By ALICE THOMPSON

THE much heralded Cadman-Talmina concert at the Grand theatre tonight, is perhaps the most interesting event scheduled in the calendar for today and judging from the seat reservations will call forth an unusual quota of enthusiastic spectators.

The name of Charles Wakefield Cadman will hold a vital place in America's history. He is making a distinct place for himself, not only with his beautiful compositions, but because he has discovered that the native Americans (the Indians) have a music of their own which is sincere and beautiful.

It is his great desire to develop this music and Salom folk are fortunate in being able to hear this eminent artist and the sweet mezzo soprano Princess Talmina, who is a full blooded Indian and a type of the native talent and ability.

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lettie have as their guests for the day Mrs. Lettie's brother-in-law and sister, Senator and Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield of Portland, who have been visiting in Portland.

Senator Stanfield who was speaker of the house at the recent legislature, came to Salem to attend to business.

A charming affair of this afternoon was the bridge party for which Mrs. Frank A. Turner and Miss Joy Turner were hostesses in honor of Mrs. Rex A. Turner, whose marriage to the former's son was an event of last month.

The bridge tables were circled by a number of matrons and maids who gathered to meet the visitor, and the rooms were decked artistically with an

Grand Patriotic Rally at First Congregational

Everything is in readiness for the grand patriotic rally which will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Congregational church. An especially fine musical program of patriotic selections has been arranged by the large chorus choir. Mrs. Frank Frickey will sing, "The Star Spangled Banner." The subject for the evening will be appropriate, "The Duty of the Hour," and 10 minute addresses will be delivered by Mayor Walter Keyes, Governor James Withycombe and Rev. James Elvin. The famous European war pictures, three reels of actual scenes from the war, striking commentaries will be shown. Everybody invited and everybody welcome.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and ruff you may have.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffly, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

School Board Will Consider Training

A special meeting of the school board will be held next Monday evening to consider the introduction of military drill in the high school in accordance with the law passed by the last legislature. This patriotic movement for military drill was initiated by the boys of the school. According to the new law, high schools are authorized to secure competent instructors and to include military instruction. It is entirely optional with the young men. Credits will be given as in any study. The means of securing equipment is somewhat indefinite, as while the legislators favored military drill for high school students, they failed to appropriate any funds for equipment. However, the young men of the school having decided they would like to get the advantages of the West Point physical exercises and of military drill, the subject will be brought before the directors. It is understood the board of education favors some kind of patriotic drill for the young men but no details have as yet been worked out.

Charles Wakefield Cadman, the eminent composer who with Princess Talmina, will appear in concert at The Grand theatre tonight.

SAYS A CORN ACTS LIKE ELECTRIC BELL

Tells Why a Corn Is So Painful and Says Cutting Makes Them Grow

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, itching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin.

"The Traitor's Kiss" Subject of Sermon

Another splendid service was held at the First Christian church last night. Evangelist and Mrs. Fagan sang effectively a duet, and Miss Cave sang a beautiful solo. The sermon subject was "The Traitor's Kiss." Among other things the evangelist said: "The name Judas is the most unpopular of all Bible names. No one would think of naming their boy after this apostle. I never even heard of a dog having this name. It stands today as a synonym for deceit, treachery and hypocrisy. And this because of his act which culminated in the kiss he gave to Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane.

"The traitor's kiss was no stain on the name or character of the Christ. Nor does hypocrisy make Christianity untrue. If you go back on Christ because there are some hypocrites in the church, then you are following Judas.

"Each one of us should see in Judas the possibility of ourselves. Do not imagine you are such a strong Christian that you can tamper with sin. Some stronger ones than you have gone down before the onslaught of Satan. Avoid the very appearance of evil.

"The story of Judas reminds us again of the high cost of sinning. The way of the transgressor is hard, and the wages of sin is death. You cannot escape the law of sowing and reaping. There is no place secret enough to hide a rogue. Billy Sunday says, 'Some folks have fallen so low they will need to take an airship to get to hell.'

"Judas was filled with remorse but he failed to go back to Christ and ask forgiveness. Some folks are worse off than Judas. They will sell their Lord for less than 30 pieces of silver and never have a pang of conscience. Peter's sin was almost as bad as Judas' but he came back. No matter what your sin may have been if you will come back to the Christ and obey his gospel he will forgive."

The subject for tonight is "The Geography of the Kingdom." Mrs. Fagan will sing "Calvary."

ETHICAL SIDE OF

represented—land owners, peasants, members of the liberal professions, manufacturers and workmen—in fact the Russian people.

A few days after the duma had issued its ultimatum the ministers of war and of the navy addressed the duma, reporting upon the work of their departments, praising the public organizations, that were working for the support of the army and stating that there must be co-operation between the duma and the government.

Hampered by Colleagues.

The new prime minister appointed attempted honestly to work with the duma. He tried to rid himself of colleagues in whom neither he nor the duma had confidence. He failed, however, and was in turn dismissed and a frankly reactionary minister was appointed and those members of the government whose names had been mentioned in the pro-German intrigue were retained in office. The date for re-opening of the duma was postponed.

When the duma convened finally on February 27 it declared that the new government did not represent responsible government. In the meantime the food situation in the large urban centers had become a real crisis. There was danger of disorders breaking out. Then came the edict dissolving the duma. After trying moral pressure to no purpose, the duma had to resort to revolutionary methods.

The revolution is a purely political revolution, with the single aim of establishing representative government. The duma leaders will be able to hold the confidence of the people, for they are acting in accordance with the popular demands definitely voiced by the all-comprehensive public organizations mentioned above.

