BATTERS' STANDING CALLS OUT COMMENT

Tris Speaker Leads Americans with .344 and Jack Smith, Nationals, .407

By H. C. Hamilton (United Press staff correspondent) New York, May 19.—Tris Speaker's absence from the top of the American league batting list ended today. He has bounced back and leads George Sisler by a single point. Speaker is clubbing at a .344 clip and Sisler is hitting .343.

George Burns is the real leader among the national leaguers, but his average of .365 is topped by four players. Jack Smith, St. Louis, is hitting .407, Wilbert Huston, .393; Griffith, Cincinnati, .381 and Fischer, Pittsburgh, .370.

Habe Ruth maintains his place at the top of the American league hurlers, with eight straight victories giving him the lead. Williams, Chicago; Shoemaker, New York; Love, New York and Cunningham, Detroit, have escaped defeat.

Ferd Shupp, Giants, leads in the National league pitching averages with three victories and no losses. Seaton, Chicago; Reuther, Chicago; Moyer, Philadelphia; Prendergast, Chicago; Middleton, New York and Eller, Cincinnati, have maintained siphons in their last column. Alexander has won five and lost two.

'Americus,' Downed Twice Kansas City, Mo., May 19.—Earl Caddock, Anita, Iowa, defeated Gus Schoenlein, Baltimore, known to the wrestling world as 'Americus,' in two straight falls here last night. The first fall came after 47 minutes and the second in sixteen minutes and thirty seconds.

To Box Tonight San Francisco, May 19.—Mike and Tom Gibbons will box a four round exhibition here next Tuesday night.

McLaughlin in Good Form Oakland, Cal., May 19.—Maurice McLaughlin's tennis form is almost as good as it ever was, net fans said today after seeing him in the doubles with Willis Davis as his partner.

Joint Committee On War Is Proposed Washington, May 18.—Establishment of a joint, permanent committee of all the allies to sit in Washington to facilitate America's cooperation in the war, has been suggested by the French and British war missions, it became known officially today.

The allies have suggested that the United States send representatives to take part in the various committees on the conduct of the war in London and Paris.

For the last five weeks it has been the general understanding that Russian socialists demanded that the policy of all allies that there be no annexation nor indemnities, said Professor Harper.

In the program of the new coalition government in Russia the policy adopted is reported to be 'no annexation and no contributions.' The question of wording is all important.

No indemnities would mean no reparations for destruction done in France, Belgium, Poland, Serbia and Rumania.

No contributions, means no punitive indemnities, such as Germany imposed on France in 1870.

Have the Russian socialists changed their attitude, or has there been a misunderstanding? The latter would seem to be the case.

The Russian newspapers for the first week in April, at which a time this point of policy first came up, gives as the formula of the Russian socialists: 'No forced annexation and no contributions.' Are the German intriguers working both in Russia and America, responsible for this misinterpretation?

The Russian word was a Russianized form of our word 'contributions,' Mr. Shepherd, of the United Press, reported the other day on a faked telegram from Paris printed in the Russian papers, to the effect that the American secretary of state had forbidden newspaper discussion of the coming socialist congress in Stockholm. Have we something similar here?

In any case, Russian socialists have all along been opposed only to 'forced annexation and punitive indemnities' or contributions.

which is all the foodstuffs consumed in making beer, and as 35 per cent of this is salvaged and used as stock food, there is an actual use of but about 12,000,000 bushels. For the saving of this amount of foodstuffs the government would surrender a revenue of $134,000,000 yearly, or at the rate of more than $11 a bushel.

University Notes

The last regular student body meeting of the year was held yesterday morning with Violet Maclean presiding. Taking up the letter writing campaign for new students as the first order of business, Ruth Ferringer, chairman of the committee, presented the plan in detail and asked that all the students get a list of names and write their letters immediately.

Several other members of the student body also spoke. Gladys Carson, president of the Girls' Willamette club, gave five reasons why students should be induced to come to Willamette. Harold Eakin reminded his fellow students that the institution was not dead, all that it needed is a little real life in the form of a boost for Willamette. Acton Emmel told of the efficiency of the personal appeal in a letter. Alpheus Gillette presented the side of loyalty. Professor E. C. Richards and Corch Matthews were also on the program. The students voted unanimously to support the proposition.

In accordance with a constitutional ruling the forensic council for next year was elected. The choice of the council and Herald Doxey, orators, and Harold Eakin debater.

Concluding the meeting Harry Bowers was formally installed president of the student body by Violet Maclean presenting him with the official gavel. In response to a vociferous demand Mr. Bowers outlined his administration policy for the coming year.

The Adelante Literary society was favored with its annual senior program at its regular meeting Friday. The seniors appeared in cap and gown. Aetna Emmel presented 'Senior Failures'; Ruth Hodge, 'Senior Successes'; Ester Emmel gave a whistling solo; the class will be read by Emma Minton; the future of the various members was prophesied by Eugenia Melnturff and Carrie Cooksey. Lucile Emmons entertained with a piano solo. Esther Taylor gave some 'Senior Reflections.' Rosamond Gilbert handled the 'Ginger Can.'

Spring was the theme of the Philodanians' program. Their program was: Fannie McKennon, 'Spring Song,' Rubenstein; a paper on 'The Colors of Spring,' by Lucile McCullery; 'To the Cuckoo,' by Mary Findley; 'Spring Time in the Desert,' by Ruth Ferringer; Mendelssohn's 'Spring Song,' by Olive Rosche.

Taking advantage of the beautiful day the Chrestomathean society girls and the non-society girls of the university enjoyed a hike and picnic lunch Friday afternoon.

