District Attorney Max Gehlhar has had a queer problem put up to him to solve. It is a problem that is an outcome of the war. It is this: Can a preacher who is a German solemnize a marriage ceremony and that ceremony be legal? Does he act because he was ordained as a minister or because the law gives him authority? If the law gives the minister authority to act, can the law give an alien enemy authority to administer that law? The district attorney has taken the matter under advisement.

One German appeared at the police station this morning to secure a permit to pass within the one-half mile limit of the armory, and the Chief of Police referred him to the district attorney who referred him to United States District Attorney Reames, of Portland, who is issuing permits. It is expected other alien enemies will seek for permits as the president's proclamation provides that alien enemies are not allowed within one-half mile of any armory or public building without a permit. The permit is to be secured before June 1 or the alien will be subject to summary arrest.
