NOTED FLAX EXPERT

TALKS ON THE SUBJECT

Told of the Many Things Made of Flax and Showed Lantern Slides

Mattresses, comforts and all sorts of home comforts will soon be manufactured from the products of flax, according to J. Sidney Starling, president and treasurer of the Flax Fibre Down Co. of North Tonawanda, N. Y., who addressed the Commercial club last evening.

In making his statements as to the various articles that can be made from flax, which also included several kinds of paper, twines, coarse yarns, duck and substitutes for cotton batting, Mr. Starling was just telling of what his New York factory had been doing.

His factory is somewhat different from others from the fact that he has a process of retting flax green, by special machinery and not by the water process. In other words, the flax is not retted at all but the fiber is separated from the stem by machinery and it is the flax from this process that Mr. Starling's factory has been manufacturing into commercial commodities.

For the finer yarns and linens, he thought the water retting process better, but for the manufacture of the average staples such as towels, crash and coarser linens, the machinery retting was entirely ample.

Machinery has lately been invented, he said, by which the green flax, retted by machinery, could be made into paper wherein strength was essential, such as paper flour sacks.

He thought the climatic conditions for flax raising very satisfactory in this valley, but the conditions not quite right for the water retting.

The lecture was illustrated by slides showing scenes of flax fields in Belgium, Ireland and Canada.

Speculators Cry Food Shortage Preparatory to Cinching Public

Chicago, March 30.—The food supply of the nation is in danger was the cry in Chicago meat and grain markets today.

Alarming reports poured into the market today from the great winter wheat fields of Kansas and Nebraska. They told of drought and the plowing up of thousands of acres of winter wheat.

May wheat opened at $1.98 on the board of trade today, a slight recession from yesterday, but with that exception the highest in history. Cash wheat of high grade was quoted at $2.15 to $2.25 with not enough offered to establish a market.

May corn opened at $1.19 7/8. Cash corn was running well with the May futures. May oats were selling at 62 and 7-8 with cash oats ranging to 65 cents.

Live hogs on the hoof at the stock yards today sold as high as $15.25 per hundred pounds, a jump of 25 cents over yesterday and an advance of 40 cents in the past two days, the record of all time.

Wholesale and retail prices are following hogs. Dollar eighteen corn means $15.50 pork, dealers said. Choice beef steers today sold at $12.90 per hundred pounds. Sheep were firm at $12.35 per hundred.

Say Labor Is Short.

Reports received by the United Press from its bureaus in Kansas City, Mo., and Lincoln, Neb., confirmed statements in the Chicago pit.

Another grave menace to the nation's food was the fact that the labor shortage, already acute, is made critical by the calling out of the national guard in the agricultural states. A conservative estimate today was that the present national guard call would take 30,000 men from the strictly agricultural states, in addition to those joining the regular army and navy. This figures the regulars called at war strength. These men are the cream of the able bodied workers. Farmers hesitate to increase acreage in the face of certain labor famine.

The high price of all seeds is also threatening disaster. State agricultural societies and officials are co-operating on the seed question and advising seed to farmers unable to buy on the market. The demand still is greater than the visible supply.

No way has so far been devised to meet the farm labor problem. The great packing houses and steel mills around Chicago are bringing tens of thousands of negroes from the south to meet the labor shortage, which in turn is injuring the labor supply of the southern states.

Tentative suggestions from the west have been made of importing Chinese laborers.

ATTORNEY'S FIGHTING TO GET THAW'S MONEY

If they Can Get Him to New York It Will Be Like Importing Gold Mine

Philadelphia, March 30.—That Harry K. Thaw who has been adjudged insane by a Pennsylvania sanity commission personally conducted his own sanity proceeding was the claim of Assistant District Attorney Black of New York, here today.

He made appeal before Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown to have Thaw extradited to New York to stand trial for assault on Fred Gump, Jr., a Kansas City youth, in the Hotel McAlpin, in January.

"Insanity has never been held as a cause to prohibit extradition," Black added.

No decision is anticipated on the hearing this afternoon, as indications were that arguments will continue very late. It is thought a decision will be temporarily withheld.

Scathing attacks were made on the Thaw family for using vast sums to defray the ends of justice, included in the arguments of Assistant District Attorney Black.

The justice of two states is on trial in this case," said Black. "There is a question in the public mind as to which is stronger in Pennsylvania, the laws, or the Thaws."

"The history of Thaw," Black continued, "shows that he can come to life 'civilly' whenever it suits. When it suits him to die, he becomes a very dead man."

