Monmouth News

(Capital Journal Special Service) Monmouth, March 5.—Rural school week which began on Feb. 19 and ended on the 24th, has been pronounced a decided success. The idea originated with Prof. M. S. Pittman and the plan has been worked out so nicely that it will very probably be tried again next year with two weeks given to the work instead of only one. The first week the student teachers would work with and under the direction of the regular teacher and the second week she would take entire charge of the school while the regular teacher would be visiting the normal. Washburn county was one of the five counties included in the plan but on account of sickness there the students that had been assigned to schools in the county had to be sent to various places in the four other counties. During the five school days of the week Mr. Pittman visited thirty-four different schools, traveling mostly by auto. The faculty members who visited the various county meetings at the close of the week, report favorably and seem well pleased with results. A rousing reception was given the one hundred thirty students on their return and on Monday the last net in the "Piper's play", led by the proud and happy hero came a grand procession of students, superintendents and supervisors, then also led by the peerless "piper" several interesting group stunts were given, his royal highness Supt. Cannon of Benton, and the various group leaders were crowned with fitting ceremony, and the rural visitors were welcomed back to the normal in a pleasant and clever talk by Marvin Richardson of Independence.

Miss Tarbell Lectured Ida M. Tarbell, noted writer and lecturer, spoke here Monday night on "Industrial idealism" to a large and appreciative audience. She commends the "modern" business man for his humane treatment of his employees but says it is not from the goodness of his heart that he protects the life and health of his workers but merely because it pays him to do so.

Professor Dunn of the University of Oregon who gave an illustrated lecture on The Holy Land last Saturday night, was entertained at the dormitory for the week end and was an honor guest at Miss Parrott's dinner party on the same evening.

Prof. Gilmore was most agreeably surprised Wednesday evening by the other members of the faculty, the occasion being his birthday; refreshments were served and a social evening enjoyed.

The Vesperine society of the normal gave a very interesting and patriotic entertainment at their regular meeting Friday evening. There were several readings, flag drills and patriotic songs. The talk by Miss Mable Eaton "What a man can do for his town"; "The meaning of our flag" by Reta Linn and "The man without a country" by Miss Stella Basford were especially good.

Honored the President The Delphian literary society had their second meeting of the semester on Friday evening, the program given was in honor of Lincoln and Washington and was a worthy tribute to these great men. The banquet tables were decorated in the national colors. Toasts to the heroes were given and responded to. The banquet was closed by a toast to President Wilson and the singing of America by the audience. Following roll call Pres. Ackerman gave reminiscences of his visit to Mount Vernon in a most interesting and instructive manner, after which Miss Randall sang the beautiful song "Potomac Bells."

A lutelet drill in costume was very attractive and "The Masquerade," a Washington story was charmingly told by Miss Lloyd.

The timely question of declaring war on Germany was debated at the high school last Monday, the judges deciding for the affirmative. It is safe to say however that if these students and judges knew that in the event of war with a foreign power they would have to leave home and loved ones

The Gay Cockade

The sophomore reception given in the high school gymnasium Saturday night was a very enjoyable affair. The programs were in the form of Washington hats, refreshments of clover leaf cookies and cherry jellies with whipped cream. The following excellent program was rendered: Solo by Miss Randall; speech, George Washington the man, by George Walker; game, group of maidens; reading, Mr. Dobell; solo, Mr. Morgan; reading and encore, Prof. Tavener.

At the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday night the questions of sidewalks, septic tanks and paving were discussed and it was decided to order in a number of new walks; an ordinance on the limiting of indebtedness which the council may assume and one validating outstanding warrants were brought up and passed.

A very interesting program is promised for the parent-teacher meeting to be given in the training school auditorium Tuesday night; a special feature will be an address by J. D. Mielke, state dairy and food commissioner.

Personal Mention C. P. Cornwall has gone to Portland where he has secured work in the ship yards.

George Botcher has moved his family into W. H. Scott's house in south Monmouth. Mr. Scott will camp in the yard, at least for the summer.

Among other improvements the cooperative creamery has just received a new cream ripener.

Rev. W. A. Elkins attended inspection of his artillery company Tuesday night at Albany.

The Misses Maggie and Alice Butler attended Rebekah lodge in Salem last Thursday night. Mrs. Wattenberg, the district president of the Rebekah assembly was present and the work was put on beautifully. Mrs. Wattenberg is a cousin of the Misses Butler.

Charles Herron has planted a two acre patch of potatoes and several other planted early garden before the recent cold spell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Edwards, Mrs. E. R. Ostrom and daughter, both, are found to Salem Saturday; they found the roads rude but the ferry very slow and inconvenient. The ferry charges were thirty five cents each way for the car and four passengers, and almost two hours were consumed for the round trip.

Miss Gladys Evans went to Salem Saturday morning to spend the week-end with Miss Dahlgren Ostrom who is attending the Capital Business College. The Athena and Y. M. C. A. literary societies of the high school had a joint jollification, Thursday night, in the high school building. Refreshments of peanuts and allday sucklers were indulged in, old time games were played and a jolly time enjoyed.

