While potatoes and onions are coming down, bananas are going up. This sad announcement comes from the fruit man who knows. A car will arrive in the city tomorrow and with that car comes the highest priced bananas that have ever been known in the city for many a year. The commission man blames it on the trust that handles all the tropical fruits for the entire U. S.

Strongheart, procure your reservations at Geo. C. Will's Music Store Friday. This unusual play will be given by the student body in the high school auditorium, Friday night at 8 o'clock sharp.

The Bean Orchard Tractor now on exhibition at the Charles B. Archer Implement Co.'s store, should be of interest to every farmer or orchardist.

The ukulele player need not play alone. During the past few months more than 100 of these Hawaiian musical instruments have been sold in Salem and the ukulele fever is still on. Also the Hawaiian music seems to be having its day not only in Salem but elsewhere. And the best seller when it comes to vocal music continues to be "Poor Butterfly."

The ninth national inter-club indoor target shoot of the Salem Rifle club will take place this evening at the club's headquarters in the old armory. The public is invited to present itself and take note of the club that now ranks first in its class, competing with Baltimore, Rochester, N. Y., and many cities several times as large as Salem. Saginaw, Mich., is now running the Salem club a close match but F. J. Rosenberg is of the opinion that the Salem club is in line for first honors.

Have you seen No. 540? A beautiful Coca Brown English Bal. on the "Hot Cake" last. Entirely different. Salem Woolen Mills Store.

A carload of California seed potatoes was inspected today by Mr. Stansbury of Portland, who is associated with the state horticultural board. The inspection is for tuber moth and Salem is now one of the quarantined stations, for potatoes coming from California and other southern points, on account of the tuber moth. This inspection was in the way of a precautionary measure, under the direction of the state board of horticulture.

No. 541 is a Coca Brown Blucher on the Bingo last. Has no comparison. Salem Woolen Mills Store.

Miss Lucile Danforth, of Portland, organizer of the Girls' National Honor Society, will arrive in Salem this evening about 6 o'clock and will be entertained by Mrs. R. S. Wallace. The girls will meet with her at the Y. W. C. A. this evening for the purpose of forming a chapter of the national organization here. She will outline the work that is to be done by the Honor girls both in peace and war times. A large number of Salem girls are already interested and it is probable that a large and enterprising chapter will be formed.

Members of the Commercial club are scheduled for an interesting meeting tonight when the $6,000,000 road bond issue will come up for discussion. The mayors of half a dozen towns will be called on for opinions and highway commissioner Adams of Eugene, will tell what the people down his way think of the proposed issue. The meeting promises to be interesting from the fact that a few opinions may be expressed contrary to the customary vote wherein all in favor say aye and the ayes have it.

Dance at Brooks Thursday March 22, Gents 50c. 3-22

An "old subscriber" asks us to give some official information on the pronunciation of the word "gladiolus." After referring the question to several of the office force and Mr. Webster, the editor who has charge of the "query box," announces that the correct pronunciation is to try if possible to throw the accent on the middle syllable and pronounce as if spelled "dye." This information is also given for those who expect to vote for the gladiolus as the official flower of Salem.

An organization known as the Employed Boys' Brotherhood was organized last evening at the Y. M. C. A. under the direction of John Ridd, boys' secretary of the Oregon-Idaho Y. M. C. A. executive committee. Mr. Ridd explained that the object of the organization was to unite the young men of the Y. M. C. A. who are employed and to encourage them in the higher principles of business. The officers elected are: President, Edward Sociofsky; vice-president, Charles Marr; secretary, Harlan Hoffmann; treasurer, Earl Seaman.

J. C. Jones, district manager of the Woodmen of the World, is in the city giving his time to the special work of instructing and drilling a new degree staff recently organized here. As soon as this staff is in good working condition, it will be taken to Oregon City, Pullas, Albany and McMinnville. From what he has seen of their work, Mr. Jones is of the opinion that Salem will have a W. O. W. degree staff second to none in the northwest. For the first time the Woodmen of the World of the Pacific coast will have a ritual entirely of their own. Heretofore they have used the ritual of the eastern and Canadian lodges.

