One more day for Savage tires at the old price.

According to the annual report of H. J. Wiedner, secretary of the Salem lodge of Elks, the present membership is 739. During the past year 137 members have been initiated and five received by demit. Members lost by death and demit number 17. The lodge is in fine financial condition with a big bank account.

Tomorrow is the last day for Savage tires at the old price.

Selections from the grand operas "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Madam Butterfly" will be given this evening on the Victrola at the auditorium of the Salem public library, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss Ethel Merriam, art teacher of the high school, will tell the stories. The Victor machine and records were loaned by the Imperial Furniture store.

Buy a Savage tomorrow and save ten to fifteen per cent on your tires.

The Utility corps, of department No. 3, of the Girls' National Honor Guard, will meet this evening in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock. All members who have signed up for this department are urged to be present. Miss Margaret May is captain of this corps. The purpose of the meeting is to organize for military work, such as signaling, geographical location of cities, and swimming.

The Unitarian church Sunday 11 a. m., sermon by Pastor James M. Heady, subject "Something for Nothing."

The farmers in the vicinity of Independence will meet Saturday at the Independence opera house to discuss bean acreage. Already contracts have been signed for several hundred acres of beans at Independence and C. E. Patterson, who has been securing acreage contracts for the cleaning and grading factory to be erected at Salem, says the farmers are showing great interest. Contracts have been signed for more than 1,000 acres since the Salem Fruit company announced its intention of building the cleaning factory here. This factory will enable the growers of beans in this part of the valley to compete with the California product.

The Salem Woman's club will meet in the library tomorrow at 2:30 a discussion "Going the Pace," will be led by Mrs. Cartwright. Members are urged to come early for announcement of officers and a discussion of the new constitution.

Harry Q. Mills returned this morning from Eugene for a short vacation. He reports the boys in the university are enlisting in numbers and that many fraternity houses will close soon if the boys are called away.

Kamel Presser, the German who escaped from the asylum early yesterday morning, was re-captured late yesterday according to information given out by Dr. H. E. L. Steiner. He was captured near Oregon City.

At the meeting of the members of the officers reserve corps class last night in the armory, it was decided to go up to Corvallis Sunday to take the examination for second lieutenant. The trip will be made at the expense of the boys, who will meet at the armory Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Lieutenant Johnson of Corvallis, has agreed to hold the examination on the date. About 30 of the Salem boys will go.

The second of the series of chess games to be played at the Commercial club is on for tonight beginning at 8 o'clock and the public is welcome. After the first game of the tournament played one week ago, the team headed by Dr. W. H. Byrd with John Holand, A. M. Moore and L. Westcott came out ahead but it is understood some of the other would-be champions expect to change the program to some extent and at least put up a good fight against the leaders of one week ago.

Fred Koser, the champion sheep man living north of Rickreall, had 11 sheep for sale. This is the first chapter of the story. Otto Wilson had a Buick Six of a 1917 design for sale. By selling the 11 sheep at $100 each and adding the price of just a few common sheep, Mr. Koser had the price of the Buick which happened to be $1,220. There is nothing remarkable about this story excepting it does seem rather out of the usual for a man to drive 11 sheep to town, put in a little more spare change and then drive home with a $1,220 Buick and calling it even.

Clean-up week will probably be designated by the Commercial club, April 30 to May 7. Besides the general week of cleaning up the home premises, it is probable the question of planting every vacant lot in vegetables will be suggested. It seems that every city in the country will take up a movement for the planting in vegetables all vacant lots, to help in solving the food supply of not only this country but of the allied countries in Europe where food is being shipped.

That homely but useful article of food known as the common cabbage, is coming into its own and farmers who are so disposed are assured of a market at the rate of $10 a ton. This sum is being offered by the Gideon Stolz company, to be used for the manufacture of sauer kraut. It was not so long ago that $4 a ton was top notch but not to be outdone by several other food articles, cabbage is occupying a high shelf and is putting on so much swank that the old style five cent cabbage head is a thing of the past. The Gideon Stolz company want contracts for from one to 25 acres and will contract at $10 a ton.

Three Aumsville boys heard the call of duty and came to the Salem recruiting office yesterday and enlisted in the aviation corps. Their names are: William O. Dougherty, 18; George S. Fliter, 18, and Chas. D. Service, 19. As they enlisted since the declaration of war with Germany their service will be only for the duration of the war. Today Samuel J. Jones, 19, of Salem, enlisted in the signal corps and Marsell E. Reeves, 20, and Frank M. Strausbaugh, 20, enlisted in the hospital corps. Their enlistment is for the duration of the war.

Artistic placards have been placed in store windows to the effect that everybody is invited to partake of waffles and coffee at the Derby building on Court and High streets tomorrow. Breakfast will be ready for those who wish it as early as 7 o'clock in the morning and there will be a bevy of lovely Honor Guard girls on hand every hour of the day to serve, even as late as 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The Honor Guard girls have just recently organized and this is their first effort to put some spare change in their treasury. The rooms will be appropriately decorated and the girls promise not only the best of service, but also the best of coffee and waffles.
