

SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON.

MRS. JOHN H. McNary's tea this afternoon to honor her two charming nieces, the Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, formerly of Seattle, was one of the largest and most notable events of the season.

The attractive rooms were thronged all afternoon with prettily gowned matrons and maids, over 200 guests calling to welcome the girls who have come here to make their home and are very popular in Salem society.

The residence was decked with masses of brilliant foliage and lovely flowers that foretell the approach of spring, daffodils and wild grape being effectively used in the living room where the hostess, the Misses Gray and their guests, Miss Eva Bailey of Hillsboro, received the guests.

In the dining room the tea table was artistic with a huge basket of yellow spring flowers, surrounded by small silver vases of freesia and gerani, and yellow candles.

A shower of shamrock and anilax was arranged from the chandelier and the table was presided over by Mrs. Charles Gray, Miss Nina McNary, Mrs. Charles L. McNary and Mrs. George William Gray.

Assisting in the dining room were: Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mrs. Clyde C. Graham, Mrs. Robert Kinney of Astoria, Mrs. William Connell Dyer, Mrs. Frank H. Spears, Miss Ellen Thielson, Miss Hazel Downing, Miss Margery Marvin and Miss Rita Steiner.

Two charming little maids, Miss Prudence Patterson and Miss Margaret Stolt greeted the guests at the door, and the hostess was assisted in the reception room by Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mrs. Ruben P. Boise, Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. Ray L. Farmer, Miss Margaret Cooper and Miss Mabel Robertson.

Mrs. Merrill Bruce Moores (Gertrude Jones) who with Mr. Moores, has been passing the greater part of the winter in Salem, returned to her home in Portland, Thursday, after a few days visit at "Lashish Meadows," the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones.

Mr. Moores returned to Portland the early part of the week.

The Moores are very popular in Salem and will be greatly missed by their many friends.

Mrs. C. D. Bishop, who has been enjoying a delightful visit in Hood River as the guest of Mrs. C. T. Roberts, returned today.

She was accompanied by her son, Charles Bishop, of Pendleton who will remain over the week end.

Mrs. Rex A. Turner, one of the latest brides of the season, was honored for the charming bride for which her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank A. Turner, and her sister-in-law, Miss Joy Turner were hostesses yesterday afternoon.

Guests were asked to make up twelve tables of the game and later in the afternoon the players were joined by several additional matrons and maids. Card honors fell to Mrs. W. Carlton Smith and Mrs. Max O. Buren.

The rooms were decked with an array of yellow spring flowers effectively combined with brilliant Oregon grape and decorations suggestive of St. Patrick's day. A green color scheme predominated, the appointments and refreshments, also being carried out in keeping with the occasion.

The honor guest who is an attractive brunette was attired in a charming gown of lavender crepe de chine, trimmed with cream lace and pearl beads, worn with a corsage bouquet of violets.

Little Miss Constance Fox and Miss Elizabeth Thompson greeted the guests at the door and the hostesses were assisted in the card rooms by Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. George G. Burnett. Assisting in the serving were Miss Winifred Eyre, Miss Marion Emmons, Miss Glyde Gardner and Miss Hulah Fox.

Those asked to meet Mrs. Turner were:

Mrs. L. K. Page, Mrs. F. E. Shafer, Mrs. Armin Steiner, Mrs. Wm. J. Liljequist, Mrs. Joseph S. Austin, Mrs. R. B. Goodin, Mrs. Floyd Utter, Mrs. M. B. Schuerie, Mrs. E. S. Tillinghast, Mrs. James T. Chinook, Mrs. Geo. M. Post, Mrs. H. H. Cory, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Miss Florence McKinney, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. Thomas Sims of Portland, Mrs. Geo. G. Waters, Mrs. Thos. B. Kay, Mrs. Wm. S. Mott, Mrs. D. C. Minto, Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. Donald Miles, Mrs. Wm. McGilchrist, Sr., Mrs. Wm. McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Robertson, Mrs. Frank K. Myers, Mrs. H. J. Schindlerman, Miss Mabel Withycombe, Mrs. Irwin Griffith, Mrs. J. A. Benjamin, Mrs. Chas. A. Murphy, Mrs. Geo. P. Fox, Mrs. W. G. Allen, Mrs. Roy Burton, Mrs. M. O. Buren, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. Wm. Babcock, Mrs. E. F. Garlison, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Geo. H. Burnett.

