North Howell Notes

(Capital Journal Special Service.) North Howell, Jan. 12.—Pete Wolke entertained his friends with a dancing party at Bass Hall, Saturday eve, Jan. 6, to satisfy the charivari boys. A very large crowd was present. C. E. McElwain and family, of Salem, were visiting in North Howell the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Kollie Dunn left last Sunday to begin home life in Oregon City. Mrs. Luther Thompson and two children, of Vancouver, Washington, are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Thompson was formerly Alice McKay. W. J. Jefferson, W. Baughman and August Wolke are among those who are shooting stumps this winter. Horse buyers have been visiting as quite frequently of late and a few horses have changed hands as a result. The Dollar sign has caused many teams to be headed for market loaded with spuds. Quite a number from here attended a ciphering match at Parkersville, Wednesday eve. Parkersville won 14 to 9. A watch party was given at the home of Carrie Dunn's New Year's eve. Mrs. Delcie Hunter and daughter Yerna, of Portland, visited at the Jefferson home a few days last week. Melvin Beer and wife and babe, of The Dalles, who have been visiting at F. Beer's, returned home this week. Mr. and Mrs. J. Huggall received a visit from two of their sons and family, New Year's day, John of Portland and Harry of Oregon City. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bump gave a 500 party at their home Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waltman had 24 tables occupied at whist Friday eve, January 5th.

TIME TO BUY PROPERTY

"There never has been a time in the history of the Willamette valley, and more particularly this portion of it, in which the prospects for a beautiful year and the exchange of real estate has been brighter than in 1917," says J. T. Kenans of this city. Mr. Kenans has already had several eastern men to stayton, and there are more coming. He says that the rural credit law, recently passed by the November election, has its bearing on the influx of settlers that will soon be arriving from the already overcrowded east. Assurances are also coming in that the railroad through the Minto pass has not been given up, and that the recent flow of European gold to America has unlocked immense sums that must be used in improvements. While there is no active work at the present time, there has been several parties to stayton that have the transportation problem before them and with this paramount issue solved, stayton would grow like a Kansas sunflower. If you are thinking of investing either in city or farm property in this neighborhood, don't put it off too late for the rise is as sure to come as the fact remains that the lowest ebb was reached about two years ago. Buy now and get in on the ground floor.—Stayton Mail.

JOHN H. CUTSPORTH WINS OUT

At a meeting of the taxpayers of road district No. 7 which was held in the Gervais city hall last Saturday afternoon to determine by vote who would be the choice for road supervisor of the district, John H. Cutsporth received 50 votes, and his opponent Pete Plant received 16. Mr. Cutsporth has been supervisor of his district for several years and seems to have given general satisfaction, but there were a few who opposed him, and appealed to the county court for a change. The county court advised them to settle it by a vote, and the vote Saturday will no doubt settle the matter.—Gervais Star.

THE MARKETS

The following prices for fruits and vegetables are those asked by the wholesaler of the retailer, and not what is paid to the producer. All other prices are those paid the producer. Corrections are made daily. Everything is quiet among the commission houses, with prices holding the same as yesterday. The mills are paying $1.25 for wheat and 45 cents for oats and sales were made at these figures today and yesterday. A few special lots of onions of extra quality have been sold above the market quotation of $4 but general sales are at the $4 price.

Special Song Service at First Methodist

Of masterful religious impressiveness was the sermon on "Joseph," delivered last night by Rev. Mr. Mathis, the evangelist, conducting special meetings at the First Methodist church. The service was specially for young people of Willamette university and the high school, who attended in a body. The church was profusely decorated with Willamette colors as streamers and pennants. Evangelist Mathis said in part: "A young man cannot do a wiser thing than to take God with him, no matter where he goes or what he does. 'It doesn't take long for the world to get its eyes on the young man or woman that is going to do something.' 'It is as impossible for us to rise higher than our desires as it is for water to rise higher than its level. 'If you do not make good with what opportunities you do have, you would not make good if you had a thousand opportunities. 'If you are out fishing for sympathy for your troubles don't be surprised if you come in with a mighty slim string for everybody has troubles of their own. 'The men who have lived worth while in this world are the men who lived for other people, not for themselves. A special song service is scheduled for this evening which is as follows: Prelude—By Prof. T. S. Roberts. Chorus—"Awake."—By Chorus. Male Quartette—"Speed Away."—By John W. Todd, Frank Barton, Richard Barton, Vessey. Cornet Solo—"Men of Harlech."—By Bernard Vessey. Duett—Selected.—By Miss Lola McCaddan and Prof. J. W. Todd. Chorus—"From Ever Stormy Wind."—Obligate by Miss McCaddan. Quartette—"Gently Lead Us."—By Misses Barton, Smith and Messrs. Barton and Vessey. Duett—"Lights of Home."—By Miss Lucille Barton and Mr. Bernard Vessey. Chorus—"One Day."—By Chorus. Golden dates: 1917: 13

