were pleased and many of them were anxious that Bargain day be held semi-annually instead of annually as has been planned heretofore, several of the merchants who had not contributed to the publicity fund expressing a desire to do so at once.

But of all the features of this, Salem's first Bargain day the one that pleased the writer the most was the comment of shoppers praising the bargains they had secured.
It behooves the merchants to keep up this good reputation of value giving. Let every Bargain day be a day of profit to the shopper. It is only by this method that the event can grow greater and greater each time it is repeated. It was a great day.

TERRIFIC ATTACK

ish advance into the enemy trenches to the east of Vermelles.
"The post southeast of Cherisy mentioned yesterday as remaining in the enemy's hands was re-captured during the night," the statement said. "South west of Labassee and in the neighborhood of Neuville Chappelle hostile raids were repulsed.
"East of Vermelles we entered the enemy's trenches."

Heavy fighting in the sector south of Lens, following two weeks lull, gave indication today that Field Marshal Haig was about to resume his offensive. The British struck a powerful blow along the Souchez river, but the Germans concentrated big reserves as soon as Haig's artillery began to roar a preparatory fire and launched these in strong counter attacks, which recaptured nearly all of the positions which the British had taken.

In the Ypres sector the heavy bombardment of German positions continued but there was no infantry fighting. Military experts here believed Haig was testing out various spots in the German line, making ready for a resumption of his drive.
On the French front the Germans delivered a series of furious counter attacks against ground newly won by the French around Cauciere and Californie plateaus. They were unsuccessful.

Cherisy is on the Senesee river close to the main highway between Arras and Cambrai and about seven miles from Arras.
Labassee is seven miles north of Lens and Neuve Chappelle, four miles to the north.
Vermelles lies nearly midway between Lens and LaBassee.

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

Mrs. Joseph H. Albert had a small group of matrons at her home for tea on Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Herbert Junk of Berkeley, Cal., and Mrs. Edwin Jorgenson (Grace Dalrymple) of Portland.
It was very informal, only a few old friends being asked to greet the visitors.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Ray Pemberton were hosts a few days ago for a prettily appointed dinner in honor of the nurses of the graduating class of the Salem hospital.
Yellow flowers decked the table around which covers were placed for Miss Ruby Miller, Miss Sara Stewart, Miss Helen Post, Miss Letha Hall and Dr. and Mrs. Pemberton.

The marriage of Miss Jessie P. Keeton and Leo G. Page took place on Friday evening at 6 o'clock, at the parsonage of the Leslie Methodist church, Rev. H. N. Aldrich officiating.
Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Page left for a wedding trip to Portland, and upon their return will make their home on 270 Mission street where they have purchased an attractive bungalow.

The bride wore a becoming blue tulle with champagne colored accessories. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mattie Keeton of 1095 South Commercial street, and was a stenographer in the state tax commission office.
Mr. Page is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Page 934 South Commercial street, and is associated with Standard Oil company.

Mrs. M. W. Smith and Onslow Dibble of Palo Alto, California, who have been passing a few days in Salem as the guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson C. Dibble left Saturday for New York. En route they will visit in Michigan.
Miss Nellie Dibble, who accompanied them from California, will spend the summer in Salem.

French Lose Position
Paris, June 4.—Strong German attacks northwest of Froidmont farm last night gained the enemy a foothold on an advanced element of the French positions, the war office statement said today.
"Northwest of Froidmont farm at 11 p. m. the enemy attacked and obtained a foothold on several of our advanced elements," the statement said. "On the plateau of Vauclere and Californie the enemy did not renew his attacks last night, but bombarded our positions."

In the Champagne, east of Teton Mount we carried out a successful raid. "The enemy yesterday made an air raid on Dunkirk and Nancy, killing several civilians."
Fighting on Italian Front
Rome, June 4.—Fierce fighting broke out again today on the Carso front after two days of inactivity. The official statement reported a strong Austrian attack.
"On the western slopes of San Marco, the enemy completely destroyed our new line of defense with artillery and penetrated our advanced line at some points," the statement said. "With the prompt assistance of reinforcements, they were everywhere driven back from our positions with severe losses."

Steamer Torpedoed But Crew Is Saved
New York, June 4.—Torpedoing of the British steamer Jessmore en route from Baltimore to Manchester, with several Americans in her crew, was reported by arrivals from Europe in New York today.
The four Americans, they said, who were saved were Lewis Dentimore, of Cotestville, Pa.; William P. Green, of Boston; Thomas O'Brien, of Washington, D. C.; and Edward Cunningham, of New Haven, Conn. The Jessmore was torpedoed May 12. Her crew were picked up by the British steamer Neilrose, which thrice fired at the periscope of the Neilrose but in vain.

Lloyds lists the Jessmore as a steel screw steamer of 3,911 tons, owned by the Johnson line and registered at Liverpool.

