Salem Organized To Do Her Bit By Insurance Company

That every red blooded American citizen in this city is determined that Salem shall "do her bit" by subscribing to the fullest measure to her share of the liberty bonds is a foregone conclusion. There is no lack of patriotism in this city as has been demonstrated in many ways. But there has been a conspicuous lack of concerted effort and leadership. At a meeting of the Commercial club a letter from J. E. Trevorror, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life was read in which he said:

In the past few weeks there has been much waving of the flag and other demonstrations of emotional, although not practical patriotism. Parades have been held throughout the country without number. Speeches have been made in flowery flight of oratory and many men of ninety six years of age (more or less, but always more than 31) have volunteered their physical liabilities. Not to disparage these earnest and praiseworthy acts it will readily appeal to you practical business men that with the selective draft ready to supply an abundance of young men, the imperative need of Uncle Sam at the present time is cash: "C for community and concentration of effort: "A for activity and not hot air; "S for a smashing campaign; and "H for that which we all love, America's honor.

The committee was reorganized with David W. Eyre, vice president of the U. S. National bank as chairman, and with Mr. Trevorror as secretary. These gentlemen request suggestions of any kind and that all those who feel the call of patriotism and are willing to sacrifice a little time for old Uncle Sam during the next three days will volunteer. The boys' names are out in force distributing circulars and the entire sales force of the Metropolitan have donated their full time for house to house solicitation. As one business man put it, "We have all intended to subscribe, but it has been the easiest thing on earth to put it off. It is high time to decide on the amount that one can invest and to see to it that the subscription is placed.

Applications may be completed at any of the banks of the city or at the Metropolitan Life office in the Main building. For the convenience of those unable to give the matter attention during banking hours, arrangements have been made to keep the Metropolitan office open from 7 to 9 p. m. every evening until the campaign closes.

CITY NEWS

John Klutner, who was picked up drunk Saturday afternoon, pleaded guilty before the police judge and was given five days in jail.

Nothing was done in the mandamus case brought against the board of control this morning to compel it to issue $1,800,000 worth of bonds to meet the provisions of the Shakerford measure to build rural post roads. The matter was taken under advisement until Attorney Bowerman in behalf of the highway commission and Attorney General Brown in behalf of the board of control can file their briefs. It is expected this will be in a few days.

PREPARE RULES FOR EXEMPTION BOARDS

Governors Asked for Suggestions Where Doubtful of County Boards

Washington, June 11.—The first actual step toward formation of boards which will consider exemption from service in the new national armies raising by conscription, was taken today when a plan for exemption of those physically unfit was submitted to President Wilson by a special board of law, yers, jurists and military authorities. The general plan for forming the local exemption boards to sift out men for selective service was practically decided upon today.

Under the plan, the registration board, consisting of the county sheriff, the county clerk and the county health officer will form the local exemption board.

In cities of more than thirty thousand the registration board will also become the exemption board.

To make the plan more flexible, the governor of each state is authorized to submit suggestions for changes in the personnel when the present incumbent of the county office proves manifestly unsatisfactory.

The war department has called upon governors for any suggestions or changes they desire to make.

The Tentative Plans The plan provides that each local exemption board will have as one member a physician who will give the first test. When he rejects a man, the other members must summon another physician, who will make an examination, not knowing the first doctor's decision. If the decisions are the same, the man is declared unfit.

The regular physician member of the exemption board will probably be the county, or the city surgeon, according to the plan. In cases of doubt, the board may summon several doctors, one after another, to submit a diagnosis. The man that is rejected or refused rejection may appeal to the appellate court of the district for another test.

President Wilson is today considering the vital exemption regulations as submitted by the special board. This body has been working on the regulations for weeks.

Within a few days announcement of the rules for the guidance of exemption boards is expected.

Although it was definitely stated there will be no wholesale class exemptions, most of the regulations are yet to be settled upon.

REPORT IS FAVORABLE ON FOOD CONTROL BILL

Provides Government May Guarantee Growers Minimum Prices

Washington, June 11.—The Lever food control bill was ordered favorably reported by the house agricultural committee today. This bill gives the president power to name Herbert Hoover as food administrator.

Coincident with the taking up of the bill in the house today, it was announced that President Wilson would receive this afternoon several representatives of the labor organizations, led by Samuel Gompers and several members of congress, who will thresh out the consumers' side of the question and will ask that action be speeded up so as to give Herbert Hoover immediate power.

The bill will probably be brought up in the house by Chairman Lever tomorrow. An effort will be made to make it a law by July 1.

Besides authorizing the president to name a food administrator, the bill makes it unlawful for any person to destroy food for the keeping up of prices and gives the executive power to control food manufacture.

Nothing hoarding or destruction of necessities is made a crime punishable by two years imprisonment.

The president is authorized to seize and have governmentally operated any factory, mine or other plant which is deemed necessary; to regulate boards of trade and price-fixing institutions; to fix minimum prices for agricultural products; to regulate, prohibit or reduce the manufacture of liquor from foodstuffs; to license the importation and exportation, manufacture, storage or distribution of any food necessary in order to carry into effect legislation for conserving the food supply during the war.

In the discretion of the president, persons may be prohibited from engaging in the business of handling foodstuffs without a license.

TEN MORE MINERS ARE BROUGHT OUT ALIVE

Three Rescued This Morning with 25 Yesterday Reduces Missing to 80

Butte, Mont., June 11.—Ten more cumbered miners were found alive and brought to safety today from the 2,200 foot level of the Spectacular mine. This leaves only 80 men unaccounted for. With hope of saving still others who may be alive in the mine, rescue crews were working desperately to penetrate the lower levels of the mine.

25 Saved Yesterday

Butte, Mont., June 11.—Spurred by renewed hope of finding miners alive in the Spectacular shaft, occasioned by the rescue of 25 men yesterday, rescue crews of helmet men were today bending every effort toward penetrating the blocked tunnel passage.

The probable death list was lowered by 25 yesterday when rescuers brought to the surface a group of miners from the 2,400 foot level, where the fire began. The rescued miners, after barricading themselves by building a cloth bulkhead of their clothes, which protected them from deadly gases, remained in the tunnel for more than 24 hours. The air in their tiny refuge had become foul during their imprisonment and the twenty-sixth man had succumbed to its effects.

Salem Man To Go With Engineers to France

Joe McAllister, secretary of the state desert land board, expects to leave Salem for Portland the latter part of this week where he will join the regiment of engineers for service in France. He was in Portland Saturday and enlisted with that regiment and was informed that the call might come about the middle of this week. Secretary McAllister expects the call about Wednesday.

He is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college of the class of 1913 and was college of the cadet regiment at the institution. After leaving the college he went to work for the state engineer's office doing topographical work in co-operation with the United States government. Later he was employed by the state engineer in adjudicating water rights, and for the past two years has been assistant secretary of the state desert land board.

State Engineer Lewis said this morning he was sorry to lose his secretary as Mr. McAllister was a very competent man.

During the Mexican border trouble McAllister was with M. Secretary and served as corporal and sergeant. On his return and on the organization of Tia Juana Camp No. 1, Mexican border service veterans, he was made commander. He has been interested in patriotic work and is drill master of the Cherrians.
