ORDERED TO DUTY

San Francisco, July 6.—Twelve more Presidio officers reserve corps candidates were ordered to active duty today. They are: Captain Roy W. Keal, First Lieutenants Clark Bonner, Russell Tripp and Bernard Quinn; Second Lieutenants George Cohen, John T. Duncan, Brayton Wilbur, Alex. McGea, Lester Dunne, Robert Boyd and J. B. S. Johnson.

That there are many who are not now residents of Salem, but who have been, who have a warm spot in their hearts for their old home and so people of this type, who are now residents of Portland will give a "Salem" celebration and picnic at "The Oaks" in Portland Sunday, at which time all former residents are expected to show up. Many Salem people are planning to attend, and all Salem people are welcome.

A local committee was formed to arrange for a program, which will be given at 2:30 p. m. The personnel of this committee is: Miss Margaret Cooper, Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, C. P. Bishop, Judge G. H. Burnett and Joseph H. Albert. They have arranged for three speakers, who are: Judge George H. Burnett, Mrs. Olive Enwright and Charles B. Moores of Portland, a former Salem resident. Judge Moreland, who was to have been on the program, injured himself in a fall recently to such an extent that he will be unable to speak. The committee feel that this picnic will be of the greatest importance, and ought to be attended by everyone from this city who can.

STATE FIRE MARSHAL BEGINS INSPECTION

Survey Will Be Under Direction of Salem's Fire Chief Hutton

The state fire marshal department begins today an inspection of buildings for the purpose of ascertaining if any fire hazards exist. This survey will be under the direction of Chief Hutton of the Salem fire department who is the city fire marshal, and when it is completed a report will be made to the fire prevention committee appointed by the mayor of which William McGilchrist is chairman and William Evans secretary.

This entire survey will be at no expense to the city, but in a measure will be of great value to those who are interested in eliminating such hazards in their buildings that are now unknown.

At the meeting last night Chief Deputy Jay Stevens of the state department gave an interesting talk with stereopticon views showing such hazardous conditions found during the preliminary survey made in Portland while he was fire marshal of that city, and he has also suggested that similar conditions are found in this city that pictures be taken in order that they can be shown to the fire prevention committee appointed by the mayor.

One important move that the fire prevention committee decided upon was the recommendation of teaching fire prevention in schools. Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. E. E. Fisher, members of this committee, will no doubt take a great interest in effecting this movement before the schools and women clubs; which clubs are greatly interested in the safety of children.

ers for more guns and that orders have been given by German commanders for a curtailment in the expenditure of shells wherever possible.

Captured cartridge shell cases are of steel now. Apparently lack of brass and copper has made the enemy try this metal for ammunition cases for field guns and howitzers. Steel cartridges are also being issued to soldiers now. Attempts have been made to make these steel cases available for use in machine guns, but up to the present they persist in a tendency to burst and jam the guns.

Captured automobiles from the German lines show construction almost without brass or copper. Motor lorries show fabric and wooden tires instead of rubber.

Estimates from prisoners give about 15 per cent of the present German fighting infantry made up of men 21 and 22 years old. From 12 to 15 per cent are men averaging 20. Lads of 19 are now being brought to the front in large numbers and about five or 10 per cent of the fighting infantry is made up of these youngsters. German prisoners say home depots are now filling up with 15 year old youths and even boys of 17 are undergoing examination preparatory to conscription.

German Attacks Persistent.

Paris, July 6.—Germany still continued her offensive against the French lines today, but there were no massed infantry attacks after the repulse inflicted early in the week. The war office statement today detailed the German activity as mostly by artillery fire.

Between the Aisne and Lamiette there was severe artillery firing and enemy raids failed, the statement said.

"In Champagne, notably around Monts Casque and Teton, there was violent artillery firing. West of Corneillet and south-west of Tahure an enemy attack was easily repulsed.

"On the left bank of the Meuse northwest of Hill 304 we destructively cannonaded enemy organizations."

Italy Getting Busy.

Rome, July 6.—Indication that Italy is resuming her offensive was contained in today's war office report, detailing a "pushing forward" of the advance line and capture of enemy outposts around Selo Wednesday.

