TERRIFIC FIGHTING

ests, ravines and valleys, or slips through former German trenches.

The ability of the French to bombard without limit any point, at any time, is what permits the absolute certainty of an advance. Such a concentration of fire as the French pour in where they want it, completely wipes out every defensive device known to German genius or constructed by German labor since 1914.

But if the actual fighting battle front does not reveal the presence of troops immediately to the rear there is everywhere visible a titanic concentration of men, munitions and material. The valleys woods and ravines are filled with cavalry, infantry, hatched batteries, machine trains, automobiles, trucks, cannon—all either advancing or awaiting the word to dash to the front. There is forward movement everywhere.

Haig Smashes Again

London, April 21.—Field Marshal Haig smashed another blow at Cambrai today—and advanced more than a mile toward that stronghold of the Hindenburg line.

His capture of Gonnelleux was announced in an official statement today. The British commander in chief reported sharp fighting in this drive. He likewise detailed repulse of a German attack delivered at Fausquissart and considerable artillery firing at a number of places along the front.

With the capture of Gonnelleux, Haig's steel line paralleling the Cambrai-Quentin highway had been shoved one mile closer to Cambrai, and a dividing angle for a blow on that city formed, reaching from Havrincourt and Villers Plouich to Gonnelleux on the north, to Villers Guislain and Epehy on the south.

Gonnelleux after sharp fighting, taking a number of prisoners," the report said. "An enemy party attempted to enter our trenches in the neighborhood of Fausquissart, but were repulsed. Artillery was active at a number of places during the night."

French Make More Gains

Paris, April 21.—More ground was gained by French attacks north of Rheims today while General Nivelle's forces bent back German attacks upon the positions around Mont Haat, which were wrested from the enemy a few days ago.

The French official statement, announcing these details of the past 24 hours fighting, declared heavy losses had been inflicted upon the Germans in the Mont Haat repulse.

Artillery was active during the night north of the Aisne in the region of Naulu La Pisse and Hautebeise," the statement said. "Cannonading was particularly violent east of Craonne and north of Rheims."

"French forces gained ground in grenade fighting south of Juvincourt and east of Coucy."

(Juvincourt lies five miles due east of Craonne and about 15 miles northwest of Rheims. Coucy is five miles northwest of Rheims.)

"A German attack on Mont Haat was repulsed with losses to the enemy."

"French detachments raided German lines west of Maison De Champagne, imprisoning forty Germans."

Making No Claims

Berlin, via London, April 21.—Today's official statement took opportunity to enlarge on the unity of purpose of all of Germany's people as exemplified on the western fighting front.

SENATE RUSHING

explanation of the army bill. Senator Overman said he would agree to lay aside the espionage bill for the army bill.

Thompson—an enemy of conscription—objected and spoke about 20 minutes over the repeated objection of Chamberlain.

Senator Fernald of Maine, then got the floor and talked upon the tinplate industry for half an hour—an obvious filibuster proceeding.

Senator McCumber followed and discussed an amendment to the "spy" bill he had offered yesterday.

Autis Fight It

Washington, April 21.—Predicting serious "draft riots" if conscription goes into effect, a score of anti-conscriptionists appeared before the senate military affairs committee today.

The committee granted the "anti's" two hour to put their objections on record.

Joseph Cannon, labor leader and organizer, said: "There will be strikes, prices will be raised from war exploitation and blood is going to flow in the streets."

We are going into war to establish democracy in Germany and in so doing we are establishing autocracy in the United States."

Gran Hamilton, representing the American Federation of Labor, declared that "American labor stands solidly against conscription," and read a statement of Samuel Gompers against the draft.

J. Eads How, the millionaire "hobo" of St. Louis, argued against conscription.

Professor Edward Cheney of the University of Pennsylvania, called conscription "un-American and unnecessary," and pleaded for more liberal exemption clauses if the bill is passed.

Soissons is Freed

By Henry Wood
(United Press staff correspondent)

With the Soissons Army, April 21.—Soissons, the city nearest Paris which has been under German guns since the battle of the Marne, is now freed of this menace for the first time since the enemy turned back from the French capital in 1914.

By cutting off the salient from the Vally bridgehead to Fort Conde, the French forced the Germans back such a distance that Soissons is now liberated.

The blow that almost killed Walter was that third strike of Cap Bill Rodgers in the ninth, when Bill Burns fanned him and stopped a Beaver batting rally just in time to save the game.

Del Howard pulled some deep stuff in that inning. Going into the ninth with the count Oakland 6, and Beavers 3, Portland managed to hit hard and put two runs over. Came Rodgers to the plate and Howard at once pulled Goodhead off the rubber and sent Burns in. It took just four pitched balls to dispose of Rodgers on strikes.

At that the Beavers got 13 hits to the Oaks' 8.

Bill Steen will be decorated with a lei wreath when he gets back home.

He stepped into the breach again at Salt Lake yesterday and stopped the onrushing Bees short.

DODGERS HAVE WON ONE GAME OF SEVEN

Experts With Lead Pencils Had Figured Them Out As Sure Winners

By H. C. Hamilton.
(United Press staff correspondent.)

