ITALIANS PLACE SECOND VICTORY TO THEIR CREDIT

Turning Austrian Flank Capture Hill 52—A Very Strong Position

CADORNA HAS SHIFTED HIS POINT OF ATTACK

French Attacks Grow Stronger, Artillery Fighting Only On British Front

By John H. Hearley, (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, May 29.—Like a skillful boxer who has already achieved a "shave," the Italian army was today "mixing its blows" against the Austrians on the southern front.

Front dispatches declared furious fighting in this salient had won another brilliant victory for the Italians through the turning of a flank position.

In the meantime it was reported that General Cadorna was bringing up heavy guns for the renewed assault along the coast line toward Daino and Trieste.

French Resume Fighting. Paris, May 29.—Resumption of fairly active mass fighting over many sectors of the French front, was reported in the war office statement today.

South of St. Quentin a violent artillery struggle was in progress, the communiqué declared, with a great deal of patrol fighting.

In the Champagne a German attack, led by special assaulting waves, unsuccessfully attempted to reach Mont Blood, French trenches.

Many of the enemy were killed and a large number imprisoned in the repulse of this assault.

Around Verdun and Hill 204 the statement said the French "cleaned up their trenches," consolidating their positions.

Raided German Trenches. London, May 30.—British raiders penetrated into German trenches south of Neuve Chapelle and inflicted casualties, according to Field Marshal Haig's report today.

Italian Extend Lines. Rome, May 29.—By a local offensive between Jannino and the coast, we extended our lines to the west of Medezza, the official war office report today.

PRESIDENT PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO NATION'S DEAD

"With Help of God America Will Show We Were Born to Serve Mankind"

"WORDS SEEM EMPTY AND ONLY ACTION IS GREAT"

"The Struggle We Engage In Is That of Men Who Love Liberty Everywhere"

Washington, May 30.—Asserting confidence in the virility of the nation, President Wilson this afternoon declared its manhood will respond to this crisis "with results that will hold the attention of all mankind."

The president spoke at the annual Arlington cemetery Decoration day services. Paying tribute to the nation's dead, the president said: "I envy them because their great work for liberty has been accomplished, unfinished, leaving our strength where their's already has been tested."

The president said men who died to preserve the union also gave their lives to preserve the instrument which we offer the world today.

The liberty of the nation defended in the Civil war is not a selfish liberty, President Wilson said.

"We join with the other nations to fight out the cause of human liberty, which we have an opportunity to vindicate with our blood and treasure."

"With the help of God, America will show that she was born to serve mankind."

Mrs. Wilson was with the president. The President Said.

Mr. Commander and Fellow Citizens: "The program has conferred an unmerited dignity upon the remarks I am going to make by calling them an address because I am not here to deliver an address. I am here merely to show in my official capacity the sympathy of this great government with the object of this occasion and also to state just a word of the sentiment that is in my own heart."

My Memorial day of this sort is is throughout every home in Marion and adjoining counties. We are going to feature extraordinary special bargain values in every department of our big store.

Each and every one will be a true and timely economy and on sale at the prices named for this one day only. Every one of these Bargain day specials will be from our regular stock.

Bargain day with us is not so much for profit as it is to emphasize our store and service. We aim to make known to all who come to this store that Stockton's is well equipped and stocked to fittingly supply and merit their patronage for everything in men's, women's and children's wear.

Everyone is invited, is welcome and expected to make our store their store and to feel free to do so whether you wish to buy or not to buy. Come and bring the children with you.

On Saturday, Bargain day, we will offer sterling silver solid sugars and creamers at $1; Hartman Bros. 12 dot special knives and forks, regular $5 value for $4; bad vases, in silver plate, regular $1.50, for $1. Specials on clocks, watches, silverware, cut glass, wedding and graduation presents, etc. It will pay you to buy on this day, June 2. You will save 20 to 40 per cent.

We will endeavor to make Bargain day a day to be long remembered by the people of Salem and vicinity. We are going to make selections of dozens of different lines of shoes and put them out for Bargain day at prices that will crowd our store so we will have to hang out the "standing room only" sign early in the day.

With Salem's First Annual Bargain day almost here we send this message and desire it to ring with interest

CHARLES L. McNARY APPOINTED SENATOR

Native Son of Oregon Born Near Salem, Named As Lane's Successor

Judge Charles L. McNary, as predicted by the Capital Journal yesterday, was appointed by Governor Withycombe late yesterday afternoon as United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Harry Lane, whose funeral was held yesterday in Portland.

