

WHEN bread is made into fresh, hot-buttered toast, it has more flavor.

Toasting puts more flavor into most good things—seals it in, so to speak.

And toasting puts more flavor into Lucky Strike cigarettes; the tobacco—it's toasted.

Better still it's Burley tobacco—toasted. Lucky Strike is the real Burley cigarette—something absolutely new in cigarette flavor.

This toasting not only gives Lucky Strike cigarettes flavor but keeps it there—seals it in. They're always fresh.

And because everyone has been wanting real Burley cigarettes, everyone has been buying them—look at all the Lucky Strike smoke circles.

Have you tried the famous "toasted cigarette"; begin today.

FLAG RAISING DRAWS ALL SALEM TO PARK

Patriotic Speeches Stirred Audience As Did the Old Guard with the Flag

Thousands of heads were uncovered while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" at Wilson park last evening during the impressive ceremony of the raising of the flag presented to the city of Salem by Salem lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E.

The honor of bearing "Old Glory" to the park was assigned to Grand Army of the Republic veterans W. C. Faulkner, who volunteered from Michigan; Thomas Holt, serving from Missouri; A. B. Hudleston, with the Indiana boys; W. H. Byers, representing Oregon; Daniel Weiser, who responded to the call from Wisconsin; and E. E. Demick, from the state of Lincoln and Grant.

The line of march to the scene of presentation was led by the G. A. R. veterans bearing the flag, followed by officers of Salem lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E., and members of the lodge; Cherrians in uniform and with their Cherrian Military band; Grand Army of the Republic and the members of the Woman's Relief corps and D. A. R.

In behalf of the Salem lodge of Elks Louis Lachmund presented the flag to the city, declaring that the order of Elks was distinctly patriotic, linking the duty of the order with the flag and that he felt it a great honor to present to the citizens of Salem the flag that had never known defeat.

Mayor Keyes Accepts It. On behalf of the city, Mayor Walter E. Keyes accepted the flag. As exalted ruler of the lodge, he also presided during the program of the evening reading the ritual of the order.

In discussing "The Red Cross and What it Means to Our Country," Henry E. McGinn, of the Portland lodge, said that every one owed a duty to every boy and man that enlisted and that the Red Cross gave all a chance to acknowledge that duty by supporting the organization. He paid a tribute to those of German birth declaring there was no people more patriotic. He voiced the opinion that there would be no more wars when democracy was in control and there would be none to bow to those who claimed to be supermen.

"The History of the Flag" was told by S. M. Eudicott, a member of the Salem lodge. He told of the early colonial days when the flag then was known as the king's colors and of the other flags during the Revolutionary war. Also how later, the general design of the present flag was adopted and approved by Washington and how it was made by Betsy Ross in a house now standing in Philadelphia, when the five pointed star of France was approved rather than the six-pointed one in use in England.

A Beautiful Feature. An impressive feature of the evening's program was the erection of the floral Liberty bell, wherein the roses represented justice; the lily, brotherly love, and the violet, fidelity, terms so well appreciated by members of the Elks' lodge.

"It must have been foreordained that this flag should be the flag of the century," declared Charles V. Galloway in his tribute to the flag. "This is the first flag that was born to represent the people rather than a monarch—a flag that will usher in 3,000 years of peace."

Members of the lodge, inspired by the solemnity of the occasion sang with feeling the Elks' song, "Auld Lang Syne," led and directed by Brother Dan G. Langenberg.

W. F. Vinton, of McMinnville, formerly a member of the Salem lodge, delivered a patriotic oration, declaring that the purpose of the flag was to kindle anew the love of country.

George C. L. Snyder, of the local lodge, sang "The Flag That Has Never Known Defeat," singing for an encore "The Lost Chord." Mr. Snyder is one of the all year volunteers during the Spanish-American war.

Other music selections were given by the Cherrian Military band under the direction of H. N. Stoumdemeyer.

the effect of stiffening the entire list. Trading was highly professional. Throughout the forenoon there has been a firm undertone with considerable strength underlying the railroad department, under the active leadership of Reading and Union Pacific.

Among the industrials there were numerous strong and weak spots, although the general list was narrow and quite devoid of more than passing interest. Bethlehem Steel and Lackawanna were the only issues in the steel list to make material gains.

Ye Liberty theatre will have the pleasure Friday and Saturday of presenting Miss Gail Kane in "As Man Made Her," the newest World picture Brady-Made in which Miss Kane has a very effective and unusual role. This charming actress is supported by a large and capable company including among its members Frank Mills, Gerda Hohnes and Edward Langford. The story told in the picture is one that is entirely different from the ordinary kind. It is a story of marriage and motherhood told from a totally different angle and in a strikingly interesting way. You will certainly enjoy this picture. See it by all means.

Court House News

Jean McGregor, the brown eyed cupid who serves at the marriage license desk in the county clerk's office, has gone to Portland to attend the Rose Festival. Miss McGregor plays a dangerous game with the little blind god. Nearly every day she sees some hapless victim of his darts come blushing to her desk and secure the license to wed. Yet she appears to be immune from his heart-troubling darts. It is suggested that she went to the Rose Festival to see whether the atmosphere for dart-shooting is better than here.

Miss McGregor was accompanied on the cupid dart-hunting trip to Rosaria by Miss Anna Arms, a clerk in the clerk's office. Miss Arms has a less dangerous occupation in that she attends to the registration of legal voters mostly.

Eighth grade examinations for those who were granted conditional diplomas as a result of the last examination, for those who failed, and for others, are now going on in Marion county. One group of students is taking the examination in the court house.

County Clerk Boyer, A. A. Lee, and Ben West are busy at the court house preparing a list of the legal voters of the city for the big Red Cross drive next week. Six people are employed making this list by which the city will be districted.

County Clerk Boyer has received a letter from Jennie Callahan, of San Francisco, asking if a young man by the name of Frank Callahan registered for the war census. If he did, she asked that he be notified that his father is not expected to live. His wife writes the letter and wants him to come home.

A marriage license was issued yesterday by the county clerk to Hubert B. Wolfe, an embalmer of Brownsville, and Marion B. Fox, a Salem school teacher.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY WASHING WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifold coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two spoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifold coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

At the last meeting of Court Protection, No. 49, Foresters of America, of Gervais, it was voted unanimously to buy a $500 Liberty bond. The greater number of the members are French Prairie farmers living near Gervais.

More Men Than Women Have Appendicitis

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Salem people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ika, often relieves or prevents appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-Ika is surprising. J. C. Perry, druggist.

Captain Huston Buys Bonds for the Family

Captain Charles Houston, well known Civil war veteran, an officer of the local G. A. R. post is not least among the local fighters.

The captain is the proud father of 3 girls, aged 10, 8 and 1 year and each of the young ladies is the owner of a hundred dollar liberty bond.

Not satisfied with making this provision Capt. Houston has purchased a $1000 bond for his wife and another of the same denomination for himself.