The first basketball team of the Monmouth high school met the Beuna Vista team in a game Friday night at Independence which resulted in victory for Beuna Vista, the score being 25 to 21.

Miss Ethel Craig spent an over Sunday with her parents, J. Craigs. Grant Farris was in Salem on Saturday.

Stayton News Items

(Capital Journal Special Service) Stayton, March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brewer were in Stayton Sunday from the dairy ranch in Linn county. Domestic science and manual training will be on the list of studies of the high school next year, it is thought. Mrs. Pratt, the public school teacher, had her birthday recognized by her pupils the other day in the way of a neat little compliment by the youngsters who had made the discovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bright who have been away from Stayton for some months have returned to the city. Miss Pearl Mack is ill with tonsillitis and is under the care of Dr. Beauchamp.

Principal W. C. Gaunt of the public school, and fellow Masons, will attend the lodge meeting at Turner Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Brewer will visit Salem near the end of the week. Governor Witherby will speak in the Methodist church next Sunday night on "Citizenship." It is expected the high school orchestra will furnish music and Mrs. J. W. Mayo has promised to sing.

Sunday night the rain here for a time was heavy cleaning out the last signs of snow about the city. The stage from Salem was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon. A missionary class met at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gladys Hamman returned from Salem Sunday afternoon. Superintendent Will S. Hale of the state training school for boys, was in Stayton Sunday night where he delivered an address in one of the churches.

D. B. Snyder, a Salem insurance man accepted a flattering offer to work in eastern Oregon and left recently by auto for that section.

MARRIED, ALLEN-JOHNSON Frank L. Allen and Miss E. Fayette Johnson, two of our most worthy and highly respected young people, were quietly married at Vancouver Tuesday afternoon. After a brief stay at Portland they will be at home to their many friends in this city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Johnson, and is a member of the firm of M. W. Johnson & Co. She is one of Marion county's most highly accomplished young ladies and her circle of friends is limited only by her acquaintances.

Mr. Allen is numbered among our most energetic and industrious young men; possesses exemplary habits and enjoys an enviable reputation for veracity. He has been employed as superintendent of a force of ship knee makers in this vicinity for several months, and it is expected that he will be stationed here indefinitely.—Donald Record.

TWO CHINAMEN KILLED San Francisco, March 5.—Two Chinamen were killed and a Filipino was shot through the leg as the result of a tong fight which broke out in Chinatown this afternoon.

Letero Dalrin, a Filipino waiter, was near the scene of the shooting and received a bullet in the leg.

Low Gin Tuen and Wong Yang, members of the Bing Kong tong, were arrested by the police after the former had been identified by Toy Ju as one of the men who did the shooting.

The shooting is supposed to have been a demonstration staged by the Bing Kongs against a peace meeting that was scheduled to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon to settle differences that have existed between the Bing Kongs and Hop Sing.

University Notes

Mr. C. C. Robinson of New York City, international Y. M. C. A. secretary for employed boys, gave an interesting address before the student body yesterday, as it has been his privilege to hear. Mr. Robinson is engaged in the work of helping boys to find their place in the world, and to keep them from drifting. He stated that there was four million boys in the United States, between the ages of 12 and 18 who need such help.

In speaking of a choice for man's life work, the speaker said one should be governed by the need of the work, one's knowledge of the work and one's ability. A salary is a secondary consideration, the successful man receives what he is worth.

"The greatest art in the world is the power of affecting the quality of the day," said Mr. Robinson, and "the greatest art in life is the power of affecting as many lives as possible for good."

Anticipating two track meets about a month in the future Coach Mathews recently issued his call to the cinder path artists for hard daily work. The first meet in which Willamette will enter is the O. A. C. Relay Carnival, April 7, the second will probably be the Columbia university indoor meet, at Portland, April 14.

Three good men on last year's non-conference championship squad will be missed in several events this year: Bert Ford in the sprints, Bayley for the javelin, and Brown in the weights. However, of the old men Grosvenor, Small, Jackson, Stevens and Chapler are expected to do better work than in last year's events. Of the new men, Paul Sutherland, Collins, Taylor and Nichols are capable in various events. Trull already has an enviable record in the sprints.

On account of a severe attack of tonsillitis Roswell Wultz was unable to start with the glee club on their tour, Monday morning. But as soon as he recovers he will meet the club, and probably will be with the larger part of the trip.

In just a week Raymond Robins will be the chief attraction on the campus. His three and four day sojourns at the Universities of Southern California, California and Stanford have been nothing short of marvelous according to reports circulated through the columns of the college newspapers. At every place he is requested to stay longer and to give more addresses than is possible.

The seating capacity of every auditorium is crowded to the limit. At present Mr. Robins is at the University of Nevada, and from there he will come to Willamette. His full time will be at the disposal of the university March 12, 13 and 14. From here he is scheduled to continue his mission at Oregon Agricultural college, Reed college, University of Washington, University of Idaho and Washington State college.
