan, with a few guests.

The table decorations and appointments were unusually artistic and effective. Crimson carnations and greens and red candles adorned the table over which was hung a huge umbrella-like canopy of Simlar. From the center of this red satin ribbons extended to the places and tied favors for each guest.

Covers were placed for 15. Mr. and Mrs. Stolz's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. John H. McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben P. Boise, Mrs. Lenta Westacott, Miss Nina McNary, the Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, Breyman Boise and Master Richard and Miss Margaret Stolz.

Miss Constance Cartwright went to Portland Friday to attend the formal dancing party given last night by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at the Multnomah hotel. Miss Cartwright is a member of the chapter at the University of Oregon.

Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Mendelshon entertained last night at their home on Lincoln street, in honor of the sixteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Ruth Mendelshon.

The rooms were charmingly decorated with pink and green, with mistletoe adding to the pleasing effect. A delightful luncheon was served followed by dancing.

The birthday cake was sent to the honoree from San Francisco by her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dressner.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Thomson, Mrs. E. H. Critchlow, Miss B. Brown, Miss Zoe Olmstead, Miss L. Brill, Miss Sylvia Thompson, M. Gale, Lawrence Gale and J. C. Brill.

All of Salem will be delighted to know that Salem has the opportunity of securing the most unique and interesting musical attraction now before the public—Charles Wakefield Cadman, the distinguished composer, and Princess Tsianina, the Indian mezzo soprano, in concert.

This opportunity will be given Salem music lovers, only on condition that they are quick in subscribing the amount required which is very reasonable.

Ever since Nordica introduced and made famous his "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water," Cadman has held his position as one of the most popular if not the most popular of American song writers. Not content with song writing, however, the young composer has evolved into a writer of the serious forms in creative work in this country.

His latest achievement in his typical American rhapsody "Sonata in a major," which is now recognized as a major work with a big ideal, and is finding its way to the programs of many of the world's greatest pianists. Cadman's "Trio in D major" for violin, cello and piano is still another serious work. In addition to this he has a large number of choral works, the score of a three act Indian opera, a one act opera, many songs and part songs, and much published piano and organ music. This places him among the versatile and resourceful composers of his native land. Of course it is his unswerving devotion to and propaganda of Indian folk tunes in composition that has helped to make his position unique. Almost denied at first, he is now raised for his championing of this movement and is regarded as its very leading spirit. This side of his work is exemplified in the Indian music talk of which he is sole originator.

Princess Tsianina is not a make believe Indian, whose masquerades in leather dress and beaded moccasins when before the public. She is a full-blooded Indian aristocrat, descendant of the famous old Chief Tecumseh; she has never (save under compulsion during a few years in the government mission school) worn the garb of the pale face.

The personality that has been so much admired on the platform is not assumed for the public occasion—it is her real personality. Nor does Princess Tsianina claim public recognition on the strength of racial difference.

She has a beautiful voice, guided by an artistic intelligence and trained to expressive ends. In any environment she is a charming singer.

In the setting of the "American Indian Music-Talk" she is unequalled. To quote the distinguished music critic of the Minneapolis Journal, Mr. Victor Nilsson: "As a loving and intelligent interpreter of the nature poetry of her race, Princess Tsianina stands above criticism." Many critics have echoed this verdict.

Among the informal and gay little watch parties of New Year's eve, was the one for which Mr. and Mrs. W. Al Jones were hosts. Their guests numbered ten and the New Year was ushered in merrily with a supper.

Mrs. William H. Daney has as her guests, her mother and sister, Mrs. M. J. Crighton and Miss Mabel Crighton of Portland. They will visit in Salem for about ten days.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger had as their guests over New Year's Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson of Portland.

The logical result after a record breaking volume of business here: is now revealed in short ends of lines and so called odd lots which must be disposed of quickly to reduce stock to a minimum and make room for New Merchandise already coming in.