New York, April 21.—The upset of the Brooklyn champions of the National league, undoubted just now, is one of the things left in baseball to prove that dope has a place in the sun.

Beginning with Philadelphia, then taking on the Giants and stepping back again to the Phillies, the Dodgers have managed to win just one baseball game out of seven. That game was piled off the Giants through the pitching of Jack Coombs, the only man who could hold the Red Sox in check when the Dodgers and Bostonese clashed for the world's title last fall.

All through the winter it has been figured from various angles that the Dodgers constituted a first division baseball club—perhaps. The Braves, Phillies and Giants have been called stronger. The effort of a pencil and a small piece of paper was enough to show that championship qualities did not hold forth in the city across the bridge.

It has been pointed out that the Dodger pitching staff is only fair, the infield passable and the outfield no stronger than that of any other National league club. There is a star or so drawing his paycheck from Colonel Ebbets—Jake Daubert and Zach Wheat would grace anybody's baseball club.

But there it ends. The collapse so far has been complete. The Dodgers may revive. The arithmetical result proves they should whip some one. But on present indications the Brooklyn entry will have to perform some better than it has so far to maintain a place above the half way line.

Darcy-Chip Bout May 19.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 21.—With the Duffy-Griffith bout out of the way, Youngstown is now preparing for the Darcy-Chip clash Saturday afternoon, May 19. Twenty thousand fight fans are expected.

Lockport Jimmy Duffy lost a newspaper decision in his 12-round set-to with Johnny Griffith, the Akron flash, here last night. Duffy, partially overcame Griffith's lead towards the close of the fight, but not enough to earn the decision.

Purchased Fred Merkle.

Chicago, April 21.—The purchase of Fred Merkle, ex-Giant, and now first baseman on the Brooklyn Dodgers, was announced by President Weeghman of the Cubs today. Merkle, who replaces Vic Saier at first, with the Bruins, will report at Cincinnati tomorrow. The consideration, admitted by Weeghman to be large, was not made public.

Sam Langford Wins.

New York, April 21.—Sam Langford, negro heavyweight, easily outpointed Bob Devere 10 rounds.

DAVE DAVENPORT'S ESCAPE MARVELOUS

Star Pitcher Surprises Fans by Appearing in Brown's Uniform Today

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press staff correspondent.)

New York, April 21.—Dave Davenport, burly pitcher of the Browns, is wearing a Brownie uniform today to the surprise of several hundred thousand fans, who expected to mourn the death of one of the game's iron men when they read that he had dropped a gun and received a wound in his huge frame above the knee, which would prevent physical exertion probably has helped him out considerably, for he declared a few days ago that he would be ready to help Fielder Jones' team this year just as much as ever.

That statement probably is stretching it a little, for there are few men who can receive the wound that Davenport did and live to tell about it. He can hardly be just as good as ever.

Davenport is weak and he walks with a limp, but the news that he was going to take a whirl at baseball again this summer was considerably encouraging to the Browns.

It is possible Davenport will carry the marks of his accident all his life. He can't move his body in the long, swinging motion essential to pitching. He can't open his mouth to its full extent because he received part of the charge of shot in his chin. Outside of that he's nearly all right. The wound didn't hurt his heart any. The grit that carried him through a double header last summer is still there. If he can pitch with anything like his former form the Browns will be much more dangerous than anyone has expected.

Yesterday's big league hero—Cactus Cravath. In the eighth inning he deposited a baseball in the left field bleachers and defeated the Dodgers.

Incidentally, Cravath's blow sent Grover Cleveland Alexander one game nearer the necessary 31 or more that will get $1,000.

The Giants crumbled in the fourteenth and the Braves went into a tie for the National league leadership.

Nothing Doing in Market Prices Still Lower

New York, April 21.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Interest in today's short session of the stock market was of a most perfunctory character, with little in the way of news developments of striking market-wide influence. Prices of the general list were heavy from the outset and narrow save where bear attacks were directed against a few individual stocks, a manifestation of a rather spotty aspect. Trading in the first half of the session was dull to a degree and appeared to represent adjustment of professional commitments for the week end. There was more or less short selling, but the movement was not extensive. Bonds were slightly more animated and prices in general were better, with increasing firmness in the convertible railroad issues.

The standard issues yielded only fractionally in most cases, Bethlehem Steel a lost four points or so, but elsewhere in the steel group price changes were not extensive. United States Steel led most, mostly around the previous closing level. Softness here and there in the railroad department was in some quarters attributed to foreign liquidation.

Berlin Declares Strikes Are Settled

London, April 21.—Berlin's official version of the general strike by wireless from a German station today denied any rioting in the German capital and declared it "already settled."

"There were no riots or fierce street fighting in Berlin during the strike which is already settled," the wireless claimed. "The only unusual incidents were when a few hundred factory boys gathered at a few points and were dispersed by the police without difficulty. Their proceedings were not directed against the government but against the building formerly occupied as the British embassy."

By setting fire to the beds in which his mother and little sister slept, yesterday morning at 9:25 o'clock, four-year-old Eugene Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Fletcher, of 707 Tigua street, St. Johns, imperiled the lives of the family and narrowly missed reducing their home to ashes.
