LONG LOST BRIDGE BILL BECOMES LAW

Signed by Governor This Afternoon—Has Emergency Clause

At nine o'clock this morning the Marion-Polk inter-county bridge bill was placed in the hands of Governor Withycombe by Chief Clerk Drager, and this afternoon a few minutes before two o'clock the governor signed it. As it carried an emergency clause, the bill became a law on the signature of the governor.

When the governor was presented with the bill by Chief Clerk Drager, he said he would sign it immediately. But, on looking the measure over he found it contained an emergency clause, which surprised him. He said he would take some time to think it over. He signified his intention of signing it, however, and letting the matter be fought out in the courts, as it is believed it will be.

When the bill is returned to the chief clerk, he will make a note of the exciting circumstances in the life of the bill, and enter it on the journal of the house. According to the provisions of the bill, Marion county, unless stopped by court injunction, can go ahead and build a bridge across the Willamette river here and assume all liability and have complete control over the Polk county court notwithstanding.

Eugene Walloped Salem Electric

The way the Eugene Obak team went after the Salem Electric in the Willamette Valley Bowling League contest at Eugene Saturday night was not slow. In the first place the Obaks made the highest score yet rolled in the valley league. The next thing they defeated the Electric, and that tied them with Salem for first place in the league. Then they took all three games and grabbed the high average.

When the pins were all gathered it was found that Eugene had knocked out 2311 points and Salem 2740. The high game was rolled by Patton of Eugene with 242 points; he also took high average with 226 points. The tabulated score follows:

Table with columns: Obaks, (1), (2), (3), Av. Rows: Shaw, McCormack, Marshall, Wallace, Patton, Totals.

Bright Vaudeville at the Bligh Yesterday

One of the best bills booked for some time by the Salem vaudeville fans was seen at the Bligh yesterday, the program consisted of three acts including "Kelly and Rowe" a man and a woman offered a travesty and singing number called "All for fun" the title of the act tells the story in three words and tells it truthfully as was verified by the amount of applause rendered. Burt Zarle and his talking banjo were second on the bill and from the talkfest, Burt plays the banjo as no other can play it and after hearing him you would not wonder why he calls it his talking banjo. The Melvilles come last but not least presenting what is termed a "Study in Electricity" it is really a posing act, but arranged on new and novel lines that combine beauty, color and art. Aided by electricity the poses of this clever couple are absolutely beautiful in every way, in conjunction with the poses special scenery was shown which enhanced the posing very much. It is needless to add that the costuming was correct in every detail making the act really beautiful to behold. Cleo Madison in Black Orchids a Rex Ingram production was the Bluebird feature on the show which needless to say are always good.

JAPANESE PRESS ATTACKS AMERICA

Says United States Treats Japanese Worse Than It Does Negroes

By Ralph H. Turner.

(United Press staff correspondent.) Tokio, March 5.—Bitter attack on the United States for American discrimination against the Japanese was the most significant part of editorial comment here today on the German plot to align Mexico and Japan with Germany against the United States.

The attack was made by the newspaper Osaka Mai-Nichi. Revelation of the plot, it declared, "illustrated the weakness of American diplomacy toward Germany," and, continuing its criticism along this line, added: "The United States of America treats the Japanese worse than negroes. We advise the government to take the opportunity to open negotiations to correct this unfair attitude on the part of America."

Except for this comment from the Osaka newspaper, the press and public were generally unconcerned over the German "plot." The Tokio newspaper Mai-Nichi was the only one in addition to the Mai-Nichi which commented editorially on the matter at all. The Mai-Nichi could not forbear admiring the "ingenuity" of the Germans in this connection.

After May 20, when the new law concerning bounties on moles, gophers, etc., goes into effect, a bounty will be placed on the scalls of gray-diggers also, which was one of the big things done by the recent legislature. This was passed undoubtedly because the gray-digger fraternity did not have any one at the capital to lobby against the bill. The bounty is reduced on gophers and moles from ten cents to five cents but the gray-diggers are added. There is the sum of $200 still in the treasury from the mole and gopher bounty appropriation, and if there is any left by May 20, it will be applied on gray-diggers also. At the rate the money is going now, it is expected there will be about a hundred dollars on hand by May 20 to pay out on gray-diggers.

Denial that M. C. Davis has paid him the sum of $305.64 for goods sold and delivered, L. R. Landon has filed a reply to the answer made by the defendant Davis stating that the money had been paid. The reply denies that Landon accepted payment and states that the full sum is still due and owing. Judgment is asked as prayed for.

The agent of the Oregon Electric company here filed with the county clerk today one permit for the importation of alcohol under the new "bone dry" law. Portland Lost One of Its Militia Companies

Portland, Or., March 5.—One of Portland's national guard companies is doomed today, but the militia general staff refuses to tell which it is. The company is scheduled to be disbanded here and reorganized elsewhere, as it has not been properly supported.

The general staff's "rocking chair" loud in denunciation of "rocking chair patriots" who were blamed for much of the failure to give militia units satisfactory backing. It was clearly indicated that every company must be kept at required strength and in the highest state of efficiency however, or be disbanded.

East Oregonian: A carload of Oregon made hardwood singletrees, double trees and wagon reaches will be shipped into Pendleton in the near future from Marion county to be sold to the farmers of this county at auction. L. F. Evans of Salem, manufacturer, is here today making arrangements for the sale. His products are made of Willamette valley grub oak and is seasoned in sawdust so that there is no check or warping. His industry is a unique one but is thriving, he states, inasmuch as he is able to sell for 50 per cent of the cost of eastern products. If the first sale is a success, he plans to hold others.