The appointment of Judge McNary is recognition of efficient service to the republican party in the last election when the state of Oregon gave a large majority for Charles Hughes for president. Judge McNary is chairman of the state republican central committee, is a former judge of the supreme court, and a well known attorney of this city.

Charles Linza McNary was born near Salem, June 12, 1874, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McNary. He was educated in the Salem schools, received private tutoring, and studied at Leland Stanford university from 1896 to 1898.

In 1898 he was admitted to the Oregon bar and began the practice of law with his brother, John McNary. During the time that John McNary was district attorney, Charles McNary served as deputy. He has also served as dean of Willamette university college of law.

Then came the women, with fragrant floral offerings, and the younger generation, the boy scouts, who cast their floral tribute to the memory of the soldier dead.

The Sons of Spanish American War veterans were present with their drum corps. The Spanish American War veterans were present themselves and assisted in the decorating of the graves.

The ceremonial concluded with the bugler sounding the soldier's last farewell, "taps." As the last note sounded, buglers in the distance took up the call and repeated it.

The weather prophet who sits in Portland and hands out the climate from day to day to the Willamette valley, smiled on Salem and Decoration day. The early morning brought banks of clouds which did not in any way interfere with the decorating of the graves nor the exercises at the cemeteries.

By noon the genuine Oregon sunshine appeared and by 1 o'clock the various organizations for the afternoon parade were ready and in order to march.

With the head of the line of march at the Marion hotel, the order was given to parade promptly at 1:20. Chief Cooper and police led, followed by Governor Withycombe and Commander W. C. Faulkner of the G. A. R. in horselocky.

Grand Army Veterans to the number of 54 followed, flanked on each side by the Honor Guard girls, wearing their air bands of red, white and blue. The Spanish War Veterans, 38 in number followed with a guard of Honor Guard girls.

The first time since its organization, the people of Salem had the pleasure of seeing 64 Cherrians in line under command of Captain McAllister. The marchers included all the patriotic organizations, fraternal organizations and students from Willamette University.

DAY IS OPENED BY GRAND ARMY AND OTHER VETERANS

America's Entrance Into War Adds to Solemnity of the Occasion

CIRCLE OF GRAVES HAS DEEPER MEANING TO ALL

Other Ceremonials This Afternoon Taken Part by Practically Everyone

Because the United States is at war with a foreign foe and American soldiers and sailors have met their death at the hands of the enemy and became about 500 Salem boys are now serving with the colors, the Memorial day exercises at the cemetery this morning were more than usually impressive.

It was with a feeling that the spirits of the soldiers who are sleeping beneath the sod in the sacred circle of the soldier dead were in closer touch with the living today than heretofore, on account of the danger that threatens the country and the preparations of patriotic men and women to meet that danger.

It brought closer the real meaning of the ceremonial that has been witnessed year after year, yet never fully realized, it is realized that only those who have gone through the hour of national distress truly appreciate the services of doing honor to the men who died that the nation might live.

At the ceremonial of the Grand Army of the Republic this morning, there was an unobscured feeling of deeper feeling, of deeper reverence, of deeper respect for the men who have gone on before, to watch them march again around the monument and cast their bouquet of flowers at its foot as their outward tribute to the memory of their comrades.

Then came the women, with fragrant floral offerings, and the younger generation, the boy scouts, who cast their floral tribute to the memory of the soldier dead.

The Sons of Spanish American War veterans were present with their drum corps. The Spanish American War veterans were present themselves and assisted in the decorating of the graves.

DEFYING THE LAW

Portland, Ore., May 30.—Portlanders awoke this morning to find anti-conscription stickers posted in various parts of the city. The stickers, believed to have been put up by the Seattle Non-Conscription League, urged men to resist conscription.

AN AMERICAN DIRIGIBLE

Washington, May 30.—All American records were broken by a military dirigible balloon in a 450-mile continuous flight from Chicago to Medina, Ohio, the navy department announced today.

The aircraft left Chicago at midnight and landed at Medina at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was piloted by Ralph Upson, holder of the Gordon Bennett International trophy.

CITY IS PRACTICALLY UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Five Infantry Companies and One Cavalry Take Charge of East St. Louis

East St. Louis, Ill., May 30.—East St. Louis today was virtually under martial law. Five infantry companies of the Fourth Illinois National Guard regiment and one cavalry troop were patrolling the downtown and negro sections and plants where negroes are employed.

