during the 30 months of the war, Marquis Okuma, former premier of Japan, said the breaking of relations with America may force Germany to surrender to the allies. America does not need to participate in any of the actual fighting, he believed, in order to accomplish the Kaiser's defeat.

Financial circles in Tokio reflected the general opinion which has resulted from America's new attitude. They do not expect any actual hostilities between the United States and Germany.

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezeone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezeone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

on account of probability of increased appropriation necessary for the institutions. That plan was objected to by Dr. Sweeney, who said that if the legislature is to do constructive legislation it must look farther into the future than two years; it must look 10 years ahead.

Representative Beau sympathized with the subject matter but he thought it was improperly considered. He said there was no definition of "feeble minded" and that it allowed too much liberty to the county judge and that it should be safeguarded from abuse.

Seymour Jones did not believe a child of six years should be committed without the consent of the parents as there was no danger of reproducing its kind at that age. Regarding Beau's objection that any one could swear out a complaint charging feeble-mindedness, Bowman said that such was the law at present.

Lewis then moved that the bill be referred to the judiciary committee for correction and amendment and the motion carried.

SHIP OWNERS MUST NOT TRANSFER BOATS TO ALIEN REGISTRY

President Wilson Issues National Emergency Proclamation On Subject

Washington, Feb. 5.--Acting under the authority conferred upon him by congress, President Wilson today declared there exists "a national emergency" arising from inefficient ships and issued a proclamation forbidding American ship owners from transferring vessels to alien registry.

It was learned that under direction of the president, officials holding positions of unusual responsibility as a result of the present situation have been urged to use great care not to do anything that this government has not a clear legal right to do.

The official warning came in view of the reports that German ships were being seized--something which has not, and will not be done, unless war is declared.

The president feels there is no panic in the United States, but he has determined that whatever other governments may do, this government is going to adhere strictly to the letter of the law. Then if action becomes inevitable the United States, he holds, will be clear of any questionable move and will be free to act upon principles and not upon a basis of expediency.

Least something wise might be done on the subject of temporary emergency or panic, the different government departments have notified all employees that their action must be guided absolutely according to law.

The president's proclamation follows: "Whereas, congress did by an act to establish a United States shipping board for the purpose of encouraging commerce, developing and creating a naval auxiliary and a naval reserve and merchant marine to meet the requirements of the commerce of the United States with its territories and possessions and with foreign countries; to regulate carriers by water engaged in the foreign and interstate commerce of the United States; and for other purposes, approved September 7, 1916, provide that 'during any national emergency the existence of which is declared by proclamation by the president, no vessel registered or enrolled and licensed under the laws of the United States shall, without the approval of the board, be sold, leased or chartered to any person not a citizen of the United States or transferred to a foreign registry or flag.

"And whereas, many ship owners in the United States are permitting their ships to pass to alien registry and to the Grand resolution and it was made the special order for Tuesday, along with it.

The Morning Routine.

The session opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Thurston, of the Advent church.

The house notified the senate it had passed S. B. No. 95 with amendments, and these were concurred in.

A message from the governor notified the senate he had signed senate bills Nos. 71, 87 and 90.

The senate was notified the house had passed bills Nos 184 and 405, and also H. C. R. No. 5, regarding car shortage and asking the interstate commerce commission to take such steps as were necessary to relieve the situation. H. J. R. No. 12, requesting that certain sections of Grant and Baker counties be mapped topographically.

Bills were reported by committee as follows:

Senate bills Nos. 228, 242, 190, 191, 203, 195, 134, 192, 231, 209 and 208 were reported favorably.

Senate bills Nos 158 and 183 were reported with amendments and reports adopted. The same treatment was given house bill No. 277.

Senate bill No. 252 was made the special order for Wednesday at 10:30. This is the insurance bill and is perhaps the longest that will be up at this session, containing 124 pages. It is really a new insurance code.

Senate bills Nos. 226, 227 and from 247 to 257 inclusive were read second time.

New Bills Today.

S. B. No. 258, by Hawley, Regulating the sale of agricultural lime.

S. B. No. 259, by Hawley, Empowering state veterinarians to appoint deputies when needed, and outlining method for stamping out bovine tuberculosis in time of emergency.