The same organizations have made it possible to bring of this revolution rapidly and without much violence.

Army Supports Duma.

The duma is supported by the army, for the army would have starved but for the work of the public organizations, the presidents of which are among the duma leaders. The fact that the army is behind the duma also accounts for the fact that this revolution was attended by a minimum of disorders.

The revolution is political but not anti-dynastic. Every effort was made to convince the emperor that he could safely trust the people, that the people were really to him and whole heartedly back of the war, but it seemed impossible to gain his ear. Constitutional government was the demand of the duma and is the object of the revolution, but the monarchial idea is firmly established in Russia and the movement was directed, not against the duling dynasty, but against the irresponsible ministers who were deceiving, or at least giving bad counsel to their sovereign.

Finally the aim of the movement and its justification is to secure conditions which will make it possible for Russia to put forward all her strength for the successful prosecution of the war.

Necessary to Win War.

Last summer leaders of the duma said to me: "Perhaps we will have to have a revolution before we can win the war." These same leaders saw then and admitted the danger of such a move.

But they have finally realized that the movement had to be made and they saw also—it is now clear—that it could be concluded quickly and effectively without weakening Russia from the military point of view.

Many looking forward to the military operations of the coming spring, but knowing the internal conditions in Russia, had doubts. These doubts should now be dispelled. Again, many knowing of the pro-German intrigue going on in Russia feared—not separate peace—but a premature settlement.

The revolution spells the end of these anxieties. The revolution means a more active prosecution of the war to victory.

NO HOPE FOR TREATY

Washington, March 16.—Administration senators today gave up hope of having the Colombian treaty ratified during the special session of the senate and consented to put it over until the extra session on April 16.

In the meantime efforts will be made to have the state department agree to "slight modifications," expected to make the treaty acceptable to the republican opposition.

Willamette Elects May Day Manager

In the regular student body meeting of Willamette university this morning, Paul Miller was unanimously elected May Day manager. The steam roller went through the assembly like greased lightning. He was nominated, the nomination seconded, and immediately a motion to cast an unanimous ballot passed without a dissenting vote. Miller possesses all of the requirements for a successful May Day manager. He has original ideas, is liked by the whole student body, and is capable of working with and getting work out of the students.

May Queen Candidates

At the same time three candidates were nominated, by popular ballot, for the much honored position of May Queen. The three senior women who received the highest number of votes were the Misses Rosamond Gilbert, Violet Maclean and Lila Doughty. According to the constitution the final balloting must occur on the following Wednesday, but since next week is spring vacation, the balloting will take place a week from the logical date. The candidate receiving the highest

MAY STOP NAVAL WORK

Washington, March 16.—That this government's greatest naval construction program, the first section of which was announced yesterday, will be held up and perhaps stayed indefinitely, in event of a nation wide railroad strike, was the unofficial statement made by navy experts today.

Almost all of the yards which were awarded contracts in the $120,000,000 building program of battle and scout cruisers, are building on "day to day" receipts of materials.

The Boils Of Lazarus

were caused by the dogs who licked the infected places, but they were not cured. Many modern people employ the same method in their treatment of boils, pimples, rashes, carbuncles, eczema and other skin diseases. They apply a salve or lotion to the sore places and fondly imagine they have cured them. The important fact which they fail to recognize is, that these skin diseases are diseases of the blood, and that no external treatment can permanently cure them because they are essentially internal ailments.

S. S. S. is the only proper remedy for this breeding out of the skin, because it acts upon the blood, clearing and revitalizing it, and removing the cause of infection. It should be borne in mind that S. S. S. is purely vegetable, made from native roots, herbs and barks, and that it contains no habit-forming drugs or other injurious ingredients. Obtain a bottle of S. S. S. from your druggist, and if you need the advice of a physician, write to the Medical Department, Swift Specific Co., 301 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Painless Parker---Outlaw

His Confessions

CHAPTER II.
 Wherever you hear Painless Parker boasted by his brother dentists or by those who have fallen for their "bunk," you will hear the word "unethical."

There's the indictment in a nutshell. Being "ethical" is obeying the simple rules of moral conduct. That's about what the dictionary definition amounts to. So, I'm accused of failing to live up to the moral code.

The San Francisco district dental society, as well as other similar societies throughout America, has drawn up a schedule of minimum fees which are to be charged for work done by its members. According to the rules, it is "unethical" to charge below these fixed rates.

There are some funny items in this fee schedule. Take it down the line, the "ethical" dentists are banded together to charge from five to ten times what the actual work costs. They are leagued to charge, for instance, $10 per tooth for bridge work, the material for which does not cost more than from 20 cents to $1.50 at the outside limit. For a single gold crown, to quote another ex-

I am "unethical" because I don't and won't charge those burglar prices. My definition of "ethical" is just like the other fellow's. My practice, however, seems to be radically different.

I believe it is "unethical" (unmoral) to charge a patient ten times what the job is worth. I don't care how many dentists band together in all sorts of associations, adopt rules, and pass resolutions condemning the man who will cut prices; I contend that the dentists who "combine in restraint of trade" are just as guilty as the "manufacturers of great wealth" that Uncle Sam sends to prison.

"Ethical?" Does your Dental Society conspirator have some of humor enough to realize how ridiculous he is when he makes this claim for himself? I'm going to write a very frank history of my own career, first as an "ethical" and later as an "unethical" dentist. And I shall tell some ludicrous things about the "ethical" ways of the amalgamated tooth-plumbers. Adv.