Friends of Mrs. Clifford Brown are sympathizing with her in the death of her father, W. W. Bretherton, who passed away today at the family home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harrison's dance Thursday night, was a gala event.

Informality was the keynote of the affair, which made it one of the merriest and most delightful of the week's festivities.

It was a St. Patrick party and the residence decked with vivid hued spring flowers effectively combined with St. Patrick novelties and quantities of greenery, was thronged with dancers, all of whom wore sheet and pillow cases and masks during the early part of the evening.

At the supper hour the merry making was increased when each guest was asked to tell a story suggestive of the occasion.

A confetti battle, begun by the men, ended in a riot of entangling colored streamers and rounded out the gaiety of the evening.

Mrs. Harrison was assisted by Mrs. Chauncey Bishop.

Those asked to participate in the affair were: Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gager, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic D. Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover, Miss Mabel Withycombe, Miss Ellen Thielson, Miss Gertrude Gray, Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Margaret Gray, Miss Eva Bailey of Hillsboro and Asabel Bush, Carl Gabrielson, Paul Wallace, James Young, Daniel J. Fry, Jr., Ralph Moores and Roy Barth.

Artistically appointed and charming in every detail was the luncheon for which Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. Fred A. Legg were joint hostesses today at the Steeves residence on North Church street.

An artistic arrangement of yellow gerani and wide green morie ribbon decked the table and the appointments were all suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

The rooms also were prettily decorated in keeping with the occasion, and luncheon was followed by a delightful afternoon of music and chatter.

The guests were: Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mrs. W. A. Albert, Mrs. John Withycombe, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Edward S. Tillinghast, Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. Lee Achison.

Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., returned Thursday from Portland, where she has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. E. Draper, for a few days.

En route to Portland Mrs. Burghardt visited Mrs. Edward E. Brodie in Oregon City for a day or so.

Honoring Mrs. Charles L. McNary on the occasion of her birthday anniversary, Mrs. William H. Danaey entertained Wednesday with a matinee party at the Liberty theatre, followed by a delightful lunch at her residence.

The table was decked with exquisite spring flowers, tulips, narcissus, gerani and gypsophylla, all being arranged artistically in a huge basket.

A lovely birthday cake and yellow whetted candles also added to the artistic effect.

With the honor guest and the hostess, the party included, Mrs. Ruben P. Boise, Mrs. George F. Rodgers, Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, Mrs. Carlton Smith, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. James A. Wilson, Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. George L. Rose, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. George G. Brown and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin.

Delightful in every way was the "500" party for which the members of the crisilla club were hostesses Tuesday night at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Mott on South Commercial street.

Following a custom of several years, the members of the club give these delightful parties each season, at which they entertain their husbands and friends.

Over 50 married folk were asked to participate in Friday night's affair, and the card honors were won by Mrs. W. I. Staley and A. S. Hussey. Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding and Homer H. Smith were awarded the consolation.

The residence was decked with quantities of lovely spring flowers, a color scheme of yellow being developed by the use of tulips, with greens and ferns adding to the artistic effect.

The Priscilla club is composed of about a dozen matrons, most all of whom assisted in the sewing.

Those playing besides the club members and their husbands were: Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cretton, Judge and Mrs. William Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boyton, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lecker, Mrs. Thomas H. Sims of Portland, Mrs. Baker, Miss Helene Schober of Seattle, Dr. W. H. Byrd and Dr. William Mott.

As a gay finale to a week brimful of smart events comes the charming dance for which the Harry E. Clay will be hosts tonight at their residence.

It will be a St. Patrick's party and will perhaps be one of the most delightful memories of the week.

The Clays delight in entertaining their friends and are responsible for several of the gayest and merriest festivities of each season.

Tonight's affair which will be a repetition of the many good times had at their home, will be characterized by charming informality.