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

1689 lunches served at the cafeteria during the month of December. Miss Nell Sykes will start her dress-making class Wednesday evening, January 17, at 7 o'clock. All women of the city desiring to join the class please be at the Y. W. C. A. in time to register before the class starts. There are twelve lessons offered for $2.50 and each member is required to join the association. Miss Sykes' millinery class was such a great success, there is sure to be many splendid opportunities offered in dressmaking. February promises to be one of the largest months in the history of the association, every room is taken and a large number are served every noon and evening at the cafeteria. Last Tuesday evening twenty friends of Miss Lulu Conover called to bid farewell before her departure to Honolulu. Miss Conover will be employed as general secretary for the Bible training school at that place. Miss Elvira Frison of Marshfield, Oregon, is making her home at the Y. W. C. A. while her work keeps her in Salem during the legislature. The first lesson in Correct English under Mrs. Alice H. Dodd's instruction will be held Monday evening, January 15, at 7 o'clock. There will be twelve lessons for $2.00 and each member is required to join the association, the fee is one dollar. This entitles a member to one year's membership in the association and the benefit of all privileges. It is not necessary to relate Mrs. Dodd's many capabilities as she is widely known by all. Every woman of the city is invited to join this class. Miss Lucille Barton will resume her duties in the Choral club Wednesday evening, February 7 at 7 o'clock. PLEASANT CLUB MEETING The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hill in the Waldo Hills, was the scene of a merry crowd on Wednesday, January 3, when the members of the Wa Hi club and a few invited friends, enjoyed one of the club's annual trees. Amid bright decorations of the Christmas colors, which were both artistic and pretty, the matrons and maids passed the afternoon hours in various ways. No particular program was arranged and after dinner had been served, which by the way was the kind the Wa Hi club is famous for, a short business session of the club members was held, after which all adjourned to the tree which was soon stripped of its many useful and pretty gifts, and judging from the exclamations of delight over the various packages as they were opened, everybody was pleased. Miss Genevieve Patton favored the guests with a recitation in her best manner, which was roundly applauded. Music and visiting occupied the remainder of the afternoon. By 5 o'clock the cry of "my horse next" had ceased, for the last ring was vended its way down the lane and a smile lit up the face of the muddy hostler.—Stayton Mail.

CRUISER ASHORE

(Continued from page one.) lie could be ascertained, it was believed that the cruiser drifted into the breakers during the early morning hours. For several days the Milwaukee, which came here from Mare Island navy yard, has been trying to put steel hawsers aboard the stranded H-3 preparatory to attempting to pull off the diver which is imbedded in eight feet of sand. Thursday night the hawsers were finally fastened to the submarine and two pulps were given yesterday without success. During this process, the Milwaukee has stood a considerable distance out in the sea, with all her anchors down to resist the strong pull on her by the heavy steel hawsers. It is supposed that loosening of her anchors may have weakened her resistance and drawn her ashore. All indications are that she is hard and fast aground. As soon as word of her predicament reached here, the Humboldt life saving station was notified. A boat was rushed to the scene out through the entrance to the bay and out the outer side of the peninsula towards Samoa. The point where the ship grounded is on the Pacific side of the peninsula, about two miles north of the entrance to Humboldt bay. First News of Wreck. The first news of the wreck reached here when the cruiser sent out a wireless dispatch after daybreak. This said that she had gone ashore at 4 a. m. and was in two fathoms of water. A heavy sea is running and rocking the vessel violently. Evidently this has put the Milwaukee's wireless apparatus out of commission for no farther radiograms have come here. Life savers reached the scene shortly after 9 o'clock with complete apparatus. Crew Will Be Saved. At 10:15 Lieutenant Begus, commander of the H-3, who was on the beach aiding in the attempt to rescue the Milwaukee's crew, declared that the crew would undoubtedly be saved. At that hour the Milwaukee was attempting to float a line ashore, expecting thereafter to rig up the breeches buoy if the line fails to come in, a surf boat will be sent through the breakers with a line. The Milwaukee is about 400 yards from shore, a considerable distance inside the first line of breakers. Her position was declared to be perilous and doubt was expressed on all sides that she could be lifted off. After having waited for two hours the fog closed down again at 10 o'clock, shutting the Milwaukee completely from view. The cause of the cruiser's plight was explained to a United Press representative by a seaman on the ground. While the Milwaukee was preparing to pull off the H-3, she had a line on the Monitor Cheyenne and another on the naval tug Iroquois. In her maneuvers, the Milwaukee got in so close that the pull of the surf caught her. The line aboard the Cheyenne parted and the cruiser at once started going ashore with increased speed. The Iroquois cut out a much line as she could but still found herself being dragged also toward the surf. Consequently the Iroquois line was cut. Freed of this restraint the Milwaukee rushed aground with considerable speed and got past the first line of breakers before she went hard aground. Rushing Aid to Her. San Francisco, Jan. 12.—The coast guard cutter McCulloch rushed preparations today to hurry to Eureka at once to give any aid necessary to the stranded cruiser Milwaukee.