When the subject of physical exercise and military training was brought to the attention of the board of education, Superintendent Todd wrote the Oregon Agricultural college to find out just what a uniform would cost. The figures that have been paid by the O. A. C. for the members of its military company are as follows, if the suits are of woolen goods: Breeches, $2.31; leggings, canvas, 47 cents; coat, $3.95; service cap, 78 cents; total, $7.51. To this sum must be added military shoes, which have advanced considerably within the last six months. If the uniform is to be of cotton goods, the cost, as paid by the O. A. C. company is as follows: Breeches, 73 cents; leggings, 47 cents; coat, 37 cents; service cap, 78 cents; total, $2.85. In all companies to be organized in the high schools of the state, the uniforms must be purchased by each member as the state will supply only the equipment. The schools must supply the instructors, also.

The men of the Eastern Star gave the ladies of the order a unique entertainment last evening at the Masonic temple. After all were assembled in the reception room on the fifth floor, all marched to the banquet room singing "America." An address was delivered by Judge Moreland on "Worse Things Than War." The judge thought lowering the standards of the country and to some extent the unpatriotic spirit now being shown by many were worse than war. Judge Burnett was called on and responded with a patriotic address. He said the Journal Want Ad Way.

NEWSPAPER MEN ALL ENTER PLEA OF GUILTY

One of Several Sent to England As Spies Testifies Against Them

New York, March 21--Albert O. Sauder and Carl N. Wunnenberg, former newspapermen who were charged by the government with launching a military enterprise against Great Britain from this country today withdrew their pleas of not guilty and pleaded guilty in the United States district court here.

Judge Van Fleet, who heard the pleas, announced he would pass sentence tomorrow. George Vaux Bacon, American newspaperman, one of several sent to England as alleged spies, testified against the men before the federal grand jury. The men are specifically charged with sending Bacon and other newspapermen to England for the purpose of obtaining information concerning the food situation and sailing of ships. The latter information was for use of U-boats.

It is alleged that other operatives working under the guise of "war film" men transmitted the information to Bacon who forwarded it to the German military authorities. The film "business," it is said, was merely a ruse.

Martin Holds Balance Woman To Vote On War

Washington, Mar. 21--About the nearest approach to a coalition congress that ever was called to vote on the question of war will convene April 2.

A woman will vote for the first time in history on the war question when Miss Jennette Rankin, congresswoman elect from Montana, answers her name. Democrats and republicans will go into the house with 214 votes each--there being two vacancies that cannot be filled before the session starts. Five independents will hold the balance of power. They, however, are expected to split up--Representatives Hull, progressive, and Fuller, independent, with the republicans and Representative London, socialist, and Randall, prohibitionist, with the democrats. Representative Martin of Louisiana, elected from a democratic district on a high tariff progressive ticket, really holds the balance of power.

After singing "Rally Round the Flag" the evening was given to dancing and cards. Apple pie of the house made variety and whipped ice cream were served with coffee and doughnuts. About 125 were in attendance.

Arrangements Made For Western Troops San Francisco, March 21--The war strength of the militia in the states in the western department of the army, is a little less than 25,000 men, according to estimates prepared by officers in department headquarters here today. The states in the department are Idaho, Montana, California, Oregon, Washington, Utah and Nevada. While the department heads were silent today regarding their plans, it is understood that orders have been prepared for quick transmission to the adjutants general of the various states in the president decides to call out the national guard at once. DEMOCRAT WINS Juneau, Alaska, Mar. 21--Charles A. Sulzer, democrat, will receive the certificate as delegate to congress from Alaska by virtue of a decision delivered yesterday by Judge Robert W. Jennings, of the United States district court. James Wickorsham, republican, incumbent, was declared by the canvassing board to have been re-elected but the court held that the board counted illegal ballots for Wickorsham and found Sulzer's majority to be 19 votes. The decision was one of the most exhaustive ever rendered in Alaska.