Those asked to participate in the gayeties are: Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic D. Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Guy Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Melvin Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill B. Moores of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hofer, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Zedee J. Mrs. Charles Gray came home from Eugene today and is the house guest of Mrs. John H. McNary. She will remain in Salem over the week end.

Mrs. M. L. Jones of "Lashish Meadows," who has been visiting relatives and friends in Portland for several days, returned Thursday.

The Monday Dancing club's St. Patrick party Monday night at the Moose hall, sustained that organization's reputation of several years' standing for being sponsor for a number of the most attractive parties each season.

The affair which was to have marked the closing of the series of dances given by the club this winter, proved so delightful and was characterized by so much enthusiasm and spontaneity that the members are planning to give another party in April.

Quantities of evergreens, fernery and St. Patrick decorations formed an attractive background for the gayly attired dancers. A large number of merry makers participated in the festivity; the dancers for the most part being members of the club, with a sprinkling of guests.

The club which is composed mostly of married folk includes: Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. James Chinook, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. George Post, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benson, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wendorff, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hewlett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wiedner, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Rauch, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Doerfler, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Grier, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ringo, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Sieck, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Geer, Mr. and Mrs. Grant R. Bonell, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Miss Edna Simouton, Miss Jessie Miller, James Marr, F. E. Mangis and Dr. J. H. Garrjobs.

Mrs. John H. Albert asked a group of prominent matrons to her home for an informal afternoon over the bridge tables on Wednesday, her guests being the members of the Happy Hour club, and a few additional players.

The residence was aglow with fragrant blossoms, crimson carnations and spring flowers being arranged artistically about the attractive rooms where four tables were placed for bridge. — Robert Downing and Mrs. Cunnell were awarded the card honors and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. John H. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones and children who have been passing the winter in town, are now domiciled at their new country home ten miles north of Salem, having moved a week or so ago.

One of the delightful affairs of the mid week was the bridge for which Mrs. Armin T. Steiner was hostess Wednesday afternoon.

It was very informal, the guests being the members of the hostess' club, and a few additional matrons, who made up four tables of the game. Card honors fell to Mrs. John D. Coughell and Mrs. W. D. Fletcher.

St. Patrick decorations were used about the card rooms, while an artistic arrangement of yellow daffodils decked the refreshment table at which the guests were seated.

Those asked for the afternoon were: Mrs. John D. Coughell, Mrs. George M. Post, Mrs. James Chinook, Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mrs. Thomas H. Galloway, Mrs. Clifford E. Farmer, Mrs. Roy Burton, Mrs. Grant R. Bonnell, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Sylvester M. Doerfler, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Harry Weidner, Mrs. W. D. Fletcher, Mrs. Merlin Harding, Mrs. Craig Marvin, Mrs. C. B. Webb and Mrs. E. O. Sieck.

Mrs. Vein Mae Cross who has been the house guest of Mrs. Elmer C. Stray in Portland, for a few days, will return the first of the week.

Amid an appropriate and effective setting of shamrock, Irish flags, and vivid hued plants, over 25 matrons gathered at the attractive Kensington for which Mrs. B. L. Steeves was hostess Thursday afternoon.

In keeping with the decorations the refreshments were suggestive of St. Patrick's day and the table was bedecked with a unique Irish peasant house and scene favoring of Ireland.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Fred A. Legg, Mrs. M. J. Finley and the Misses Muriel Steeves and Helen Hunt.

Friends of Mrs. Henry B. Thielson will rejoice to know that she is rapidly recovering from the recent operation which she underwent at the Salem hospital and is now at home.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner entertained informally Monday night, with a delightful "500" party, their guests being about 25 of the married contingent, who are members of the Nemo Carl club.

Guests were asked to make up six tables of "500," the card honors falling to Mrs. Harry H. Olinger and Dr. John Evans.

Yellow Jonquils combined with tall spikes of pussy willow and brilliant Oregon grape adorned the rooms, and the hostess was assisted by her two daughters, the Misses Rita and Barbara Steiner.

With the club guests Dr. and Mrs. Steiner asked Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Fry and Dr. and Mrs. John Evans.

A charming affair of yesterday was the prettily appointed luncheon for which Mrs. Rollin K. Page was hostess.

