SOUTHERN PACIFIC HAS BANNER SEASON

Gross Revenues $163,427,432, a Gain of Some $20,959,517

San Francisco, April 19.—The Southern Pacific railroad company found the year 1916 the biggest year in its history according to the annual report of the board of directors made public here this afternoon.

"The gross revenues were $163,427,432.02," says the report, "which not only exceeded the earnings during the previous calendar year by $20,959,517.90, but surpassed the earnings during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916."

In analyzing the income of the road the report shows that freight traffic was the main source of increased revenues, various causes resulting in decreased passenger revenues.

"It is estimated that the completion of automobiles deprived our company's lines of earnings in excess of $1,000,000," the report says, but adds that earnings of $1,150,000 accrued from transporting troops to the Mexican border.

In reference to the car shortage which has been serious throughout the country, the report points out that while there has been a scarcity of rolling stock the improvement of loading and hauling methods made possible the handling of 2.45 per cent greater ton mileage than in 1915.

Referring briefly to the passage of the Adamson law and its effect, the estimate is made that the law will increase the pay rolls of the Southern Pacific by between $1,750,000 and $2,000,000.

Court House News

The damage suit brought against T. W. Steiger by Mrs. T. J. Robertson on account of injuries she asserts she received as a result of a fall from a ladder while picking fruit, which occupied the attention of the circuit court yesterday afternoon, was still on this morning.

Eileen Matlock, by her guardian, A. M. Matlock, lost her suit for $15,000 damages against Julius and Christian Aln for injuries she received in an automobile accident last October when she was severely cut about the face. The verdict was brought in by the jury late yesterday afternoon after the case had been on trial for two days.

C. B. Potter, who was charged in Justice Webster's court with assault on a five-year-old girl, was discharged yesterday afternoon because there was not sufficient evidence introduced to warrant his being held. The accusation was brought by the girl's father, but at the examination nothing could be proven of a criminal nature.

The jury Redfern was given the verdict of the Harry in the case brought against him by O. J. Dandy for $340 damages for an alleged breach of contract relative to the building of some cottages at Newport for Redfern.

The highway department is in Portland today consulting with the government engineers relative to securing the permit. The design of the piers will proceed at once so that bids may be called and construction work started as soon as possible. Figures will later be taken on the superstructure.

The bridge is to be built on the site of the present one and will be of the high level type.

Gerard Lays Bare Scheme of Germans

Boston, April 19.—To show the "deep hatred" which he asserted Germany has held against the U. S., Former Ambassador Jas. W. Gerard tonight disclosed facts which he said had been kept from the American people during the past two and a half years. He was the principal speaker at a national defense dinner given by the Pilgrim Publicity Association.

Mr. Gerard said that Admiral von Tirpitz, in thinly veiled statements and the German reichstag and Prussian parliament in open discussion proposed the institution of unrestricted submarine warfare against England with the intention "when England should have been subdued by hunger to come over to the United States and collect the price of the war from us."

"I want to tell you," Mr. Gerard added, "that if we had not gone into this war, Germany would have fulfilled its intention to come over afterwards and attack us and would have done so almost with the applause of the rest of the world. I can tell you also that everything consistent with honor was done to keep us out of the war. Beyond that, I am sure, none would have us go."

The former ambassador expressed his belief that citizens of German descent would prove loyal, but he added, "if they do not stand with us, I think we know where to fustion them."

Major General Wood said that "those who are opposing the president's policy of universal, obligatory military service will be responsible for thousands of lives if their arguments prevail."

Trading Very Light Prices Inclined to Sag

New York, April 19.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Professional operators in the stock market were again extremely wary today and the volume of trading was even less than in yesterday's dull session. The undertone was in general firm. There were intervals of strength and again prices were inclined to sag, indicating complete absence of initiative and, in consequence, of trend. Nevertheless, it reflected some degree of nervousness with respect to the government bond issue, which will probably be launched next week.

It is the opinion in numerous conservative quarters that the issue will be enthusiastically over-subscribed.

There was a fair demand for stocks at the opening, but this soon died down, with prices generally holding their early gains. In the afternoon an idle sea-sawing movement kept prices more or less unsettled. United States Steel touched the highest level since Monday and ruled near 112. Copper shares were strong but neglected. After the initial trading shipping issues were under considerable pressure. There was little change in the ammunition or specialty group, save in Ohio cities Gas, Mexican Petroleum, the alcohol stocks and so on, which were strong.

The railroad department was quiet and firm with gains of about a point in Union Pacific and Reading and 1 to 4 points in Pittsburgh and West Virginia common and preferred.

RIGALL'S CHARGES ARE TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Grand Jury Probing Charge District Attorney Was In "Frame Up"

San Francisco, April 19.—While a request for the appointment of a special representative of the office of Attorney General Webb to direct the grand jury investigation of the charges against F. C. Oxman, Oregon cattleman, star witness in the Mooney case, was being sent to Sacramento, San Francisco today awaited new developments. Oxman promised to "tell some things" about F. Rigall, his accuser, and at the same time the San Francisco grand jury, after a session ending at 1 o'clock this morning, has announced its determination to probe the matter to the bottom.

