An informal luncheon was given on Tuesday by Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris...

They were Mrs. Bruce L. Bogart, Mrs. Charles A. Hardy, Mrs. Roscoe S. Bryson...

An important social event scheduled in the calendar for St. Valentine's night is the charity ball to be given by the auxiliary of the Spanish American war veterans at the armory.

A number of matrons will be patronesses for the affair including Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mrs. George Palmer Putnam...

Mrs. George M. Post entertained informally on Wednesday afternoon with a delightful sewing bee.

These pink eye-brows and dainty place cards adorned the refreshment table around which the guests were seated at the tea hour.

Assisting Mrs. Post were Mrs. Armin Steiner and Mrs. Clifford Farmer.

Mrs. Post's guests, who were the members of her Kensington club, included Mrs. James Chinook, Mrs. John Coughell, Mrs. Grant Bonnell...

Miss Carolyn Dick, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dick, will leave Monday for Corvallis to attend the Oregon Agricultural College.

Miss Dick is one of the most popular of the younger girls, and will be greatly missed by her little coterie of intimates.

Mrs. Henry B. Thielsen entertained informally on Thursday afternoon with a few tables of bridge in honor of Mrs. Brennan Van Dusen of Astoria...

The Kunitake club composed of a coterie of young girls gathered at the home of Miss Florence Cartwright for tea on Thursday.

Miss Ida Simmons has gone to Portland to pass the week end.

Mrs. Frank G. Myers has added to the gaieties of the past two weeks by giving a series of attractive affairs, one of the most delightful being a luncheon for which she was hostess Monday in honor of Mrs. David W. Eyre's sister, Miss Helene Schuber of Seattle.

Covers for 2 were placed about a table artistically decked with a basket of pink carnations and greens tied with airy tulle.

The party included: Miss Schuber, Mrs. Eyre, Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mrs. George William Gray, Miss Veda Cross, Mrs. William Connell Dyer, Mrs. Frank J. Spears and her guest Miss Amette Linné of Seattle.

Several days ago Mrs. Myers was hostess for a similar affair, when she entertained the members of her sewing club, circulating the table were:

Mrs. James Chinook, Mrs. Armin Steiner, Mrs. George Post, Mrs. Roy Mills, Mrs. Thomas Galloway, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. Craig Marvin, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. John Coughell, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mrs. Sylvester Doerflinger and Mrs. Floyd B. Rauch.

Another of the series of parties being given by Mrs. Myers was a dinner for which she asked Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Siecke.

Last night she again entertained with a dinner her guests being: Mr. and Mrs. George Dunford, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Giddings, Mr. and Mrs. B. Shaver, Mrs. Lenta Westcott, Mrs. Clara Myers and Miss Margaret Cosper.

Ten and all manner of affairs for the benefit of the scholarship loan fund of the Salem Woman's club are still occupying an important place in the social calendar and several matrons entertained again this week. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Fred S. Stewart and

Mrs. E. M. Hoffmann were joint hostesses for one of these affairs, at the residence of the latter. Mrs. George G. Brown presided over the tea table the first hours, her place being taken by Mrs. Frank G. Deckebach.

Assisting about the rooms were: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. E. G. Smyth, Miss Doris Churchill, Miss Lucile Jones, Miss Helen Deckebach and Miss Pitts.

Another of the series was given again on Wednesday night by Mrs. George Pearce and Mrs. Alice H. Dodd at the Pearce residence.

Friday, Mrs. Russell Galin and Mrs. Frank H. Spenser entertained with a Kensington tea for the benefit of the fund and on the same afternoon Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding and Mrs. R. B. Goodin were joint hostesses for a similar affair at the Spaulding home.

Several other matrons also are planning affairs to be given next week.

Mrs. Louis Lachmund was hostess Wednesday for an informal afternoon of bridge, her guests being the members of the Happy Hour club. Four tables were arranged for the game and the score honors were won by Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris.

The members of the Sweet Briar club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. James Imlach on Wednesday afternoon. During the afternoon Mrs. P. J. Derby and Miss Mildred Imlach gave readings.

At the refreshment hour the guests circled small tables, the hostess being assisted by her daughter, Miss Mildred Imlach and Miss Helen Taylor.

Additional guests were: Miss May Fuller, who is the guest of Miss Belle Miller, Mrs. S. J. Derby and Mrs. Will Patrick.

Honoring Mrs. Henry B. Thielsen's guest, Mrs. Brennan Van Dusen of Astoria, Mrs. C. P. Bishop entertained Wednesday night with a delightful dinner party.

A handsome silver candelabra tied with airy bows of tulle adorned the table around which covers were placed for the honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. Thielsen, Senator and Mrs. W. D. Wood of Hillsboro, Representative and Mrs. William W. Lungor of Lafayette, Representative Benjamin C. Sheldon of Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop.

Monday night the members of chapter D of the P. E. O. society will meet at the home of Mrs. B. J. Miles in Salem Heights.

All P. E. O.s not affiliated with chapter D and those visiting in the city are cordially invited.