It was very informal the guests being the members of the hostess' club, which is composed of about a dozen prominent matrons. The luncheon table was artistic with an airy spring like arrangement of yellow daffodils.

After luncheon the guests enjoyed an afternoon of bridge.

Playing with the club guests were Mrs. William M. Boot, Mrs. Frank H. Spears and Miss Mabel Withycombe.

Mr. and Mrs. Roma Hunter were hosts last night for a delightful "500" party. The players who were for the most part members of the T. A. N. O. club, circled five tables of the game. Mrs. Lewis Sheldon and Calvin Patton were awarded the high card honors with Mrs. Ralph White capturing the favor for the lowest score.

The rooms were gaily adorned with yellow daffodils and shamrock while the refreshments and appointments were carried out in a green color scheme suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. Hunter was assisted in the serving by her daughter, Miss Mable Hunt.

With the club members Mr. and Mrs. Hunter asked: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, Mrs. Lewis Sheldon, Miss Margaret White and Miss Georing of Long Island, Conn.

The club guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Bevier, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin F. Patton, M. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stiff are being congratulated upon the birth of a son, born Friday, March the sixteenth. The little fellow will be called Robert L. Stiff, Jr.

Mrs. Stiff formerly was Miss Rose Breitenstein.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Otto Willson was hostess when she asked the members of the Rappheteria club to her home for an informal sewing box.

About seventeen members of the club enjoyed the afternoon and the hostess was assisted in serving a Japanese re-jast by Mrs. Charles Wilson, who with Mrs. M. J. Wilson was a guest of the club.

Yellow flowers were used about the rooms, the small refreshment tables at which the guests were seated, being adorned with Japanese place cards and other appointments.

Mrs. Frank Aldrich, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Hartman, left today for Beavertown where they will participate in a St. Patrick's entertainment to be given tonight at the city hall.

The Highland parent-teachers association will hold a meeting at the school on Monday night.

A feature of the evening will be an address by Prof. Churchill, superintendent of the school.

His Confessions

CHAPTER III

Why did I become "ethical"?

Why did I dare to leave the fold, break with the regular dentists, go to practicing dentistry in my own chosen way, and face certain hatred and persistent persecution from the "ethical" gentlemen?

Well, hunger was the beginning — just a plain, empty stomach that chattered with the regular dentists, go to practicing dentistry in my own chosen way, and face certain hatred and persistent persecution from the "ethical" gentlemen.

I pondered than all the arguments and abuses of the dental colleges and dentists associations in America.

When I graduated from the Philadelphia Dental college in 1892, I was 21 years old; my folks were broke, and it was very much up to me to scramble for the eats.

I persuaded a barber in my home town to rent me a chair for one dollar a year. I dug up a few tools at home. I did some dental work for a sign painter for my "shingle." And then I opened up for business.

They told me to collect the "proper way" to go after dental business, and I tried every method they had taught me. You see, I was determined to be "ethical."

I joined the church, didn't make a Caruso of myself in the choir, went to passing the plate, and even taught

In Sunday school class. I wanted to enlarge my circle of acquaintances in order to get work, and the dental college had taught me that this was quite "ethical."

Business boomed to the extent that I took in seventy-five cents in three months.

Now at this time, not having a bean, I was living with my parents—and they could ill afford to have me as a boarder. I was the eldest child, and supposed to be self-supporting, and that I had learned a profession. Every bite I took deprived my younger brothers and sisters of the very necessities of life.

It was not a very comforting situation for me.

My father couldn't understand why I was making a failure of my business. When I talked "ethics" with him, he generated with grim remarks about the grocer's bill. Finally he refused to be my usual ticket any longer.

He explained that he knew nothing and cared nothing about "ethics." The jingle of a few coins in the family sock sounded sweeter to him than all my prattle about what a dentist could and could not do. He said that he didn't take up my deep-sea going gopher methods of diving for business in the church, and he advised me to do a little over-and-above-board hustling for customers.

So I came to the sad realization that I had to improve on the line of hope I had swallowed at college as to the "ethical" way of attracting business.

That was the turning point for me.
