The whole front of 70 miles, along which the great push developed the gains, the British and French forces have taken about 70 cities, towns and villages.

Troops Are Cheered

Paris, Mar. 19.—One hundred towns and villages have been occupied by French troops in the last three days of advance on the eastern front, an official statement today asserted.

"During the last three days French troops have liberated a hundred villages in many localities which, previous to the German flight were devastated, pillaged and looted," the statement said.

"Thousands of inhabitants whom the Germans were unable to take with them in the flight cheered the victorious troops on their arrival.

"East of the Oise, German second line positions were carried. To the east of Noyon, at several points French troops have reached the Nesle-Ham railroad.

"North of Noyon, the French have occupied Guiscard. Cavalry has reached the St. Quentin national road.

"Second Verdun on Sunday evening a violent German attack was stopped short with French machine gun fire curtains.

"Between Avacourt and Dead Man's Hill, German losses were heavy. In their attacks they reached only advanced positions between Hill 303 and the edge of Avacourt wood, from which they were expelled after hand to hand encounter."

Torpedoed Destroyer

London, Mar. 19.—German destroyers sank a British destroyer in the Straits of Dover yesterday morning and torpedoed a second British destroyer, according to an admiralty statement issued this afternoon.

"The latter British warship was not seriously damaged.

Killed Women and Children

London, Mar. 19.—Many women and children in Monstir were killed during the night in a bombardment of the city by enemy artillery hurling gas-filled shells, the Serbian official statement today said.

The Turks were dislodged south of Bann and are retiring toward Penashev.

Germans Make Statement

Berlin, via Sayville wireless, Mar. 19.—"During the last few days a strip of land between the district of Arras and the Aisne has been systematically evacuated by us," declared today's official statement. "Strategic movements prepared long ago were carried out without our being disturbed by the enemy, who followed only in a hesitating manner."

THREE SHIPS SUNK BY

proned to one mile, fired once more, fragments striking vessel, ship then only being able to read submarine signal to abandon ship. Instantly captain replied by long blast whistle, signifying comprehension, and then gave four short blasts signal to crew to take boats immediately, which was done in five minutes about 4:15. No injuries.

"Submarine then came up, hailed captain's boat, fired eight shots, sinking vessel about 4:40 p. m. Apparent time, conversation was captain's boat at present unknown.

"Weather heavy; southwest swell, moderate southwest breeze, sky squally. Weather improved during the night. "First officer's boat picked up by admiralty ship 3:45 a. m. today. Chief engineer's boat 6:30 a. m. today by same vessel, landed Queenstown 4:30 p. m. without accident.

Other Crews Landed. "City of Memphis carried wireless, but did not use same. Carried no gun. No attempt to resist or escape. "When captain is located he may have further evidence.

Survivors here include First Officer Charles G. Lair, Chief Engineer W. I. Percy, Assistant Engineer Fred Beville, M. J. Dyerland, Third Officers W. M. Thomson, R. J. Donohue and T. J. Welsh, wireless operator and several other Americans, 10 Spaniards and Danes, one Swede, one Russian and one Chilean.

"City of Memphis stopped by submarine February 4, off Scilly islands. Fail to use wireless this time due to experience of former occasions inducing belief that ship might be passed if wireless not started.

"Survivors will assemble Queens-town, pending instructions from owners, Ocean Steamship company, 335 North River, New York."

The entire crew of the American freighter Illinois is safe, said a third state department message this afternoon.

The message from the London embassy gave the first official details as follows:

"American freighter Illinois, London to Port Arthur, sunk Saturday, 8 a. m., 20 miles north of Alderney. Entire crew of 34 landed safe 2:40 a. m., 18th. All hands proceeding to Southampton."

NO ENGINEER NAMED BY HIGHWAY BOARD

Will Make No Appointment Until Satisfied Right Man Is Found

The State Highway Commission has considered the appointment of a highway engineer, but it has reached no conclusion as to any candidate, and it will reach none until it is thoroughly satisfied that it has found, and can procure for its service, the best qualified man.

In regard to the matter, the commission has issued the following statement: "The duties of the highway engineer are of the greatest importance. It is vital that no mistake be made. We shall not make it if it can be avoided. We are the more willing to take our time to consideration of the engineer when we are reminded that the full scope of the commission's work has not yet been determined.

"We shall not know until the people have themselves settled all questions about it by their action on the road bonds on June fourth. Without prejudice for or against anyone, and without any plan in the premises, except as herein indicated, selection of the state engineer is therefore left open, and will be, until the time has clearly arrived when we are able to make our choice. We expect it to be unanimous."

At a recent meeting of the commission, the following resolutions were passed, so as to clear up any misapprehension existing in the minds of the public:

"Whereas there exists in the public mind an impression that undue profits have heretofore been made by paving contractors in Oregon,

"Be it resolved, that it will be the policy of the Highway Commission to call for bids on all standard types of pavement in open and fair competition and to award contracts to the lowest responsible bidder who will be required to give a good and sufficient guarantee for the permanency of his work."