A jury at the second trial of Thaw in the Stanford White case," said Deputy Attorney General Alfred L. Becker of New York, who also argued the case today, "was asked to believe that Thaw was insane. Another high priced group of alienists corpus proceedings that Thaw was sane and succeeded in convincing the jury of it."

"And now," he shouted, "a lunacy commission decides he is insane after all."

GRAND JURY REPORTS FIVE TRUE BILLS

Two Arraigned Plead Guilty --F. A. Schubinger Fined $50

Five true bills were brought in by the grand jury in its first report to the court this morning. The bills are as follows:

State of Oregon against Adolph Reynolds and Frank Fisher, charged with burglary in breaking into the store of A. E. Austin, and wrongfully and feloniously carrying away personal property. They were arraigned, counsel appointed for both, and they are to plead March 31, at 10 o'clock.

State of Oregon against F. A. Schubinger, charged with selling intoxicating liquor in that he sold to A. F. Bailey one gallon of hard cider. He was arraigned, pleaded guilty, waived time for sentence, and was fined $30. The state is to recover costs and disbursements.

State of Oregon against Frank White killed in that he assaulted with intent to kill in that he attacked on January 19, 1917, John Walton, cutting and stabbing him with a pointed and sharp edged piece of steel with a wood handle. He was arraigned and Robin Day appointed counsel. He is to plead March 31, at 10 o'clock.

State of Oregon against J. G. Davis charged with selling mortgaged property without the consent of the mortgagee. Davis is declared to have mortgaged six Jersey and Durham cows to the value of $100 and on February 1, 1915, sold them to F. E. Libby. He was arraigned, pleaded guilty, and on April 5 will be sentenced.

State of Oregon against Pres. McPherson, charged with rape on the person of Elsie Smith, a minor under the age of 16 years. He is in jail awaiting arraignment.

It is expected that a second report will be returned late this afternoon.

JURY SAYS MRS. SMITH WAS JUSTIFIED IN ACT

Nameless Horrors Convinced Jury Husband Deserved Death

Denver, Col., Mar. 30.—Mrs. Stella Newton Moore Smith, slayer of her chauffeur husband, John Lawrence Smith, was freed of a charge of murder by a jury in exactly one and one-half minutes this afternoon, as the termination of Colorado's most sensational murder trial, which lasted 21 days.

The public was excluded from the court room when Mrs. Smith testified. Her sordid story of love, hate, jealousy, passion and criminal degeneracy convinced the 12 men who judged her that she was justified in killing the man who, according to her testimony, had ruined her life.

Mrs. Smith, former society leader, was divorced from her first husband, William A. Moore, Denver attorney, four years ago. She did not contest his application for divorce, charging desertion. Shortly afterward she married Smith, who had been her stepfather's chauffeur at Yreka, Cal. Then began a four year period of debauchery and sordidness, which extended across the continent from California to Detroit, finally ending in Denver.

Mrs. Smith, who is wealthy, left Smith and came to her home here in January. Smith followed, when he attempted to force her to nameless degenerate acts, and threatened to denounce her 12 year old daughter by her former husband, she testified she shot and killed him.

Officers who went to the home after the killing found Smith's dead body on the floor, while Mrs. Smith, her body covered with bruises, sat in a chair and over and over expressed her happiness that Smith was dead.

Will Take Over Danish Islands Saturday

Washington, Mar. 29.—The Danish West Indies will be formally taken over by the United States Saturday when the Danish flag will be raised down and the American flag hoisted over St. Thomas. Simultaneously the $25,000,000 purchase price will be paid to the Danish minister at Washington.

Admiral James H. Oliver will be the first governor of the islands. The islands are being taken over under the name of "the Virgin Islands of the United States." This, however, is but a tentative name pending congressional designation.

A Fine Oak Rocker SOLD for $1.80

"Yes, it was a big Flemish oak rocker with high back, and must have cost eight to ten dollars. "Then a big-dresser went for $3.00, and there were so many other things just as cheap--why, I saved enough so I bought a lot of things I couldn't have afforded any other way." That's a sample of what you will hear about our auction sale of the McPeck stock of new and used furniture at 271 North Commercial street.

Just to show you how things are going, dealers took away one piece after another--and they expect to sell them and make a profit--so the people who buy are getting the goods at less than wholesale prices of today. The sale continues.

SATURDAY 1:30 P. M. AMONG THE ARTICLES OFFERED FOR SALE ARE
