Mrs. James T. Chinnock has had as her guests Mrs. T. M. Davis and daughter, Miss Katherine Davis, of Corvallis. They motored to Salem last Friday and returned Tuesday.

Red Cross work is occupying the attention of many Salem women, who are showing their patriotism by joining the society, and practical work of preparation for war relief is going forward on a broad scale. Yesterday another chapter of Red Cross was organized when an auxiliary was formed by the members of the Loyal Woman's class of the First Christian church. Fourteen members joined the Red Cross and at the next meeting officers will be elected.

All patriotic organizations are cordially invited to attend the silver tea to be given at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday afternoon, April the nineteenth, for the Hal Hibbard Auxiliary of the United Spanish American War Veterans.

A meeting of the utility squad of the Honor Guard society will be held tonight at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Miss Marcela Bynon who is teaching school in Mission Bottom this winter, is passing a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Bynon.

Mrs. Platt T. Randall of Burns, Or., is visiting Mrs. Frank Davy and will be here for several days.

Mrs. H. B. Richmond was hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Englewood United Brethren church at her home, 1430 North Fourth street.

An old-fashioned quilting bee was enjoyed during the early part of the afternoon and later the hostess served dainty refreshments assisted by Miss Alberta Hale.

Those gathering for the afternoon were: Mrs. Minerva Rowe, president; Mrs. S. P. Hale, Mrs. Effie Fuenstman, Mrs. Sarah Custer, Mrs. Julia Blodgett, Mrs. Hannah Tarnell, Mrs. Alice Hanson, Mrs. Glenn Richmond, Mrs. G. G. Tooker, Mrs. Kittie Rowe, Mrs. Henry Pascoe, Miss Alberta Hale.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock a meeting of the parent-teachers circle of the Richmond school will be held in the building, and all parents are asked to be present.

"Going the Pace," will be the interesting topic of discussion at the meeting of the Salem Woman's club tomorrow afternoon at the library. Mrs. Richard Cartwright will lead the discussion, and all members are urged to be present as there will be nomination of officers and a discussion of the new constitution.

Mrs. May Irvin who has been passing the winter with relatives and friends in Illinois and Ohio, returned Monday.

En route home Mrs. Irvin visited several of the larger cities, including San Francisco, San Diego, Seattle and Portland. Arrangements are being made to again present the Elks play "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" on Tuesday night, April the twenty-fourth, for the benefit of the Red Cross. All patriotic organizations will undoubtedly show their patriotism by aiding in making the event a huge success.

DEATH OF MRS. J. C. WILSON

Mrs. Leronia B. Wilson, wife of J. C. Wilson, died at her home in this city on Friday, April 8, aged 54 years, 11 months and 23 days. Deceased was raised in Goshen, Lane county, where she was married. With her family she moved to Canby, residing there for five years, and then moved to Woodburn, three years ago. She leaves a husband, an adopted daughter and two sisters, two children having crossed to the beyond. Mrs. Wilson was a woman of splendid character and worth, easily made friends, was a good neighbor, and a member of the Methodist Episcopal

Wheat Continues Its Trip To the Skies

Chicago, April 13.—The demand for cash wheat and the increasing certainty of an unusually great shortage offset all bearish tendencies today and wheat futures climbed still higher. Foreign and domestic consumers continued bidding against each other. May opened up 1½ over yesterday's record and gained four cents, going to $2.23½. July sold down 3-4 on the opening, but later advanced 1-8 to $1.91 5-8. September, opening down 7-8, advanced 1-8 to $1.71½.

The announcement that distilleries were being turned over to the government for the manufacture of alcohol from corn, which acted as a bullish factor yesterday, together with a scarcity of the grain and foreign news, sent corn up steadily, although gains were not so spectacular as in wheat. May corn opened up ¼, later gaining 1 3-8, going to $1.36 7-8. July opened up ¼ and advanced another ¼ to $1.33½. September opened up 1, but lost 1-8 later, to $1.29 7-8.