"Northwest of Selo on Wednesday night we pushed our line forward, capturing enemy outposts and prisoners," the statement said. "We maintained our positions against violent counterattacks."

Success Was Brief.

Salonica, July 6.—By a sudden offensive, Teutonic forces on the Macedonian front succeeded in gaining a brief, temporary footing on British trenches west of Dolzeil, according to an announcement here today. The assault was made in the evening and the enemy was immediately driven out by a British counter attack.

Dolzeil was captured by the British last April. It is close to Lake Doiran on the extreme right wing of the Macedonian fighting force.

Attack is Repulsed.

London, July 6.—Report of an attempted raid on British lines in the neighborhood of Bullecourt was reported today by Field Marshal Haig.

Refused to fraternize

Petrograde, July 6.—German troops tried vainly to fraternize with Russian troops on the Rumanian front but a fusillade of artillery fire answered their showing of the white flag. The incident was related in today's official statement, as indicative of the determination with which the Russians on the Rumanian front were participating in the offensive started by General Brusiloff on the northern line. It occurred in the region of Ballestehi. The Teutons yelled invitations to the Russians to fraternize, but were not answered by shells.

General Brusiloff reported a brief but sharp infantry action northwest of Rybniki, near Daikelaya and artillery firing along most of the front where he has been pressing the enemy hard.

Berlin, via London, July 6.—Artillery actions between Zborow and Brzezany on the northern (Russian) front, were reported in today's war office statement.

BORAH DEMANDS

senate convened today recommended the prohibition of all spirits, beers and wines. He introduced an amendment that would kill them all.

Robinson, opening the plea for beer and wine, after offering a proposition to forbid spirits only, said:

"My substitute for the committee amendment conforms in letter and spirit to the compromise suggested by the president and agreed to by the anti-Saloon league.

To Relieve a resident

"In the next place the committee provision not only subjects to criticism because it expressly imposes upon the chief executive duties which are legislative in their nature, but it also is objectionable to senators on the other side of the chamber because they claim it confers a great political power and influence upon the executive. It is urged that the existence of authority of the president to confiscate hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property through the activities of agents upon whose judgment and conduct he must necessarily depend is unprecedented and unreasonable. Expressing no approval of his argument, I merely intended to emphasize the fact that unless the congress determines this question for itself the passage of the food control bill will probably be indefinitely delayed."

Roasts Wilson

Senator Vardaman, Mississippi, continuing the argument against the liquor prohibition, spoke scathingly of President Wilson's stand in behalf of beer and wine.

"May I not express regret," he said, "that the president did not employ his virile and sarcastic tongue in holding up to the world the little bunch of willful proponents of liquor, for scathing rebuke because they were holding up the food bill, instead of calling upon the friends of temperance."

Senator Sterling, South Dakota, added his voice to counsel against beers and wines as well as spirits.

"They talk of economic unrest if we do away with all intoxicants," Sterling declared, "but I for one, believe a bread riot is more to be dreaded than beer riots. If it hadn't been for liquor there would not have been the disgraceful scenes in East St. Louis, Ill. In states where there is now prohibition, crime has diminished, labor has improved and industries have prospered."

Vote to Jury Tonight

After three weeks of wordsy battle, the case is expected to go to the jury late today. A verdict may come before sundown.

There is no question as to the fate of spirits. They will be given the death penalty. Beer and wine are expected to survive.

The senate chamber was crowded early to hear the final speeches beginning at 2 p. m. Under a decision handed down late yesterday, debate today is limited to ten minutes by each senator on the section under which all of the famous beverages are now subject to prohibition.

On the different questions as they will be voted on, the following predictions were made today:

To prohibit manufacture of spirits and leave the fate of beer and wine to the president, small and republican dyes will constitute a small majority against such a verdict.

To prohibit all three, spirits, beers and wine, about thirty radical votes will be cast favoring such a verdict with a majority against it.

To prohibit spirits and not interfere with beer and wine, an overwhelming majority is expected.

With these questions disposed of, the senate expects to dispose of the whole food measure by next Wednesday or Thursday.

BLAME INSURANCE

York today to discuss with press association heads the best methods to be used in handling "chibograms" from abroad and at the same time is taking up with the cable censors the matter of stopping spies from sending innocent appearing messages to neutral countries which may bear news to the German admiralty.

