FOUR-FOLD BENEFIT

From Two Grand Medicines in Spring. You know that physicians often give two prescriptions, perhaps more, or medicines to be taken together, or alternately, or at different times. One reason may be that the medicines are "incompatible" - do not agree when closely mixed in taking - or that desired results cannot be secured by one medicine alone.

MAY INTERFERE WITH ELECTRIC SERVICE

Improvements at Oregon City Will Reduce Both Light and Power

The United States government since purchasing the Willamette river locks at Oregon City has been making extensive improvements in the same by widening and deepening the channel and building new retaining walls and bulkheads. They are about to build the part of the new wall that will cut in front of the Portland Railway Light & Power company's power house which is located opposite the locks at Oregon City, and in order that the new wall may be constructed it will be necessary to shut off all of the water from the power plant for three or four days, until the company can build a wing dam or bulkhead to divert the water in such a way that it will not interfere with the government's construction of the retaining wall of the lock or canal.

The company requested the government to put off this work until the new power line from the company's river mill power plant on the Clackamas river could be built into Salem, and as the company expected that it would be possible to complete it by April 15, that date was set for shutting down the Oregon City plant to do the above mentioned work, but unfortunately, due to the difficulty in getting some of the insulators required for the new power line, the line cannot be completed by the date set of April 15, and therefore cannot be used in this emergency when it is most needed.

The tremendous demand for all kinds of electrical material by the nations at war, makes it almost impossible for private corporations to secure such material as they even absolutely need, at times, and that is the case in this instance.

The Portland Railway, Light & Power company will endeavor to maintain the best service possible by supplying service from its steam plants in Portland and Salem, but for technical reasons it is anticipated that the service may not be up to the usual standard and that the lights may be dim for the three or four days mentioned above, and it may even be necessary to operate the street cars during that time on a slower schedule, because of lack of power.

Mr. W. M. Hamilton, manager of the Willamette valley division of the company, expresses the hope that the company's customers and the patrons of the street car lines will be patient and bear with them in this unfortunate predicament, and that the public will also appreciate that this condition is due to causes beyond their control.

The government engineers in charge of the work at the locks feel that this work cannot be delayed any longer and that it must be started on the date of April 15 as above mentioned.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

At a meeting of the Prune Growers Pool of the Fruit Union, March 7, the members unanimously instructed the management to enter into negotiations with this company to deliver the prunes necessary.

The members passed an unanimous vote of thanks and appreciation to Messrs. McDaniel and Pauls for their efforts in succeeding in getting this plant located in the city.

Meats Much to City. The value of this plant to the city and surrounding country cannot be overestimated. It will give immediately an outlet for all fruits and vegetables raised in this section, at very reasonable prices.

Mr. Chas. McNary, president of the Salem Fruit Union, said: "This is one of the most important industries that has been brought to Salem. It gives the city a new payroll of considerable size, but most of all it gives the farmer a market for his produce. I consider it a God-send to the man on the five and 10 acre tracts."

Mr. Mason Wittenberg, who will probably manage the company in Salem, said this morning: "It is the hope of this company to place the fruit and vegetable farming of the valley on a business basis. We are offering the grower 10 year contracts at very inviting prices. Knowing that he is to have a market for his produce and at the right price for years to come, he can turn his attention to better methods of production and plan years ahead. We want to take the growers into partnership with us and will guarantee fair treatment."

Mr. Stanley Armstrong, field superintendent of the Wittenberg-King company made a very careful investigation of this field before the company decided to locate here.

Mr. Theo. Roth, director of the industrial department of the Salem Commercial club, said: "I consider that the Commercial club has more than justified its existence in bringing this important industry into the city."

Architects at Work. Architects are now at work on the plant and it is expected to have the factory in operation by July. The company prepares a product that is in great demand by the retail trade.

About eight months ago the Salem Commercial club interested these people in the Willamette valley. Since that time every town in the valley has been after them. All manner of inducements were offered by other sections. The Salem Commercial club was able to convince them that the soil varieties of this section were such that they could obtain all raw material necessary, not only for the present, but also for the future growth. Another fact that influenced them was that the business men of the city were working together for the good of the town, through one organization.

The deal has been under way for several months, but publicity was withheld until the site and raw material could be obtained. Mr. H. B. Crawford was instrumental in closing the deal for the site.

Mason Wittenberg is the son of H. Wittenberg, who before his death controlled the Pacific Coast Biscuit company. The Wittenbergs have sufficient finances to carry out any deal they may undertake.