MUST REMOVE PICKETS Washington, May 18.—Until suffragists remove pickets carrying suffrage banners from before the white house and other government buildings in the capital, the government will not appoint a suffrage committee, Representative Harrison, Mississippi, told a delegation of suffragists at a hearing before the house rules committee today.

The picketing at the white house is disrespectful to the president," Harrison said, "and cannot possibly tend to promote the cause of woman's suffrage."

Its on agin, off agin with the Seals. Their grip on the Coast league lead was awful loose-like, for it lasted just 24 hours.

The Beavers whitewashed them and the Bees, by beating the Oaks went to the top of the heap once more.

Portland's sum total of hits was only five but they netted five runs while the Seals' seven meant nothing in their young life so far as tallies go. Justin Fitzgerald got three of the Seals seven.

The Oaks qualified as the runless wonders yesterday. Eleven safe swats gave them only a single run, and that one came as the result of an error at that.

Everybody in the Bee lineup except Schinkler got at least one hit, the club totaling 15.

The Chicago White Sox maintained a string of victories in wrecking Babe Ruth's consecutive victory string.

Otto Miller clubbed victory out of the Cardinals with a home run for the Dodgers.

Two hits in two official appearances at the plate by Neihoff turned the Cubs' long string into a broken one.

Noted Film Star to Visit Salem

J. Warren Kerrigan, the noted screen star now on a tour of the United States, aiming to come in closer touch with the motion picture loving public, will greet the movie fans of this city in person at the Oregon theatre on next Saturday, May 26, matinee and evening.

There are but few who need an introduction of Kerrigan for his popularity is nationwide. Twice he has been crowned Blimond's most popular star and in each instance he was victorious by overwhelming majorities over every other photo-player of both sexes. He also has distinguished himself to a greater extent, having been the choice of a committee of artists of well known reputation who proclaimed him to be the handsomest star of the a long term contract whereby he becomes the star and head of his own feature film corporation. It is said that he will receive the largest salary ever paid to a dramatic screen star, and while he is touring the country and meeting the movie fans in person a massive studio is being constructed at Hollywood, Cal., for the exclusive use of his company, and he says that the future will see him in the best film productions of his career.

Brewers Issue Figures To Combat Arguments Against Their Industry

The proposed legislation by congress which would forbid the making of any spirituous or malt liquors from cereals, which by the way was turned down by the senate committee this week, has called forth a statement from the brewers as to the use of grains in their industry. The showing they make is that less than three-fourths of one per cent of the cereals is used in brewing. They give the figures of the 1916 crop as barley 180,927,000 bushels of which the breweries used 52,439,973 bushels. The production of rice is placed at 28,000,000 of which 2,354,000 bushels are used in brewing. The corn crop is given at 2,583,241,000 bushels of which the brewers used 15,711,515. The total crop of cereals of the United States for 1916 is 4,745,429,000 bushels and the total used by the brewers 70,505,488. They also show that of the total amount of grain used 35 per cent is salvaged, being used as stock food, leaving the total used in making beer 45,828,508 bushels. In addition they point out that about 75 per cent of the cereals used is barley, which is but little used as human food, most of it not used by brewers being fed to stock. The claim is also made that the brewers use of barley helps make a living price for the grower, increasing the price of the crop on account of the demand for the best quality of it. In addition the showing is made that the government collects from the brewers in the shape of internal revenue a sum equaling $1.9 per bushel for all the grain used. The government would lose in revenues about $134,000,000 a year. As barley is not used for food, and as the quantity of rice and corn used is but a trifle over 18,000,000 bushels,

Read What the Most Noted Critics Say About 'Womanhood, Glory of the Nation'

Philadelphia Record:—"There is a plea for preparedness in 'Womanhood,' but this is in great part through the story itself, and the film is not a propaganda. Wonderfully realistic battle scenes, excellence of photography, and many unusual effects combine to give this picture a foremost position among pretentious and important productions for the screen."

New York Evening Journal—"Womanhood" is a film of the hour. It is needless to mention the cast, as they are all stars, acting to perfection. Practically every important government official, men notable in public life for their efforts in the cause of preparedness, and every army and navy officer stationed in the East, attended the opening performance last night at the Broadway theatre.

Morning Telegraph—"Fifteen hundred American men and women were aroused to enthusiasm last night at the Broadway theatre at the premier of 'Womanhood.' They threw convention aside and yelled, stamped and cheered during some of the more stirring moments of the play. 'Womanhood' is a decided triumph from a photo artistic point of view. The battle scenes have even more power than those in 'The Battle Cry of Peace.' Directing and photography triumph in the scenes in which Zeppelins are sent crashing into the sea."

Evening World—"If you have seen 'Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation' reel by reel, picture by picture to the very end, you can say that you have seen something worth seeing. Here is no commonplace 'movie,' but an appealing and convincing spectacle built on romantic lines."

New York American—"Womanhood" differs from most military plays in that, instead of containing several thrills, it is one long thrill. It is indeed a soul stirring spectacle. Throughout, there runs a beautiful love story. The technical work of the film has been excellently managed."

New York World—"Because of its patriotic appeal and timeliness, there is no question that 'Womanhood,' at the Broadway theatre for two weeks, will win great popularity all over the country. Its battle scenes are of marvelous pictorial effectiveness."

New York Herald—"A patriotic rally developed at first showing of 'Womanhood' at the Broadway theatre last night. Had a recruiting officer been there, he would have had a busy night, the spectators being moved to applause and cheers."

Real Stand of Russian Socialists Was Against 'Annexation and Contributions' Chicago, May 19.—Professor Samuel N. Chicago, May 19.—Professor Samuel N.
