A marriage license was issued yesterday by the county clerk to R. D. Thomas, a farmer of Salem, and M. C. Miles, also of Salem. This is the groom's second venture in matrimony and the bride's third.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" will be given this evening at the Oregon State hospital and as a compliment to the players, Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner will tender them a banquet after the play. Friday evening the play will be given at the opera house for the benefit of Willamette chapter Red Cross.

Two gold medals were won by the pupils of the commercial department of the high school, offered by the Remington Typewriter company for pupils who can average 61 words a minute, writing for 10 minutes. The fast writers this month were Miss Blanche Applegate and Hugh Walker.

A shipment of sugar amounting to 161,000 pounds was received today by the Northwest Fruits Products company, generally known as the Loju plant. The shipment came in 1,600 sacks and the shipment from San Francisco was entirely by water. This amount of sugar will be used in the manufacture of Loju and other products of the Northwest Fruit Products company.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society will meet in the parlors of the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Several matters of importance will come before this meeting, one of them being the advisability of organizing an auxiliary to the Willamette Chapter Red Cross.

Mrs. H. M. King, and daughter, Irene, of Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, arrived in Salem yesterday to spend several weeks visiting at the home of Mrs. John Bartlett, on rural route No. 7. When she left Idaho Mrs. King said the snow was just beginning to disappear and that Salem, with its green grass, looked good to her.

Nothing like having plenty of friends. William Allen, a conductor on the Salem Street Railway has been sick for some time with malaria and unable of course to attend to his spring gardening. In order that he should not worry on this score, about a dozen of his friends went to his home yesterday evening and proceeded to plant his garden and now everything is in ship shape.

Friday evening members of the officers' reserve training corps will meet at the armory for instruction and a general discussion of training camp work. It is probable this will be the last meeting of the corps in a body as the impression is general that within a week or so there will be a call to report at the Presidio, San Francisco. It is understood that Saturday of this week is the last day when applications for this corps will be received in Portland.

The team belonging to Clarence Merrill, driver of an express wagon, took fright this morning on North Commercial street and ran away. They circled a block and wound up at the Schramm feed barns on Front and Center streets. The wagon had the tongue broken out and one horse was slightly cut. One horse was thrown to the ground and dragged a short distance.

The morning papers tell of an American gunner hitting a periscope at a distance of 1,000 yards. If the report is correct, the gunner evidently was some gunner as shooting at 1,000 yards at a small target is equal to putting a gun on top of the Ladd & Bush bank and hitting a bulls eye on a target located about half way between the state house and Supreme court building. Then imagine the bank building and target both traveling at a pretty rapid rate of speed, and a choppy sea to give both an up and down motion.

The Arenz Construction Co. of 1640 South High street has been awarded a contract for $70,000 worth of paving in the city of Astoria. It is to be of a five inch base concrete with a two and one half inch surface. The Salem firm was awarded the contract in competition with the Warren Construction company and Montague & Riley Co. The work will begin at once. During the past five years the Arenz Construction company has done about $200,000 worth of work in Astoria.

Red Cross day at the Leslie Methodist Episcopal church will be observed next Sunday evening where the work of the society will be presented by members of Willamette University auxiliary. Addresses will be made by Miss Gladys Carson and Miss Beatrice Walton on first aid, home dietetics and home nursing work. Miss Helen Wood will tell of the sewing department and Miss Eva Grant, chairman of the University auxiliary, about membership qualifications. She will also solicit members. Special music for the evening will be provided by Willamette University male quartet and the Leslie M. E. choir. Everybody in town is invited to attend these services and especially those who live in South Salem. Mrs. E. E. Fisher, chairman of the membership committee of Willamette chapter will tell of the work in her department.

Some of the people in Minnesota are wondering whether that winter climate would not be a good country in which to grow loganberries. William Fleming today expressed a package of loganberry roots to friends at St. James hospital, Perham, Minnesota. So far, the loganberry has not been successfully grown in that state on account of the winter killing of the cane.

The ladies of the First Congregational church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. I. Stanley to organize an auxiliary of Willamette chapter Red Cross. Mrs. B. O. Schucking will meet with the ladies and explain the purposes of the American National Red Cross and its auxiliaries.
