The four training school teachers who have been appointed to teach in Independence the coming year are as follows: Miss Katherine Arbutnot

Miss Grace Williams, of Portland, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Kate Knox, of McMinnville, third and fourth grades, and Miss Emily De Voure, of Medford, first and second grades.

Charmen Chosen for Red Cross. During the meeting which was held last Wednesday night in the Norm theatre, the people of Monmouth showed themselves to be very much interested in the Red Cross subscription week

Miss Hazel Bussell and Miss Beth Brown are enjoying a most delightful time at the summer school of the O. A. C. in Corvallis, both having won the trip by taking first prizes at the state fair last fall.

Miss Opal Whitley will give her lecture on 'Out of Books' at the local Christian church next Wednesday night. T. J. Edwards and family returned from their trip to eastern Oregon a few days ago. They made the trip in their Ford and report a very delightful time up the Columbia highway.

John Webber, Jr., left recently for eastern Oregon where he will work in the harvest for the summer. The next meeting of the Red Cross will be on Friday at the Old Fellows hall. All interested are urged to attend.

Samuel Strickler lately of Edin, Idaho, is in Monmouth at the present time making plans for remodeling his property on Main street.

Miss Laura Emerson is here from Arizona visiting in her parents' home. She plans to locate here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Boekes, of Carlton, visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. J. Matthis, last Sunday.

A very strong wind prevailed here Saturday afternoon and evening doing some damage to fruit. Large limbs were broken off maple trees at Clark Hembree's and E. B. Outrom's. The silo was built last fall and had cement foundation and roof complete but was in an exposed location and owing to the dry weather the hoops had become loose. The wind was so strong that the anchor hooks were straightened out.

The strawberry season is at its height now and are not very plentiful, owing to lack of rain at the right time. The crops are likely to be short. The first berries sold here in the local market for $4.80 per crate, the prevailing price now is $1.50 and it is thought they will not go much lower.

Many of the farmers in this vicinity are busy making hay.

Miss Daphne Ostrom left for Salem Saturday morning, where she will resume her studies at the Capital Business college.

Allice Evans came down from Louisville to attend the Ricksall picnic Saturday. She has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Williams, since the latter had the misfortune to fall from a ladder and break one of the bones in the foot.

Richard Van Loan, of Company L, came down from Clackamas to visit his parents and to play ball at the annual Polk county picnic.

The shower which fell Saturday night was most welcome as gardens were needing rain badly.

Eastern Oregon Will Break All Price Records

Portland, Ore., June 26 - Eastern Oregon fine wool has climbed to the 61-cent mark. This price was paid by Crimmins & Pierce for 40,000 pounds of No. 1, and will establish a record for this class of wool in the west.

Oregon has become the highest wool market in the territory wool sections, being fortunate in marketing the bulk of its clip late, and thus getting advantage of the rise in prices.

In Idaho fine wool did not go over 55 cents, although as high as 58 cents was paid for coarse. Montana wool sold up to 57 1/2 cents.

Local wool men figure that 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of Oregon wool of all kinds have been sold to date, probably over half the state clip. The Lakeview section is as well sold up as the valley, while in eastern Oregon, Pilot Rock, the country north of Baker, Pentleton and Echo have only sent out lots to dispose of.

Similar conditions prevail in the Bend district and on the Deschutes branch.

The sales at Hepper and Condon the latter part of the week and at Shauku next week will practically close up the big end of the 1917 buying movement in Oregon.