The Jolly Neighbors club was entertained several days ago with a "movie party." Mrs. L. J. Lounds was hostess for the gathering and later the party enjoyed a supper at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. J. E. Crothers and Miss Martha Prothero assisted the hostess. The guests were: Mrs. W. H. Grabenhorst, Mrs. H. J. Book, Mrs. John Fisher, Mrs. W. L. Hatch and son Donald, Mrs. C. H. Loomis, Mrs. M. H. Utter, Mrs. M. J. Boyd, Mrs. E. H. Prothero, Mrs. L. J. Lounds and daughters Alice and Kathlin, Mrs. E. Crothers, Mrs. C. H. Grabenhorst, Miss Martha Prothero, Miss Carrie Grabenhorst; the additional guests were Mrs. W. H. Harris, Mrs. H. Holmes, Mrs. C. S. Henry, Mrs. P. M. Crouse, Mrs. H. L. Briggs, Mrs. B. V. Ohmart.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Burghardt, Sr., was the scene of a delightful surprise party last night, when about 45 members of the Congregational church gathered to celebrate the anniversary of their birthdays.

They received a beautiful silver piece a gift of their friends. Late in the evening the guests served refreshments.

An informal afternoon of sewing was enjoyed by the members of the Ruthperian club at the home of Mrs. J. W. Walton on Thursday. Mrs. Walton and Mrs. Ray Smith were joint hostesses for the afternoon and the members who numbered 15 gathered around small tables prettily adorned with sweet peas and hyacinths at the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Elmo White will be hostess for the next meeting of the club on February the fifteenth.

The members of the Study club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank J. Miller. The programme for the afternoon covered the study of "France and Belgium." After the study hour music was enjoyed. About ten members gathered for the meeting, Mrs. W. T. Neil of Portland being asked as a guest of the club.

A number of young folk of the Leslie M. E. Sunday school, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bohmstedt, 140 Superior street, for the purpose of organizing the "Live Wires" class last Tuesday evening.

An interesting business meeting was held at which the following officers were elected: A. C. Bohmstedt, president and teacher; Mrs. L. J. Clappin, assistant teacher; Mrs. Florence Miller, first vice president; Mrs. Kenneth E. Micky, second vice president; Floyd Reynolds, secretary; Miss Fern Wells, assistant secretary; Miss Frieda Schindler, treasurer.

It was decided to have a oyster supper in the near future, also that the class meet at the home of the different members each month.

After the business meeting those present were favored by readings by Rev. Aldrich, also selections on the Victrola. Later all joined in singing old time songs, after which dainty refreshments were served by the delightful hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the Mosses Wells, Salem Heights.

At the Y. W. C. A. a colonial tea will be given on Saturday February the tenth by the Salem Woman's club. The calling hours will be from 3:30 to 5 o'clock and each member of the club has the privilege of inviting a guest.

Preceding the tea and important business meeting will be held, and it is desired that all members be present.

Society is indebted to the visitors in town for the diversions of the past week, as they have added impetus to the slowly gathering list of affairs which have marked the new year.

The latter part of the week especially was brimful of festivities honoring guests. Among the most delightful of

Ethel Barrymore Has Greatest Role of Her Career

In "The Awakening of Helena Richie," which will be seen at the Oregon theatre Sunday and Monday Ethel Barrymore has the greatest play of her career as a motion picture star. The role of Helena Richie in this powerful screen version of Margaret Deland's novel, is admirably adapted to the talents of Miss Barrymore.

The acting calls for interpreting the disposition of a beautiful woman of wealth who has experienced deep tragedy as a wife, yet does not comprehend the real responsibilities of life until bitter experience has driven the lesson home to her. Then she is called upon to decide between the man she loves and the child she has adopted.

Here is where she experiences her "awakening." She finds that the man is unworthy of her love—and that realization comes only after she has decided to cling to the child. The situation is an unusually powerful one, and only an actress of Miss Barrymore's ability could successfully portray it on the screen.

Supporting the star are such actors of note as Robert Cummings, Robert Whittier, Hattie Delaro and little Maury Stewart. Mr. Cummings appeared in the speaking production of "The Awakening of Helena Richie" which scored a great triumph on Broadway. He is seen as Lloyd Pryor, Helena's selfish suitor, Robert Whittier plays the part of Frederick Richie, and Maury Stewart is the young little David who wins Helena's heart and leads to her "spiritual awakening."

The role of Sam Wright, the young poet, is played by Hassan Mussallil, who was one of the famous Ben Greet players.

These affairs, was the bridge party for which Mrs. Edwin L. Baker was hostess Tuesday afternoon for her house guest Mrs. Ralph Watson of Portland.

About 25 matrons of society, old friends of the honoree were asked to make up five tables of bridge. Mrs. Oliver C. Locke was awarded the card honor.

The rooms were aglow with crimson carnations and greens and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, Mrs. John Coughell, Mrs. Oliver C. Locke and Mrs. Watson.

Tuesday night a programme will be given at St. Joseph's hall under the auspices of the North Salem Woman's club. The following will be the programme:

- Piano solo, Miss Elnor Hueckstein. Vocal solo, William Harris. Monologue, Miss Genevieve Patton. Fancy dance, Genevieve Barber. Violin solo, Rose Harris. Vocal solo, Mrs. Merlin Harding. Piano solo, Miss Irene Faulkner. Selections, High school Ukulele club. Vocal solo, Miss Johanna James. Pantomime, Martella Shipps. Readings, Miss Lulu Watson. Selections, Willamette University Glee club. Violin solo, Miss Marion Enmons. Vocal solo, Miss Helen Hogue. Piano solo, Miss Elizabeth Briggs.