SAWMILL AT WOODBURN

A number of citizens convened in the city hall Tuesday evening and considered the proposition of incorporating the Livesay Lumber and Manufacturing company, those present being heartily in favor of the plan and one that means much for the prosperity of Woodburn. The meeting was called to order by E. X. Beck and Mayor Steelhammer was then made chairman. James Livesay then explained that a movement was on foot to incorporate and take over their mill, buy a large tract of timber and manufacture on a larger scale than at present. It was the sense of the meeting that the capital stock should be $40,000. Livesay & Sons subscribe $10,000 of this. It is understood that others have subscribed to more shares to the amount of several thousand dollars, not only believing it to be a good thing for Woodburn, but a safe and splendid investment. At an average wholesale price per thousand there is a margin of $5.50 on dimension between the price of the raw material and the finished product, allowing $2.50 for milling and putting aboard cars, leaving a balance of $3 per thousand profit for the stockholders. On average clears there is about $6 profit. It can readily be seen that there will be the $3 profit and $2.50 wage or $5.50 on dimension and $8.50 will remain in Woodburn in circulation here. From 20 to 25 men will be employed here.—Independent.

SILVERTON GROWING

The school census recently completed by Assessor A. A. Ulvin shows an interesting figure as to Silverton's population. There are 802 pupils of school age in the district and 640 of these reside within the corporate limits of the city. Estimating the total population of Silverton by a multiple of four, which is a safe estimate, the population of Silverton when the school census was taken was 2568. Many more families have been added to the population during the past few weeks, and it is believed that Silverton contains 3000 inhabitants at the present time. If the territory which properly belongs to the city could be included in this estimate, the population would be much more than 3000, but unfortunately the corporate limits are small—only one mile square—and still there is hope that this may yet be a great city.—Tribune.

HIS WIFE WAS GONE

When Mr. Bowman, of the Rawleigh Medicine company, returned from a trip to the southern part of Marion county Wednesday, he found his home on Fish street deserted and his wife and child missing. While in Turner Mr. Bowman received a letter from a friend in Silverton, by special delivery, informing him of what had happened during his absence. He drove home immediately, and upon investigation found that his household furniture had been moved to the home of a man named Morris, living on North First street, and that the wife and baby had departed for parts unknown. There has never been any trouble in the home of any kind, said Bowman, and no reason can be given for the woman's conduct.—Silverton Tribune.

LAUNDRYMAN SKIPS

A. S. DAVIS, who has been in charge of the Silverton laundry for several months, left town unexpectedly Friday, leaving many debts. Mrs. Folger, who owns the laundry, has attached his furniture, hoping to recover a debt of $200. There are others in the city who would like to know something of his whereabouts. Mrs. Davis went with him, and they stated that they intended to

DIED AT SILVERTON

Leon D. Miller, son of Mrs. Millie Miller, was born Nov. 20th, 1895, near Central Howell and died at his home in Silverton Jan. 7, 1917. He was 22 years, 1 month and 17 days old. He leaves a mother, one brother, Lewis Peor, and two sisters, Vera Ann and Lola Wauana. He had been sick about four years with general tuberculosis which finally caused his death. He was just finishing a 3 year course in electric engineering in the International Correspondence school.—Appeal.

PETITION SENT TO GOVERNOR

A petition signed by a large number of Silverton people asking for the release of Noel Wolfard, has been forwarded to Governor Whitcomb this week. The state officials under whom Noel has been a charge for over a year say that he has given them no trouble at all and believe that he has been sufficiently punished. The young man promises those working for his release that in the event he is liberated he will brace up and be a man.—Silverton Appeal.

SHIPPED REGISTERED STOCK

Doerfler Bros. shipped two young boys Tuesday which netted them $50 each. One went to the college at Mt. Angel and the other to N. Taylor of Esquoda. They have disposed of all the logs they have for sale at this time, but have several orders booked for spring and fall delivery. E. A. Doerfler says his cows are doing fine; two are milking 50 pounds of milk daily.—Silverton Appeal.

SILVERTON WEDDINGS

Opedah Johnson and Ethel Johnson were solemnized at the United Lutheran church, Saturday afternoon, when Miss Anna Louise Johnson became the bride of Thomas Opedah. The ring service was used. Rev. J. C. Roseland officiated. Miss Hanson sang a beautiful solo. Mrs. Roseland played the wedding march on the piano and Mrs. Nora Skjelver presided at the organ. Miss Martha Opedah, sister of the groom was maid of honor, while Otto Legard acted as best man. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion. From the church the happy couple and relatives repaired to the home of the bride where supper was served. Silverton will be the home of this popular young couple and their friends will rejoice in this fact.

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE ALUMNI ISSUE ANNUAL

St. Benedict, Or., Jan. 12.—The Mount Angel college alumni have dedicated the March number of the Pacific Star, the monthly college magazine, to their interests. Embert DeMartini, an attorney of Seattle, who is president of the alumni association, believes that this number will be one of the best issues published by the old members of Mount Angel college. The old students secure the advertising and write editorials, essays and stories for this number. Last year their annual was given great praise by all the other colleges. One of the prominent features of this year's annual will be the listing of the names, occupations and addresses of the most prominent alumni. Another interesting part of the magazine will be illustrations of the various classes of the older students.

It speaks well for the good humor of masculine America that it goes right on, state by state, handing out equal suffrage as fast as it can get around to it, in spite of the tactics of such ladies as those who are about to picket the White House.