Oats were the only gain displaying weakness. The opening was strong, but later the market developed nervousness. May opened up 5-8, later losing 3-4 to 65½. July opened up 3-8, later declining 3-8 to yesterday's close, 64 3-4. September opened down 3-8, later losing 7-8 to 57.

Provisions were sharply lower, May pork dropping 75 cents. Lard and ribs also suffered sharply.

Railroad Stocks Are Favorite In Market

New York, April 13.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

There was not a great deal of interest manifested in the stock market today. Trading was quiet and of professional origin. Such animation as there was in evidence was displayed by the railroad list, which developed a firm undertone with good demand for the leading issues in that department on Washington reports that the interstate commerce commission would be ready to pass on the freight rate application next week. Industrial stocks were neglected and inclined to waver within narrow limits for the most part, following the buying movement in the early session.

After the initial advance, industrial stocks were narrow on both sides of the previous closing level and sluggish to a degree. There was distinct weakness in the motor group. The steel and copper shares were generally firm. Occasionally a strong spot developed like Mexican Petroleum on a brighter outlook with respect to the threatened oil embargo. Trading in the rails continued more or less animated under the lead of Union Pacific and Reading; the latter gaining some three points. Prices were easier in the late trading.

Wallingford Will Visit City April 24

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" will be given again in Salem on the evening of Tuesday, April 24, the proceeds to be for the benefit of Willamette chapter of the Red Cross association. At the meeting of the Elks' lodge last evening, it was decided to put on the play and not to be outdone in patriotism, manager T. G. Bligh offered the use of the theatre without charge. As several members of the Salem Elks live in Independence, it is probable that arrangements will be made for river service. The price for the show will be the same as when given by the Elks, $1 for the lower floor and for the first three rows of the balcony. To confer with the Red Cross association, the following committee was appointed: A. Hockstein, chairman; O. J. Schei, Dr. H. H. Olinger, E. Cooke, Patton, Louis Lachmund and Walter L. Toose.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday afternoon, Rev. E. G. Decker officiating. The remains were shipped by Funeral Director E. N. Hall Tuesday morning for interment there. Woodburn Independent.

Seventy-nine neutral ships were attacked but escaped.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has direction for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

The German version Berlin, via London, April 13.—German counter attacks "balanced preliminary success" of British attacks around Arras, today's official statement declared. The attacks were described as "strong" and as being delivered on the Giverny Engelle line. "They were balanced by counter attacks from the Arras-Gavrelle road to the Scarpe river," the statement said. "Twice the attacking enemy was repulsed with heavy loss."

The president also designated the following regulations concerning the sea areas: "A vessel desiring to cross a defensive sea area shall proceed to the vicinity of the entrance to the proper channel, flying her national colors, together with international code number and pilot signal, and there await communication with the harbor entrance patrol. It is expressly prohibited for any vessel to enter the limit of a defensive sea area otherwise than at a designated entrance and after authorization by the harbor entrance patrol."

Leaders Against Peace. Some of the Russian radicals in America seem to be quite out of touch with the present spirit in Russia and they would seem to be playing inadvertently into the hands of another pro-German intrigue, the aim of which is to make us anxious about the real situation in Russia.

One of the best known exiled radical leaders is Leon Trotsky. He set out for Russia last month but has been detained by the English at Halifax. It is possible that Trotsky interpreted the new change of the people in Russia as making for peace and that he talked of leaving for America—a possible explanation for detention by the British. One recalls the many proclamations that have been issued the 30 months from the acknowledged socialist leaders. One sees above all the statements of radical socialist leaders in the new government. In both sets of pronouncements, it has been definitely stated that the workingmen's cause in Russia will be endangered by a German victory and that any workingmen movement will now be treason to the comrades fighting at the front. One can accept then the attitude of responsible leaders and ignore the rumors coming from German sources and the speeches of mere individuals.