"Be it further resolved that in the event no satisfactory bid can be obtained the Highway Commission will proceed to do the work itself by force account after the purchase and installation of its own paving plant."

of your favor of this date, placing in our hands for immediate adjustment, the matter of the difference between your committee and the railroad brotherhoods.

"We have brought this letter before the brotherhoods with the statement that our judgment it was advisable to put into effect the provisions of the Adamson law, whether it be held valid or otherwise. This was acceptable to them. Thus by your action, urged thereto by the highest reasons of national concern, you have avoided a national calamity.

"We would be delinquent in a true sense of gratitude if we failed to express our sincere appreciation of the action you have taken. We trust that it promises a long period of hearty cooperation between the railroad management and their employes.

"Cordially yours, FRANKLIN K. LANE, W. B. WILSON, DANIEL WILLARD, SAMUEL GOMPERZ."

Sunday Day of Doubts. Sunday had been a day of doubts in the conference room of the mediators.

The fate of the administration's attempt to avert the greatest labor war in the history of the United States had stood in the balance all day ready to be pushed either way.

Railway managers, brotherhood chiefs and mediators had been in conference throughout the day and most of the previous night. Messages had flowed back and forth in a constant stream. Then came word of the sinking of the three American ships. Half an hour later the brotherhood chiefs, a committee from the managers and the mediators were in a joint session. Debate and earnest pleading could be heard issuing from the little room in the Baltimore. Then word was passed to waiting newspapermen at 1:45 a. m. that the managers would send their definite answer to the situation in a few minutes.

Shortly after the brotherhood chiefs arrived. An hour and a half later the message came that the managers had unconditionally surrendered and placed the settlement in the hands of the four men who had postponed and then averted the calamity.

"We have been negotiating all day," Secretary Lane announced. As a result, regardless of a decision by the supreme court, the eight hour basic day will go into effect."

Brotherhood chiefs announced they would remain in the city three or four days to assist in arranging schedules for the railroads.

Secretaries Lane and Wilson are expected to return to Washington at once, owing to the seriousness of international affairs.

The federal mediation board will hold a session at 1:30 at which it is likely the representatives of the railroads and of the brotherhoods will be called in.

DEAD ON HIS FEET

GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules will bring new life and quickly relieve that stopped up congested feeling. They will thoroughly cleanse and wash out the kidneys and bladder and gently carry off the ill effects of excesses of all kinds.

Marrage licenses were issued Saturday by the county clerk to Louie H. Dunn, of 225 North Twenty-fourth street, a laborer, aged 19, and Mary E. Doyle, of Salem; Lewis Glenn McLaren, Spokane, salesman, and Edith Shaw, a Salem school teacher; Homer Foster, an employe at the state house, and Florence Billings, a saleslady.

As a result of the trips over the county last week by County School Superintendent W. M. Smith and Miss Cowgill, assistant state industrial field worker, two evening clubs have been formed at Liberty, one for boys and one for girls, one at Rock Point, one at Woodburn, one at Donald and one at Scotts Mills.

Much interest has been manifested by the boys and girls of the county in these clubs, and also in the sewing and baking projects. In fact, more interest has been evidenced this year than ever before.

In the gardening, the boys are now being shown how to prepare soils, test soils, and they will soon be ready to plant in earnest.

Next Saturday there will be an educational rally and teachers' institute at Turner.

500,000 BATHE INTERNALLY

The marvelous growth of internal bathing since the advent of "J. B. L. Cascade" is accounted for not only by the enthusiastic praise of its users to others, but also by the physicians insisting more and more that the lower intestine must be kept free from waste to insure perfect health and efficiency.

Mrs. Harry J. Rhodes, of Richland, Ore., writes: "The Cascade arrived. I have used it about a week. I presume you are accustomed to the revelations your patients send you. I deeply regret that I had not bought it a dozen years ago, when I thought I could not possibly afford it. I only wish it were possible for every sufferer to know; when they would make a sacrifice to buy. Yours truly--"

"Call at Daniel J. Fry's drug store in Salem, Oregon, and ask for free booklet on the subject, called 'Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent Efficient'."

Personally Selected Vaudeville Is Good

Another headline vaudeville bill was witnessed at the Bligh theatre yesterday. The first act was Hugo Rio of the team of Rio and Norman, who on account of the sickness of Mr. Norman was compelled to do the act all by himself and was still very little short of wonderful, this act carries a marble pedestal on which they do their article posing and a rich red all plush curtain, which if one was going to purchase now would cost nothing short of $500; second on the bill was Al Abbott "The Village Songster," a type of rural youth who is without a peer in his chosen field of endeavor, with his only disguise a few hats, Abbott assumes the character of a country boy at a home talent, he was an absolute riot all the way through his act. Haley and Haley, two musical comedy favorites were the closing act on this well appointed program, they presented a comedy singing novelty that was lassy and up to the minute.

Harris Anson's popular story, "Mary Keep Your Feet Still," has been converted to the screen by Bluebird photo-plays and, with Ella Hall playing the star part, was the feature picture.
