BABE RUTH MAY HAVE PUT RED SOX OUT OF IT

It All Depends On the Punishment Ban Johnson Administers

By H. C. Hamilton. (United Press staff correspondent.) New York, June 25.—Babe Ruth stands the chance of having punched the Red Sox completely out of the hunt for the bunting in Ban Johnson's circuit. Harking back to the days of Tom Lynch as boss of the National league, it develops that Lynch once laid off Shrewsbury Magee for an entire season for taking a crack at an umpire. If that is the size of the dose handed out to Babe Ruth the popular slogan in Boston will be "good night."

His hitting amounts to an average of .408, including all games in which he has appeared. When not pitching, he manages to get a little out of life by doing some of Jack Barry's pinch slugging.

One pitcher always holds up the championship club. History records it. Ruth undoubtedly is the heavy man for the Red Sox. What happens to the Red Sox and Ruth rests with Ban Johnson.

Golf Tournament Opens. Portland, Ore., June 25.—With 172 of the coast's best golfers here, the annual Pacific northwest golf championship tournament opened here today with men's championship qualifying rounds. Play started at 6 a. m.

Seattle in First Place. Seattle, Wash., June 25.—By winning both games of a double header from Great Falls yesterday, Seattle is now holding first place in the torrid chase for the gonfalon in the Northwestern league. Pat Eastley pitched a no-hit, no-run game, as part of Sunday's offering. The Giants left last night for their first trip of the year to Butte.

Watching the Scoreboard. Pacific Coast League Standings. W. L. Pct. San Francisco 49 33 .598 Salt Lake 41 34 .547 Oakland 41 40 .506 Los Angeles 39 40 .494 Portland 34 42 .447 Vernon 33 48 .407

Yesterday's Results. At Oakland — Portland, 11-4; Oakland, 8-0. At Vernon — Vernon, 4-4; Los Angeles, 1-2. At Salt Lake — San Francisco, 5; Salt Lake, 0.

Well, Henry Berry won his first series as manager in nice style. Or rather, Jerry Downs' managerial ability won Hen's first managerial effort.

Olaf Erickson pitched no-hit ball for five innings and shut the Bees out 5 to 1. The six Salt Lake hits were nicely scattered and the Bees never had a look in.

Comes now Vernon with a fine slugfest and takes the series from the Angels.

Fromme, in the first game, and Decanniere, in the second, were complete puzzles for the Chancemen, each allowing only five safe hits. Meanwhile the Tigers were getting 19 swats in the two games.

Going into the sixth inning of the afternoon game a run behind, the Tigers staged three hits right behind a wild pitch and an error, setting three more tallies and the game.

The Oaks and Beavers split the Sunday double bill fifty-fifty.

In spite of 14 hits in the morning contest, Oakland lost to Portland 11 to 8. Each club used three pitchers and 13 players in the morning contest.

The eighth inning was fatal to Oakland's hopes. Manager McCredie, of Portland, rushed batters into the breach with wild abandon and when the dust had cleared away six hits had counted for nine runs.

Jack Roche was the batting star of the day, getting five hits in six times up.

In the afternoon contest the Oaks followed McCredie's tip and staged a rally of their own in the seventh, grabbing five hits and four runs, enough to win.

Nick Callop took a day off with the Yankees and joined the boneheads' hall of fame, by obligingly stopping a wild throw of the Braves, who were beating the Yankees.

Dave Danforth added color to the White Sox chances when he held the Indians to three hits and no runs.

Hans Wagner celebrated his own day by scoring the only Pirate run as the Cubs were mashing the Pittsburgh average column.

AIRSHIP BILL READY ASKS $600,000,000

Will Be Introduced Today or Tomorrow by House Leader Kitchen

Washington, June 25.—The first great American aircraft bill is ready. Asking an appropriation of $600,000,000 for airship construction and designed to drive the German birdmen from the sky, the bill may be introduced in congress today or tomorrow. House Leader Kitchen thinks the house will pass the bill in half a day.

Secretaries Baker and Daniels today conferred with the senate military affairs sub-committee relative to introduction of the bill and conduct of hearings.

They are understood to have advised against creation of a separate department of aeronautics at this time.

The bill is the largest initial appropriation for aero work originally launched by any country now at war, but all belligerents since the war began have each year increased their appropriation for airmen.

England this year set aside a billion dollars and probably will need more.

CARAVAN GATHERS FOR TRIP ON DESERT

Many Candidates Would Join. All Parts of State Will Be Represented

On every hand and from every part of the state, word is coming to the membership committee of Al Kader's temple of the vast number of candidates who have applied for admission across the hot sands.

Noble George G. Brown, who for the last two weeks has been giving his every spare moment to the Red Cross, has now turned every bit of energy in the direction of helping gather in the number of candidates who seek the already red crossed sand to Al Kader's temple.

Assistant Noble Judge Ryan has fared a field and journeyed many miles and reports tracks of caravans all pointing toward Salem.

Noble O. A. Olson is also busily engaged in fixing the "by-Cause-peds" of those who seek to eat the herbs that grow near the Oasis, while Noble Zadoc Riggs has mixed huge barrels of liniment for the aid and the "after comfort" of those hardy warfarers who seek to tame the wild animals that infest the path to Al Kader's door.