The afternoon was really quite pleasant and a large crowd gathered to hear the excellent program the teachers had prepared. You Need Not Suffer From Catarrh
You have probably been in the habit of using external treatments to relieve your catarrh. You have applied sprays, washes and lotions to the mucous surfaces of the nose and throat, have been temporarily relieved, and then wondered a short time after, why you were troubled with another attack of catarrh.
You should realize that catarrh is an infection of the blood. This fact has been agreed upon by specialists in catarrh troubles, and has been proven in the laboratories of the Swift Specific Co. S. S. S., which was discovered over fifty years ago, will cleanse your blood of the catarrhal poisons and will thereby relieve you of the dripping in your throat, the sores in your nostrils, spitting, hawking and bad breath.

All druggists carry S. S. S., and the physicians of our Medical Department will cheerfully answer any letters which you may write them in regard to your case. Swift Specific Co., 305 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

flourishing. The ceremony was small and simple, only relatives of the couple attending. The bride is a popular Albany girl and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor. Mr. McMurray's father, William McMurray, is well known in Portland's railroad circles, being general passenger agent of the O. W. E. & N. company.
Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated last year from the University of Oregon, the former being a Kappa Alpha Theta and the latter a Kappa Sigma. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins left Saturday for a visit to Portland, a reception in the church parlor followed. Miss Isabella Young of Albany sang preceding the ceremony.
Mr. McMurray is on the official staff of Albers Bros. and recently joined the American ambulance service medical reserve corps and is waiting orders to leave any time for France—Portland Oregonian.

Mrs. Herbert Junk of Berkeley, California, who has been the house guest of Mrs. J. C. Griffith for several days, left Saturday for a visit to Portland.
Mrs. Junk plans to spend the summer in Oregon, returning south in the early fall.

The K. L. of S. club was entertained on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ada Reimer.
The afternoon was pleasantly passed with sewing and later the hostess served refreshments.
The rooms were adorned with clusters of dogwood, and the guests included: Messames E. F. Walton, Rose Hagedorn, P. M. Dragey, Miss Moorehouse and Miss Lucas.

Mrs. F. W. Phayer and Miss Phayer are spending a few days in Portland and are at the Hotel Portland.
Dr. M. E. Pomeroy left today for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will be a delegate to the Yeomen convention.
Accompanying her were her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ray E. Pomeroy. They will be away for about six weeks and will visit in Detroit and New York before returning home.

High School Students Act As Press Agents
The students of the high school are trying out a new idea lately. When they have some entertainment they think worth while, there is an inclination to break out into print and tell about it. Hence the two following articles in regard to the high school concert to be given at the armory next Wednesday evening. The young lady who wrote the first article was a tri-lingual and did not sign her name. Anyone whose name is good enough to not afford to miss hearing the concert put on by the high school chorus at eight o'clock next Wednesday night, June the sixth, at the armory. The mixed chorus, boys double quartette, girls double quartette and solo work will be presented thus giving a fine variety. We have been working hard for months to prepare this program and the chorus is one of the best of its kind. They are to put on a better program than ever before. The admission is only ten cents which is used to cover expenses. If you miss it you will be sure to be sorry, so take this opportunity to hear this big chorus of one hundred and twenty trained voices next Wednesday night at the armory.

Something Extra at the Armory
You have a chance for the mere taking of seeing and enjoying the Salem high school's chorus which consists of about one hundred and twenty voices. Special solos will be given by Archie Smith and Agnes Halsee, both talented and trained in the art of singing. The boys and girls quartette will sing several delightful numbers as "Absent" and "Dreams" perhaps favorite songs of yours. This is the second year of the high school's chorus career, having already won not only for itself a reputation, but also for our high school for which the people of Salem should be and are proud. The high school feels that in no other way could you express your interest in our welfare than to be present yourself at the armory Wednesday night June 6th, for the last admission is ten cents charged solely for the purpose of defraying expenses and as the price is so low it cannot exclude anyone. An example of their singing was given Thursday night at the opera house in Salem high, but I can truthfully promise, if you care for music at all that it will be to you one of the most pleasurable and helpful evening that can be spent.

I never tasted a Flakier Pie Crust

(Report No. 9) By the manager

Here is my first experience with Cottolene pie crust:
One night, early this month, our Lancaster County cook, Alice, announced: "You all are going to have a real blackberry pie tonight. I used a jar of berries from Mr. David's box, and Cottolene."

I was glad she had used Cottolene. I wanted to see how it worked. But I was sorry later that Alice liked that pie.

We four bachelors left nothing for her but the big blue pie plate.
Lynn, who comes from Lexington, Ky., said it reminded him of the blackberry pies his old mammy used to make. And Dave, who is in the telephone business, got rid of his before we had a chance to say "Hello".

I never ate a Thanksgiving pie at home that beat that one.
I noticed the lower crust especially. It was light and flaky. I ate every bit of it, which is a thing I seldom do with lower crusts.

After it was all over, we cast an unanimous vote for Cottolene. We have used wholesome Cottolene ever since. Only last night Alice made a Cottolene apple pie that was a wonder.
