DRAMATIC SCENES IN FRENCH CHAMBER

Premier Ribot Announces United States' Entrance Into War to Deputies

Paris, April 5.—Not since the tense days of early August, 1914 when France cast her lot against Germany, has the chamber of deputies been the scene of such a tremendously dramatic incident as today.

This time it was to hail the entry into the conflict of the United States of America. Premier Ribot made formal salutation to France's new ally in the war.

His eloquent characterization of President Wilson's speech as "a message of deliverance" caused a demonstration almost unparalleled in the history of the chamber.

Postmaster To Hold Jobs For Life Unless Removed for Cause

By an executive order of President Wilson, signed March 31, 1917, all postmasters of the first, second and third class will hold over until the office becomes vacant by death, resignation, removal, or their dismissal from office for the good of the service, on the recommendation of the first postmaster general.

Then in case the office does become vacant, the office will not be filled as a political appointment, but from a competitive examination under the civil service commission.

The notice of this executive order of the president was received this morning by Postmaster Hucklestein in the official bulletin published by the post office department in Washington.

This seems to indicate that Postmaster Hucklestein will hold over without even the formality of an appointment, as when the civil service is made to apply to any government employee, it has the effect of making the office his hold as permanent, and not subject to removal without cause.

If the executive order is so construed, the postmasters of all first, second and third class post offices have a life job and not subject to removal. The order plainly states that vacancies as postmaster can come from only four causes, death, resignation, removal, or dismissal for the good of the service.

A postoffice of the first class is one in which the total annual receipts are more than $40,000 and in Oregon this includes Portland, Salem and Eugene. A postoffice of the second class is one where the receipts are from $20,000 to $40,000, and of the third class from $1900 to $8000.

Willamette Co-eds Organize Red Cross

At a noon hour meeting today the Willamette university chapter of the Red Cross was thoroughly organized. Thirty members signed up and paid their dollar each which makes them members of the national organization.

This number will undoubtedly be increased to at least a hundred before the end of this week. Few were present at the meeting because of the time and the excitement aroused over Company M's trip.

Three classes will be organized, one, the class in first aid, has already enough members to start work. It will meet tomorrow and elect a chairman.

The other two classes are in dietetics and elementary hygiene. Less than ten signed up for these, but they will meet tomorrow for organization and rustic enough members for actual work.

A set of by-laws as prepared by the organization committee, composed of Eva Grant, Beatrice Walton, Helen Wood, Gladys Carson and Miss Todd, was adopted. A fee of 10 cents per member will be charged to maintain the local chapter. Miss Walton was elected secretary, Louis Stewart treasurer and Edith Bird vice chairman.

The varsity chapter will be auxiliary to the Salem corps. Those who signed up at noon are Hel-

MILLER EXPOSES MORE ZIMMERMAN PLANS

Intended to Use Reservists to Assist Mexico in Attacking Us

By Carl D. Groat, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 5.—Reading what he declared to be unpublished portions of the Zimmermann letter, seeking to align Mexico against the United States, Representative Miller of Minnesota, in the house this afternoon declared the plot included the establishment of submarine bases at Mexican ports.

Miller is a member of the house foreign committee. His revelations of the additional details of the Zimmermann plot came during the debate on the war resolution.

In addition to the submarine bases plan he showed that Germany planned to use reservists in an aggregate move against the United States along the Mexican border.

The reservists were to quit the United States, go into Mexico and then attack the border with the Mexicans.

Moreover, he declared that German reservists are now making munitions in Mexico, while in the last few days ships have delivered munitions cargoes on the west coast of Mexico.

Germany Dominate Mexico. Villa, he declared, is surrounded by German officers, who have taken control of his band.

Miller said Carranza, too, is dominated by Germans. He declared that a flood of German money is being poured into Mexico at the present time.

Miller solemnly pointed out that the Mexican menace with its German tinge is grave and warned that "we must pass this resolution now or haul down the flag forever."

His revelation, startling the whole house came in the midst of several pacifist speeches and while Majority Leader Kitchin was reported to be making up his mind as to whether to speak against the resolution.

There was no question late this afternoon about the ultimate outcome in the house. It will vote probably around 8 o'clock for war. The president is expected to sign the resolution as soon as it can be sent to him.

The unpublished portion of the Zimmermann note, as revealed by Miller, follows: "Agreeable to the Mexican government, submarine bases will be established at Mexican ports from which will be supplied arms, ammunition and supplies. All reservists are ordered into Mexico. Arrange to attack all along the border."

Lansing Denies "Diplomatic" Washington, April 5.—Secretary of State Lansing this afternoon denied Representative Miller's declaration in the house that the Zimmermann plot contained information to the effect that Germany had arranged for Mexican coast and naval bases on the Mexican coast and that arrangements had been made for German reservists to attack the United States all along the border.

Lansing declared that Miller's statement was "without foundation." Secretary Lansing apparently "for diplomatic reasons" denied the truth of the statement, Miller said, was informed of Lansing's action.

"The text as I gave it is the substance of the unpublished portion of the note," said Miller. "I will say that it came to me from a man who felt the world ought to know about at this time. You can readily see that Mr. Lansing would not want to admit it, inasmuch as it involved Carranza and probably the government wanted to get the goods on him before proceeding further."

"I will say too, that it came to me from one of the most honorable and high grade men in the country." Miller would not say, however, whether this man is an official of the administration, though Miller's position on the foreign committee appeared to give his statements added strength.

Chicago Is a Hot Bed of German Spies Say Secret Service Men

Chicago, April 5.—Government agents today were waiting for the final action of the house in declaring war before throwing out a dragnet that will place scores of German spies, known to be in Chicago, in custody.

A thorough investigation, which has been conducted for months, has revealed that Chicago is a veritable hotbed of spies and emissaries of the central powers. Headquarters are known.

Officials also stated today that singly and in twos and threes, thousands of German reservists have been moving out of Chicago and the middle western states toward the Mexican border the past week.

The force working under Hinton G. Clabaugh, special government agent, was recently increased by 1000 men.

Will Arrest Many Washington, April 5.—Wholesale arrests of German spies in all parts of the country will be made by agents of the department of justice and secret service, almost simultaneously with the adoption of the state of war resolution by congress, it was learned today.

In addition to the arrest or internment of scores of spies and over-zealous German sympathizers will come the summary dismissal of numerous employees in the government service whose pro-German activities and suspicious acts are known to the authorities.
