AMERICAN STEAMER HILONIAN IS SUNK AND FOUR OF CREW DROWNED

New York, May 17.—The American steamer Hilonian of 2921 tons was sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean with a loss of four members of her crew. Universal Transportation company, owners of the vessel, were advised today. Eighteen members of the crew in addition to Captain Williams were American citizens. The ship carried a cargo of provisions. Ten Years On Pacific. San Francisco, May 17.—The steamer Hilonian reported torpedoed in the Mediterranean, for ten years plied between San Francisco and Honolulu. She was then owned by the Matson Navigation company, of this city, but was sold to the Pacific Trading company, early in this year and was later resold to the Universal Transportation company for $550,000. Her captain, H. A. Williams, First Officer D. F. Mahoney and Second Officer J. A. Vanderhook are San Francisco men. Third Officer Dunne lives in Seattle. The Hilonian left San Francisco February 1 for Iquique, Chile laden with wheat. Thence she went to New York and was transferred to the Universal Transportation company. The Hilonian was built in 1888 at Middleborough, England, and her tonnage was 2921. She was 340 feet long, 37 feet beam and 27.2 deep. She was the first vessel put on the Honolulu run by Captain Matson, of the Matson Navigation company and remained on that run for twelve years. The Hilonian was sunk thirty miles off Genoa, May 15 according to a cable to the owners from the American consul at Genoa. No mention was made of the fate of 24 American members of the crew. The Universal Transportation company, owners, valued the vessel at $1,000,000 and the cargo at $2,500,000.

FRUITLAND ITEMS

Capital Journal Special Service

Fruitland, May 17.—Thursday evening the school board employed H. C. Todd to teach the fall and winter term of school at an advance of salary. Mr. Todd has given excellent satisfaction in the term now closing. The board was unanimous in the selection. Rev. Edward Simpson of Salem will not occupy the G. O. Swales residence as he had planned doing. Ask C. M. Robinson of Yeoman how it feels to be stuck in J. D. Clark's "bully yard." Wednesday morning road supervisor Clark with a couple of teams began to fill some chuck holes with god and surface dirt between Miller's woods and the P. R. Conson place. After spending an hour or so they completed the job and had hardly passed out of sight when Mr. Robinson attempted to pass over the spot with his auto when he mired completely and when he tried to dig himself out failed completely. He got Mr. McPeak to hitch his own auto to the back end and thus was the stalled car pulled out backward like a cat by the tail. This is the second automobile within less than a week that has had to be pulled out of this hole. Mr. Clark has been much remiss in duty in failing to put this spot in condition fit for traffic as the road is much used, teams passing about all the time. The Capital Journal states that Jake Moses and Luke Moses furnished the flag pole that was lately put up on the school house ground. This is an error. There are no such persons in this locality. It was Jake Moser who furnished the pole. The Macley correspondent states that the farmers in that locality appreciate very much the rains they are now having. May be they do. It must be the kind they are getting is different from the kind we are getting here in Fruitland. We have about as much use for ours as a man would for an overcoat in Tophet. Road Supervisor Kaplinger is raising the roadway at the foot of the hill near J. B. Simpson's, at the bridge. Peter Smith of Portland visited relatives here last week. Monday he left to visit other relatives near Marion. A. W. Schunk, who formerly lived near Yeoman and who for the past year, has been in the mercantile business at Aumsville is clearing out his stock and will retire from merchandising. Last Saturday N. J. and Mrs. Bowers of this place attended services at the Seventh Day Adventist church in North Salem. The membership is about Friends and some others, are non-combatants, it was announced that those who wished to avoid conscription should at once register as non-combatants.

GREAT FORCE MASSES BY GERMANS ON WEST

On All Fronts Allies Are Conducting Vigorous Aggressive Campaigns

By Perry Arnold. (United Press foreign editor.)