Newspapers are expected generally to refrain from publication of news sufficiently far in advance to permit Germany to mobilize her submarines on the transport trail.

As an indication of the means taken by the enemy spies to obtain information, a member of congress today related the following story:

"Before the war a young German officer ingratiated himself with influential New Yorkers and secured a position in the state department. He was regarded as a trustworthy, efficient man. But he was forced to bide his time two years before his opportunity came.

"One morning a desk in the state department was found broken open and on the same day the young man failed to appear. A state department code was stolen. The man had left for Germany."

Accuses Insurance Companies.

Washington, July 6.—German insurance companies and other German interests in the United States are responsible for a large part of the news leakage into Germany, according to Secretary of Commerce Redfield today.

"As long as they are to be allowed to operate in this country we should certainly keep a very close watch on them," said Redfield.

Two Vessels Report Presence of Submarine Near Chesapeake Bay

Washington, July 6.—That an American navy vessel had sighted what was apparently the periscope of a submarine close to Hampton Roads was reported to the navy department today.

Other ships at once took up the search for the submarine and Secretary Daniels ordered that the most thorough investigation proceed.

If the object seen was a periscope, it was not that of an American submarine, according to intimations at the department, though no statement was made as to whether our undersea boats were operating in that vicinity.

The official report followed press reports last night which said two incoming ships sighted a periscope five miles off Fortress Monroe in the bay. Daniels did not make clear the exact location and, while he left the impression that it was "close" to the roads, it was believed the report said in fact the periscope was sighted within Chesapeake bay.

The report had added significance from the fact that German U-boats are known to be operating farther from their home bases than previously, while unofficial reports indicate that Germany is turning out submarines of larger size and cruising radius than ever before.

May Act As Mediator.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 6.—That former Governor George W. P. Hunt may act as President Wilson's special mediator in Arizona strikes was indicated today by publication of a letter received by Hunt from the president. John McBride, federal conciliator, is en route to Globe today after having conferred with Hunt. Hunt wired President Wilson his acceptance.

Hello Girls Win.

Hoquiam, Wash., July 6.—Striking, hello girls here and in Aberdeen returned to work this morning following a conference yesterday afternoon between United States mediator Henry White, of Seattle; District Traffic Superintendent Cochran, of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, and J. Grafer, representing the Pacific Coast district of the International Electrical Union.

The conference ended with a victory for the girls. They will get an increase in pay, and the union agrees not to discriminate against company operators.

I. W. W. Controls Union.

Denver, Colo., July 6.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers today declared that the I. W. W. is in control of the local union at Bisbee, Ariz., and that the charter of the local will be revoked within 48 hours.

"We assume no responsibility for the action of that local. That is what I telegraphed Governor Campbell," Moyer declared. "We are going to revoke that charter just as soon as I can get a man down there to check up their books."

Strike Called Today.

Jerome, Ariz., July 6.—Metal mine workers of the I. W. W. organization have called a strike for 3 p. m. today. Demands identical with those of the I. W. W. organization at Globe and Bisbee—a six hour day and many working "reforms"—have been presented to the United Verde Mining company. Miners of the regular miners' union here are working amicably with the mining companies.

FRIENDS:

I desire through this medium to announce that I have purchased Mr. Isidore Brick's interest in the firm of Brick Brothers, and from now on the CLOTHING, HAT, SHOE and FURNISHING BUSINESS conducted at State and Liberty Streets, Salem, will be under my personal management, and run under the firm name of BENJAMIN BRICK.

It shall be my policy, as in the past, to conduct this business in an open manner, and to the mutual benefit of my customers and myself. No one purchasing anything at my store can do so and be dissatisfied with their purchase, for I will always willingly be pleased to exchange any article or refund your money. Nothing fairer can be expected or asked of a merchant, and the slogan BRICK BROTHERS always used will be continued: "We Absolutely Guarantee Every Purchase."

I trust my many friends will continue to do their purchasing at my store, and to those who have never tried trading at our corner, all I can say is that we do a cash business, and you can readily realize the merchant that does a cash business can give you better value for less money.

I will be pleased to welcome you all, and I hope to see you soon,

Yours for honorable dealings,
