Mexican Troops Movement On Border May Mean Trouble

Nogales, Ariz., April 9.—Although as yet there has been no confirmation and much denial of the rumor, a story that a German submarine is in the Gulf of Lower California is persistently bobbing up today. According to the report, the submarine was either in the Gulf since the beginning of the war, or was shipped overland in sections via Vera Cruz.

Reported concentration of 3000 Mexican de facto troops at Magdalena, fifty miles south of here, and that others are moving toward the border in Sonora and Chihuahua states, ostensibly to protect the border, may officers stationed here, although investigating such reports have not confirmed the story.

Portland Man Invents New Type of Torpedo

Portland, Ore., April 9.—A new type of torpedo that travels in the air as well as under water has been invented by Frank E. Kenny, 1226 East Thirteenth street, north, who at the present time is said to be completing negotiations to turn his invention over to the government.

Frank W. Winn, a close friend of the inventor, said today that the torpedo was tested recently by naval officials. It traveled through the air for a distance of five and one-half miles, then dropped 15 feet under the surface of the water, righted itself and went through steel nets scattered at distances of 1,500 feet apart over a course of one and a half miles, striking a target at which it was aimed.

Kenny has turned down an offer of $40,000 for the invention from the British government, preferring to give the United States the first chance to buy it.