New York, May 17.—On every front in Europe and Asia today allied troops were waging their spring offensive, except where Russian troops faced the enemy. England and France were still gaining bit by bit in the greatest of these offensive movements, in France. Along the Austro-Italian front, General Cadorna was hurling his troops forward in Italy's most formidable and most successful offensive against the Austrians. In Macedonia, General Serrail, with his cosmopolitan forces of French, British, Russian, Italian and Serbian and Greek troops, was fighting along a front of nearly 300 miles. In Mesopotamia General Maund's British expeditionary forces was pressing on north of Baghdad. In Palestine General Murray with his British invaders was slowly but steadily pressing the Turks back and sweeping on toward Jaffa and the holy city of Jerusalem. America was participating in this world offensive movement. American navy destroyers patrolled European waters, and on the French battle front the American flag flew from the fighting planes of the Lafayette escadrille and from the munitions transport wagons of one American unit. The every front offensive plan is the first fruit of the allied councils this winter at Rome, Paris and London. It is a co-ordinated, carefully-timed, completely organized effort. Official statements today detailed continued gains by the British around Bullecourt, key point to the Wotan section of the Hindenburg line; told of French successes in flinging back tremendous German counter attacks at Laffaux and Bray-En-Laonnais; and described continued success of the Italian drive toward Trieste. A Tremendous Army. By Henry Wood. (United Press staff correspondent.) With the French Armies in the Field, May 17.—The greatest force of men Germany has ever called into action has been massed on the west front in Hindenburg's effort to stop the Franco-British drive. Between April 9 and May 11 there were at least 1,250,000 men engaged on the German side. Headquarters estimates today, based on careful calculation and evidence obtained from prisoners and scouting raids, showed in the period mentioned that the German commander-in-chief utilized 84 German divisions. Seven of these were engaged twice in the fighting in this month's period. The greatest previous massing of German forces was around Verdun. The fighting there is probably the nearest comparable to the fierceness of the struggle now progressing in the allied drive. But in the entire year from February, 1916, to February, 1917, the Germans engaged only 56 1/2 divisions—about 847,500 men—using 14 of these twice and six divisions three times. In a little over a month, therefore, in struggling against the Franco-British drive, Germany has called into action a force almost double the number of fighters she threw into one year's campaign against Verdun. German Attacks Fierce. Paris, May 17.—For the second successive night, German troops threw violent attacking waves last night against French positions north of Moulin and Laffaux, and were again repulsed, today's official statement declared. Another series of three German attacking waves northeast of Bray-En-Laonnais was likewise checked, the war office declared. "In the course of the night," the statement said, "the Germans re-attacked in the region north of Moulin and Laffaux. All their efforts to retake the ground gained by the French counter attacks failed, they losing heavily. "Northeast of Bray-En-Laonnais three German assaulting waves were checked by our certain fire without the enemy obtaining any results." The statement also detailed patrol fighting in the Champagne. The German Version. Berlin, via London, May 17.—In the face of strong British counter attacks German troops were forced to give up some ground captured in Roex early this morning, according to today's official statement. The war office said so far in May, 2,300 British and 2,700 French had been captured. British Edge Ahead. London, May 17.—More progress at Bullecourt was reported by Field Marshal Haig today. "There was fighting around Bullecourt again," he said. "We progressed further through the village and reached the western edge." "As provision is made by the government for such exemption. Suppose all should act on this permission where would the country get its soldiers? If all acted thus there would be no war. It is feared these continuous rains will in some cases interfere with fruit pollination. Oswald Fliegel formerly of Fruitland but who for the last year or more, has been employed in a machine shop in La Crosse, Wis., has enlisted in Uncle Sam's army. Oswald though a German is a true American and honors his country. Last Sunday afternoon Mrs. Josephine Fliegel had as house guests several ladies of the community. There were present Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Mrs. Frank Schroeder, Mrs. R. J. Egler, Mr. and Mrs. Jule Lute from Wisconsin who have purchased the property just east of Wm. Kaplinger, and Mrs. Fliegel's married daughter, Annie, and Mrs. Emma Bowers, Miss Esther Bowers and Miss Masie Fliegel, the two last being employed in Salem. Mrs. T. C. White has returned from Salem where she was for some time

ALIES MUST HAVE 100,000,000 BUSHELS ADDITIONAL SUPPLY

Chicago, May 17.—Robert M. French of the French Pan-Coast Laboratories, New York, stated this afternoon that he had been informed recently by Herbert C. Hoover, proposed American "food dictator," that "unless we furnish the allies 100,000,000 bushels of wheat above their normal demand, or its equivalent in flour, during the coming year, the war is lost." French is here attending the bakers conference. *****

Bullecourt Captured.

London, May 17.—Field Marshal Haig announced this afternoon the capture of Bullecourt had been completed.

Torpedo Boat Sunk.

Amsterdam, May 17.—A German torpedo boat was sunk by a mine or torpedoed Wednesday evening north of Schiermonnikog, according to word received here today.