Officers of the British and French royal flying corps were detailed to the war department to assist in the rapid upbuilding of America's aerial service. Means of seizing, requisitioning or purchasing enemy ships in American harbors were being devised by Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Redfield. These ships will be used in trans-Atlantic service and their total tonnage amounts to approximately two-thirds of the allied and neutral tonnage sunk by German U-boats since February 1.

The war department sent orders to all recruiting stations in the country to fill up the ranks of a regular army and national guard volunteers "for the period of the war."

Afraid of Bankers. The house debate on the bond issue bill developed expressions of fear lest Wall street gets its hand into the issue and derives some "spoils."

Representative Mason, of Illinois, urged popular subscriptions to the bonds.

"We both voted against the war resolution," he told Kitchin, "but now we've got to stay together. If we want to make this a popular war we must inspire the people's confidence, respect and admiration for the administration."

Kitchin was "heckled" by many members who wanted the bill to say that the $3,000,000,000 to be loaned to foreign governments should be loaned only to countries at war with Germany and only during the war.

A suggestion by Representative Sabath of Chicago, that money loaned to allies should be spent only in the United States, was squelched.

Representative Mann and others wanted to be assured that the street could not "thimble rig" the issue "and collect full value, for instance, for Russian rubles that are worth only 30 cents on the dollar."

To Avoid Commotions. Representative Ragsdale mentioned certain contracts he understood existed between them by which the allies agreed to pay commissions to bankers in this country on all bonds.

The bankers may hold the allies to this agreement," Ragsdale said, "but if congress makes this impossible the allies will be able without violating their agreement to keep faith with the American people. We can make it impossible for Wall street to collect and hold up and bleed us at this time."

There was no gag on debate. Hence the talk dragged. But it seemed likely that by tomorrow night the measure was to pass the house and be sent to the senate.

Representative Gardner, Massachusetts, republican, pleaded today that congress stop "boggling" and asked that it give Wilson his army draft bill, bespoken permission for Colonel Roosevelt or anyone else able to do so, to lead a division in Europe, and urged that congress "rubber stamp" Wilson's demands.

Would Let Teddy Go. "Don't try to fight a duel with swords at 30 paces," he said. "If Roosevelt or any other pied piper can whistle 25,000 fanatics after him, for heaven's sake give him a chance. He'll not make a botch of it."

If the president sits tight he'll get his army draft bill through by a big majority in spite of all the forces which are trying to fly speak it."

There is no material let down in the opposition to the administration's selective draft plan, however. There is a tendency to favor a compromise proposal for testing out the volunteer system to an even further extent than the bill provides, and if this fails then resort to the selective draft.

President Wilson and Secretary Baker, however, will stand by their guns and Chairman Chamberlain was hopeful today that this firmness would result in victory for the administration.

The Apple Pie that "showed me"

(Report No. 4) By a Missourian

I was raised in St. Louis, Missouri—on apple pie and other things. When I arranged to have K— make apple pie with Cottolene, I wanted pie with a wholesome flaky crust. I got it. I'll explain here how.

After K— had dried her hands, I had to argue to get her to follow the directions, to use one-third less of Cottolene than she would of other shortening. But soon K— said, "Cottolene certainly chops in easy." When the dough was mixed she put it in the ice-box for a while. That suited me because K— said it helped to make the crust flaky.

Then she rolled the dough. By this time the oven was hot. I waited half an hour, hoping for flaky-crust apple pie.

I was not disappointed. That was as good an apple pie as I ever tasted. The crust certainly was flaky, and the flavor was delicious. I was shown.

If you want to be shown, too, why don't you make a pie with Cottolene?

This is the recipe K— used for her pie crust: One and one-half cups flour Half teaspoon baking powder Half teaspoon salt Ice water Quarter cup Cottolene From R. J. C., Jr.