From afar comes the word Noble Oscar Hayter is "demurring" to the number of candidates in his section of the desert and is making so many "motions" that the seekers for comfort are being alarmed. Noble George Brown who is in charge has issued this cheering laconic message to his committee:

"Oh! Nobles of the Faith, word has come to me that travelers in the desert seek the comforts of Al Kader's temple. In the name of the prophet, bid them welcome; bid them appear not later than 3 p. m. (Heathen time), secure their fezzes and make their wills. Bid them welcome, offer them of the best in their tents, but hold out no hope."

GRADUATE NURSES TAKE EXAMINATION

Six Being Examined Today Class of 70 To Be Examined in Portland

Six graduate nurses of Salem are today taking examination at the state house under the direction of Mrs. Olive E. Osborne, president of the state Board of Examiners and Registration of Graduate Nurses, and Miss Jane Doyle, secretary-treasurer of the association. The examination is being held in the public hearing chamber through the courtesy of Secretary of State Olcott.

The six nurses and the hospitals from which they graduated are as follows: Charlotte Holmstrom, St. Vincent's hospital; Mildred Halvorsen, Good Samaritan hospital; Elva D. Flagg, Salem hospital; Katherine A. Leveeman, St. Elizabeth's hospital; Baker; Belsa K. Erickson, Salem hospital; and Clara B. Kirschner, Salem hospital.

Friday and Saturday the same kind of an examination will be held in Portland when a class of 70 nurses will take the quiz. There is a class of ten at The Dalles, which is as far east as the association has gone so far to give examinations. The nurses are examined in nine subjects and the period will continue over until tomorrow.

On account of the fact that a nurse in order to become a Red Cross nurse must be a registered nurse, a large number of graduates of several years back who did not register at the time of graduation are taking the examination this year. It is expected that a number will enter the Red Cross work.

Pices Fluctuate But Changes Are Trifling

New York, June 25.—The New York evening Sun financial review today said:

Although Wall Street is confident that the banks will meet the mid-year financial burdens in such a way as to cause a minimum amount of disturbance to the money market, securities market circles were disposed today to proceed slowly and cautiously. Trading was quiet and there was no evidence that other than professional operators bought or sold stocks.

The only feature of the market was shifting speculative interests from the industrial shares to the railway list, bringing about a gradual decline of the former. The latter advanced from one to two points or so. In industrials there was good demand at rising values for the equipment stocks, with gains of one to three points in Baldwin Locomotive, American Car and Foundry and Crucible Steel. Sentiment was, on the whole, cheerful.

There were momentary fits and starts in the late trading in which crucible steel advanced to around 88, a gain of about three points. United States Steel and the others made some improvement, but were still a point or so below Saturday's level.

Bonds, aside from the war issue, were quiet and steady.

German-Americans Proclaim Their Loyalty To Adopted Country

Portland, Ore., June 25.—Loyalty to the church and to the flag of the United States. This was the message that rang in all the addresses and sermons given yesterday in St. Joseph's church, where the Oregon State Societies of German-speaking Catholics held their state convention.

Notable men from all parts of Oregon were in attendance and distinguished visitors and speakers, the Rt. Rev. Abbot Frowin and Rev. Paul Osh, came all the way from Conception to be present and participate in the convention program. Rev. Father Osh took as his subject "The American Flag." He said that each of its three colors represented a virtue and that it deserved the undivided loyalty of all true Catholics. He urged continued devotion to the cause of humanity and spoke patriotically and inspiringly.

Music Inspires, Too. His sermon followed the solemn high mass of the morning session. In the afternoon the president of the societies, Joseph Jenne of Mount Angel, presided. Seated on the platform with him were the Rt. Rev. Abbot Frowin, the Rt. Rev. Abbott Placidus, of Mount Angel; Rev. Father Gregory, of Sacred Heart church; Rev. George Schoener, and the pastor of St. Joseph's church, Father Frowin.

Several delightful selections were sung by the singers of St. Joseph's church and the orchestra played a number of appropriate airs.

Abbott Placidus had as his subject, "Loyalty to Church and States," and in his discourse advocated continued appreciation of the advantages offered by both. He advocated the teaching of the precepts of the church and the devotion to the country and the flag. Christianity applied to daily living and in the treatment of mankind urged by the abbot.

Rights Not Infringed. The surprises that the great war have brought forth were mentioned in the address of the pastor of the hostess church, Father Frowin, who praised the wisdom of the government in obtaining supervision of foods and other commodities and said that in doing so the state had in no measure touched upon individual rights.

"The present system is fundamentally right and guaranteed by the law of God," said Father Frowin. He, too, was patriotic in his message to his brother Catholics.

Father Gregory's topic was "The Question of the Future." He besought the German-speaking Catholics of this country to be just and loyal to church and country; to be truthful, to avoid any unkind thoughts or deeds and to remember "that God will bless those who do what is right." The Rt. Rev. Abbot Frowin spoke in the same vein, his words ringing with loyalty.

Miss Frances Schiederjost played a violin solo, as an interlude between addresses. The convention opened Saturday night with the registration of delegates and the meetings of yesterday concluded the gathering. The delegates were entertained by prominent local German-speaking Catholics. Many of the visiting delegates are making the Carlton hotel their headquarters while in the city.