House Has Materially Increased Surtaxes

Washington, May 17.—A climax to a day of heavy increases in the revenue bill was reached late this afternoon when the house increased by 25 per cent all surtaxes on incomes between $80,000 and $1,000,000 and put a 45 per cent tax on the amount by which all incomes exceed $1,000,000. The house in committee of the whole, adopted the amendment 146 to 107. This was the last of a series of similar amendments introduced by Representative Lemont, Wisconsin, and adopted which would increase by 25 per cent all income tax surtaxes from $40,000 incomes up to $1,000,000 and by 45 per cent all over that amount.

Vocational Lecture at Unitarian Church

A vocational lecture will be delivered at the Unitarian church Friday evening by J. M. Heady who has made a special study of this line of work. He was a student of Vocational Training at the University of California and had charge of its work at the world's fair, delivering lectures in the Palace of Education. Later he toured California specializing in vocational education and occupational guidance. He was one of the charter members of the Vocational Guidance Society of California and was largely responsible for the extension courses in this work at the University of California. The primary object of the lecture Friday evening by Mr. Heady is to plan for a school of vocations to be located in Salem. The business of a school of vocations is to find out just what a person is especially adapted to and to educate one in that line. In other words to endeavor to prevent mistakes in the business and professional world.

Market Comes to Life and Prices Advance

New York, May 17.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said: Trading in the first half of today's stock market was in twice the volume that was turned over in the same period yesterday, when the announcement of the $100,000,000 loan to Russia suddenly convinced Wall Street that it had taken a too gloomy view of conditions in the new democracy. That conviction again held sway today. The opening was buoyant and by the end of the first hour prices were at the top. There followed an interval of backing and filling which left net changes narrow at midday. In the changes hour of the afternoon session the trend was again upward. Gains of one to three points were recorded, with United States Steel and Lackawanna the favorites, both at new high levels for the current year. Washington advices that Russia could be counted on to push the war vigorously, and London cables stating that the cabinet crisis had been settled, served to accelerate the upward movement, renewed after mid-day. A night class will hold its session. At present about 40 are in this class. This is important. All who appear for work or lectures at the post office must wear the regulation Red Cross aprons. Patterns for the aprons or that aprons themselves may be found at the Meyers and Shipley stores. Headquarters at Washington insists on this regulation white apron uniform for those who are taking work in the surgical dressing department.

RED CROSS NOTES

The following instructions came from headquarters: Auxiliaries taking out materials for hospital garments should return them when completed to their own auxiliary chairman. By this means, the work of an auxiliary will be turned in at one time and thus be given proper credit. Liberty is living up to its name. There was another enthusiastic patriotic meeting held there last night with the object of largely increasing its present Red Cross membership. Brooks will organize this evening and speakers will be sent to explain the work and tell what an auxiliary can and cannot do. Mrs. E. E. Fisher, chairman of the membership committee of Willamette chapter will go to Macleay with other speakers Friday evening and assist in organizing an auxiliary. Old wardrobes are wanted at surgical dressing headquarters in the postoffice building and any one possessing one not in use, would do a favor by telephoning 1509, Red Cross headquarters. Mrs. Harry E. Clay also says that her department is in need of old sheets, pillow slips, bath towels and any kind of old linens. Classes in the preparation of surgical dressings were held by Mrs. Clay this afternoon and the same lecture will be given again Friday afternoon, in order to accommodate the large classes. Friday evening at the post office, the in a local hospital. She is somewhat improved in health and her many friends are encouraged to hope for her a speedy recovery.

SCHEP'S SALEM'S MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S

SAILORS TO EAT Washington, May 17.—American sailors are going to have more to eat during the war. Here's what a bill passed by the senate says: "During the continuance of the war an extra allowance of one ounce of coffee or cocoa, two ounces of sugar, four ounces of hard bread or its equivalent and four ounces of preserved meat or its equivalent shall be allowed to enlisted men of the deck force and standing night watches between 8 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock a. m." *****

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED

Salmon people should use a few doses of simple glycerine, etc., as soon as they feel a pain in the abdomen, or a feeling of fullness in the stomach. This simple matter has a great effect in preventing the inflammation which is the cause of appendicitis. It is a common ailment and is often fatal. Advertisers for this medicine should state the name of the doctor who has used it. Examine Bill of the Senate Committee, with the report, May 30 and June 1, 1917. A number of the same are in or out of the Senate.