Oxman is at liberty on $2,000 cash bail which he furnished following his arrest into yesterday. He reiterates his charge that the police and the offices of District Attorney Fickert have "thrown him down."

The grand jury session which considered the case from yesterday evening until early this morning, listened to advice from District Attorney Fickert, who was the only witness appearing. His wish was that the grand jury postpone its investigation until after the police courts were through with the preliminary but the grand jury decided otherwise and on Fickert's advice decided to request the appointment of a special attorney by the office of the state attorney general to direct the investigation.

Stockbridge, Farmers National Congress; C. A. Barrett, Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union; H. I. Zimmer, Ancient Order of Glauvers, and Oliver Wilson, National Guard.

President Stands Pat

Washington, April 19.—The administration is determined that politics shall not defeat the conscription army bill which army men say is absolutely vital to the safety of the nation.

The president will stand for no compromise. He favors the Chamberlain bill, which provides selective draft without modification and will fight for the passage of that measure.

It is his purpose to get the bill through the senate, then put the issue squarely before the house. It appears inevitable now that the bill will be thrown into conference before final action is taken on it. The house will vote on its bill, which includes a volunteer feature next Monday. By the terms of this measure, the president would be authorized to call for five hundred thousand volunteers and if that fails to resort to selective drafting; or if the president desired—he could put the draft system into effect immediately and issue no call for volunteers. This plan shifts the whole responsibility for any conscription onto the president.

The senate may reach a vote on its bill which is only slightly changed from the one the president wants, before tomorrow night, and the administration feels no doubt as to its passage in the upper house.

May Shake Them Up

While respecting the individual viewpoints of those who oppose selective draft, President Wilson is understood to feel that this is not an opportune time for prolonged discussion of details when it is vitally essential to the welfare of the nation to raise an army at once.

For that reason it appears likely there may soon be something in the nature of a blast from the white house to jar congress into action.

The president is expected to resort to the usual method of putting up to the country the question of support on measures on which he and some members of congress differ.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoo contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain multifid coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifid coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Nothing is contemplated along the lines of his "wild twelve" exorcism, but when he speaks it will be to let the country know that those responsible for the delay on the army bill are jeopardizing the safety of the country.

With completion of work on the army bill in sight, the emergency war program is nearing its end and congress is again talking adjournment.

Many believe now that the session can be ended by June 1. Leaders of both parties are sounding out members as to the opinion on this.

General von Bissing German Governor of Belgium, Is Dead

Amsterdam, April 19.—General Von Bissing, German governor general of Belgium according to apparently authentic information, sources is dead. These advices reached here today from various German sources.

General Von Bissing, German's dictator in Belgium, was reported ill with pneumonia several months ago. Early in the year the Kaiser relieved him from his duties for an indefinite leave, that he might recuperate.

Von Bissing was a master type of German military autocracy. He ruled Belgium with a hand of steel. It was he who was credited with conceiving the idea of deporting Belgians; it was Von Bissing who approved the sentence of death passed by a court-martial on Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse charged with espionage.

George M. Cohan Makes Screen Debut

At Oregon theatre next week in "Broadway Jones."

The widely heralded motion picture debut of George M. Cohan takes place at the Oregon theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. "Broadway Jones," his greatest stage success affords him his initial screen vehicle in which he is supported by an excellent cast including such well known film favorites as Margaret Snow, of "The Million Dollar Mystery" fame, Russell Bassett, the veteran character actor of many screen successes, Crawford Kent and Jia Darling.

The story tells of a small town youth who secures a goodly inheritance and journeys to the Great White Way to "burn it up." After various exciting experiences he finds that his money has dwindled to nothing and learns that there are many unpaid bills to be met. After complications involving a rich widow whom he asks to marry, he turns back to his home town and starts life anew, taking over his father's chewing gum plant where new experiences await him. Sparkling with a continuous series of humorous situations, offset by various dramatic scenes, this subject under the direction of Joseph Kaufman, presents a breezy story of ruffian action and human interest, a typical George M. Cohan production.

When produced at the George M. Cohan theatre, on Broadway some three years ago, "Broadway Jones" immediately proved itself the biggest popular success in which Mr. Cohan ever appeared, as well as the hit of the entire theatrical season. Frequently sought by motion picture producers without success, this story presents an admirable screen subject and with George M. Cohan in the original character, should more than duplicate its stage popularity among patrons of high class pictures.

Mount Angel College Has Alumni in Army Service

Edward James Eivers, '04, is first lieutenant of Company H, and Benton Kilbin, '04, holds the rank of second lieutenant in Company I, of Woodburn.

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Engineers Securing Government Permit to Construct Bridge

The Marion county court has requested the state highway department to design and superintend the construction of the Salem bridge and secure the necessary permits from the war department. The bridge engineer of the highway department is in Portland today consulting with the government engineers relative to securing the permit.

The design of the piers will proceed at once so that bids may be called and construction work started as soon as possible. Figures will later be taken on the superstructure.

The bridge is to be built on the site of the present one and will be of the high level type.