The second night's rioting which resulted in the shooting of three white men and two negroes, continued for three hours. More than a score of blacks were beaten and struck by rocks and clubs. The races exchanged hundreds of shots in various parts of the city and the rioting would have assumed dangerous proportions but for the timely arrival of the troops.

The situation had gone beyond control of the local police. Lieutenant Colonel Clayton, commander of the troops, and Mayor Mollman must also be very careful to inform himself specifically as to his citizenship, whether he is native born, and if not where he or his parents have been naturalized.

The trade or occupation of young Brown is another important question and it is upon this inquiry the government may base its exemptions from the draft.

Great care must be used in answering the question as to dependents. He will be asked if he has a father, mother, wife, or child under 12 years solely dependent upon him for support.

When Brown is asked if he is married or single the answer must concern itself with his present condition. The question means, are you married now?

If the young man claims exemption from draft he must give his reason briefly and accurately. This is not his final claim for exemption. The question is simply to give the government statistical information. Registration is one thing, exemption another.

There is nothing formidable to confront Samuel L. Brown on registration day. Frankness and directness are all that are required of him.

Failed to Get Coalition Cabinet for Hungary

Berlin, via London, May 29.—Efforts to form a coalition cabinet in Hungary have failed, according to Vienna reports today. It was understood Count Andrássy had been selected to succeed Count Tisza in the task of forming a ministry and had met with a rebuff in attempting to unite all elements in one cabinet.

The news was taken here to indicate that Count Andrássy will be forced to be content with a minority ministry, although Vienna dispatches reflected the hope that certain of Tisza's followers would desert the former premier.

GERMANY SORTS DELEGATES WHO GO TO STOCKHOLM

Allows Those Who Favor Its Terms to Pass, Others Are Kept at Home

FRENCH SOCIALISTS TO JOIN WITH RUSSIANS

Germans Want No Annexations But Would Retain French Province

Copenhagen, May 30.—The German socialist delegation en route to the Stockholm "peace conference" called by the German socialist leaders, arrived here today. Simultaneously it became known that Philip Scheidemann, the German majority socialist leader, who was mainly instrumental in calling the Stockholm meeting, had been here for a number of days, holding conferences with Swiss internationalists.

"The decision of the French socialists to attend the Stockholm conference will force British socialists to follow their example," declared Scheidemann.

All the other German socialists declared they were hopeful that a bountiful harvest this summer would relieve the food situation in Germany. The consensus of opinion was that peace would come when the belligerent governments were forced by sufferings of the masses to follow Russia's example.

The German socialists' view is that they are ready for "peace without annexation." Delegate Molkenbuhr declared that Germany and Alsace-Lorraine were so intimately connected that a separation was impossible.

The quotation attributed to Scheidemann makes it plain that the German leader, erroneously considered the French socialists have accepted the invitation to the German-called Stockholm meeting. Dispatches received today by the United Press from Paris make it clear that the French, on the contrary, have accepted the invitation of the Russian socialists for a real socialist conference, which shall be free

Most of the early birds at the track came in automobiles, some of whom arrived last night after touring from distant points. Indiana alone will be represented by several thousand visitors at the big race.

As the day advanced the sun seemed to be winning its battle with the clouds and threatened to break through with its full strength before noon. Downtown last night hotels were crowded as they have not been for years.

Visitors from all over the country arrived yesterday and sleeping accommodations were at a premium early in the evening.

This indicated a crowd of over fifty thousand today.

Twenty eight cars are slated to start in the big race which Starter Fred Wagner promises to start at 2:30.

Before the race there were two aviation exhibitions in which both Law Katherine Stinson, Baxter Adams and Carl Kurtz will put on their choicest thrills in the way of dips, spirals and loop the loops. There also will be a twenty mile race for Ford's which has ten starters and a free for all event of thirty miles in which ten amateur drivers are entered to start.

Despite his well known jinx, Ralph DePalma and his twelve cylinder Packard have been installed as favorites in the big race.

DePalma made the best time in the qualification trials, 109 miles an hour, and his machine apparently is in better tune than any of the drivers. DePalma has been working out from 200 to 400 miles daily for almost a week.

Villistas Capture Town Near Border

El Paso, Texas, May 30.—A Villista force under "Chico" Cano, today captured the Mexican town of Ojuajas, opposite Presidio, Texas, after a battle with Carranzistas lasting several hours, according to information reaching military headquarters here. Bullets fell in the American town of Presidio, but so far as was learned, no Americans were injured, the reports said.
